OF
AUSTIN SEVEN
IN 500 MILES RACE AT BROOKLANDS.

83.41 MILES PER HOUR.

Probably the most thrilling race in the history of motoring was the 500 miles race at Brooklands on Saturday.

All the most famous Cars, driven by world-renowned drivers, took part in the "Derby of the Track," and out of this Inferno of raging Engines came the victorious Austin Seven, gallantly piloted by Mr. S. C. H. Davis and the Earl of March.

The "Brooklands Baby" proves the Austin policy—"Performance not Promise."

IN 500 MILES RACE

83.41 MILES PER HOUR.

Probably the most thrilling race in the history of motoring was the 500 miles race at Brooklands on Saturday.

All the most famous Cars, driven by world-renowned drivers, took part in the "Derby of the Track," and out of this Inferno of raging Engines came the victorious Austin Seven, gallantly piloted by Mr. S. C. H. Davis and the Earl of March.

From £153 at Dublin.

GARDEN, FARM, BEES, ETC.

ROOT PRUNING.

Writing on this subject in the Weekly Irish Times, the Garden Correspondent says:—

We couple this operation with autumn planting, even forestalling it if possible, to induce fruitfulness in shy bearing, or barren fruit trees, which it seldom fails to accomplish. In the way of trees too large or long planted to allow of bodily lifting, the operation of root pruning can commence forthwith by taking out a trench around the tree at a distance of four or five feet—rather more if the tree suggests it necessary—to trace the stronger roots and cut them back, preferably with a sharp knife, making a sloping undercut upwards, returning the soil with a modicum of old mortar through it, and well firming. The effect of this surgical treatment is fresh, fibrous roots start well away before growth is arrested, even if the foliage is off, and fibrous roots mean fruit; the coarse, run-away, thong-like roots mean gross growth, which, the more it is annually pruned back, the more the tree will not bear.

TREATMENT AND PREVENTION OF DISEASE.

Writing on this subject in the Weekly Irish Times, the Poultry Correspondent says:—

At this time of the year there are often outbreaks of disease which we should try to prevent, as serious consequences may result by neglect. Roup in various forms is common in some localities, caused by damp and overcrowding. It usually commences with a common cold, running at the nose, sneezing and rattling in the throat. Whenever this occurs attention should be paid to them at once, as simple treatment, especially in feeding and general management, may be sufficient to ward off a serious attack. Soft, easily digested mixtures of nourishing food, seasoned with a little roup powder, should be given to the sick birds, and the drinking water should be "pinked" with a few grains of permanganate of potash. The cause is often from the bad air of overcrowded houses without proper ventilation. It is not lowness of temperature, but impure air, that gives colds, and when the birds come out into the cold morning air from these overcrowded houses a chill is the result, as the system is so loaded with the carbonic acid poison they are not able to resist the effects of the chilly air. All the houses should be airy, but not draughty, perfectly dry, clean, so that there are no bad odours, and sufficient space to prevent overcrowding. Along with the roup powder in the food a good medicine for a first attack is to put about six drops of tincture of aconite (homeopathic) in a pint of water for the birds to drink.

FASHIONS MORE SOPHISTICATED

Paris Abandons the "Too-youthful" Vogue.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.
PARIS, Sunday.

WOMEN who have invested heavily in the "flapper" boom market of the season before, lost every atom of their chic in one crash. There wasn't even one little lone garment that could be retrieved from the ruin of adolescence in styles; and as for the "flapper" herself, she has been out of luck ever since.

Paris has been too busy with grown-up modes to take time to design for the very young girl. Creating clothes for young ones has never been a true passion with the Paris couturière, because in France woman is always considered more attractive when her years are "ripe upon the bough," and besides all this, it is the women who are genuinely adult who have plenty of the wherewithal to indulge freely in Paris clothes.

It was when these grown women took to "flapper" fashions that they became reigning styles, and when they wanted a change, Paris was only too happy.

The youngster to-day, hemmed in on every side by fashions that are too sophisticated to suit her, has to invent with caution in the odds and ends that fall her way. For her benefit there are a few invincible Paris couturiers and couturieres hewing their silhouette-lines to her unformed youth. This tiny band are making modes for "flappers," and because the spark of yearning is never dead in many adult women, they have a constantly increasing clientèle of women who want to dress super-young at any price.

Day-Time Clothes for Girls.

Day-time clothes for the young girl are this season always made short. She is, by divine right of youth, the one feminine creature who can get away with a skirt that comes only an inch or two below the knees.

Evening dresses for her have skirts that are almost, if not quite, as long as her mother's, and they give her an irresistible appeal of childish mascarade. She, better than any of the people who follow fashions, can wear the normal waistline exactly where Nature puts it. No need of tricks or compromise.

For her, the short, puffed sleeves that are so new and fashionable are made to order, and for her, too, the new lace mittens are purposely ordained.

She must have been the inspiration of the new low-heeled, modern Greek sandals, although, alas, older feet have often strayed into them. The short velveteen jackets, with no sleeves, and a short cape around the shoulders, are for the flapper. And the bolero jacket takes a lot of wearing by any woman over twenty, or heavier than the life insurance weight for that age.

Two of the predominating trends in Paris hats are surely leading to the young girl. One of these is the half-sized beret and cap, that allows most of the hair to show, and the other is the very wide brimmed hat that is trimmed simply with a velvet ribbon band.

Draped toques and hats with tortured and twisted brims are only for faces that show experience and need flattering, and the flapper isn't in this class.

New Fashions Not Liked.

The new fashions and the 1930 silhouette have been attacked by many people. Apart from those, mostly women, who say that the new long skirts are clumsy and unpractical, there has arisen another lot of critics (mostly men this time) who state that fashion's late dresses are too daring.

Although, apparently, they conceal more, in reality they reveal more than the semi-sporting garments we were accustomed to ever did. And the long skirts do not balance the bare back vogue, which is lower and more daring than ever, they say.

The mere male does not quite know how to treat the friendly fifty-fifty sporting girl he is accustomed to when she suddenly adopts the new fashions, and, drapes her straight young body in soft chiffon, concealing her limbs to the ankles. She suddenly appears bewilderingly feminine, an alluring siren and a provocative vamp.

It's an Ill Wind.

There is a tendency abroad in Paris styles that is going to be profitable for the flapper. This is shown by the silhouette that is artificially widened at the shoulders and pulled in at the waistline, with a skirt that is flowing from the hipline.

The three-quarter length coats have been adopted almost unanimously for girls, whom they suit so well for afternoon wear. They are generally trimmed with fur at the back, but the bottom edge and the wrists are free of fur or not, just as fancy dictates. These short coats, held tight over the hips, tend to emphasise the vamp-like silhouette.

Long white gloves are back for evening wear, and are worn wrinkled up the forearm, with, in many cases, bracelets over them. Although some may not like it, to be vamp like is "à la mode."

Semi-Sandals for Evening Wear.

Many women still prefer court shoes for evening, although the popularity of the semi-sandals, which are entirely cut away at the back, seems undiminished for those who can wear them.

Virtually no shoe jewellery is to be seen this season, with the sole exception of a discreet buckle or button to fasten the strap of a brocade shoe. Strapped shoes in this material, in brilliant shades of red or green, are made to be worn with white or pastel-coloured frocks.

For the rest, court shoes in crepe-de-chine, slightly ornamental with a narrow appliqué of gilt leather in various designs, are being sponsored by some of the leading Paris shoemakers, and it is thought that women will match their footwear with their gowns this coming season, as they did, to a great extent, last year.

The Value of Nuts.

Nuts are in season, and their importance in diet should not be overlooked, since they contain, so the food experts tell us, a proportion of Vitamin B, which is found in the seeds of plants. Few people, I imagine, could crack a walnut in their teeth, as I saw a well-dressed woman doing the other day in a Continental train, though our ancestors probably used no other crackers!

Nuts are easily grated; there are convenient little nut-mills on the market for the purpose, and grated nuts are used in a variety of ways. To mention only one: added to salads, or sprinkled on custards, they give a pleasant flavour.

The cultivation of walnuts dates from extreme antiquity. "No young farmer in Manau or Frankfurt," wrote John Evelyn in "Sylva," "is permitted to marry till he bring proof that he hath planted, and is the father of such a stated number of walnut trees." In Czecho-Slovakia the main crop is from trees along the roadside, belonging to the villagers.

PIMENTOES AS FLAVOURING.

"Most people imagine that the pimento is hot, like the capsicum," said a friend home from the West Indies. "We, on the other hand, regard it as a most delicious flavouring for sauces, and we use it in a variety of ways." One way, she told me, is to make a sauce with anchovy or bloater paste, an onion, lemon juice, pepper and pimentoes. This is served with ground corn meal, boiled thick like porridge, so that it turns out clean from a buttered basin.

Pimentoes are served also with rice, and with tomatoes three or four pimentoes and two tomatoes, with rabbit, chicken or pork.

Brilliant scarlet and equally brilliant green pimentoes are on sale now at the green grocers. Unripe and dried, the berry of the pimento tree, which grows in Central America and the West Indies to a height of four feet, is known as allspice; it is used not only in cooking, but in medicine. The pimento has the reputation of combining the flavour of cinnamon, nutmeg and cloves.

"Mushrumps"—A 300 Years-Old Recipe.

A friend who delights in old books showed me a small seventeenth-century cookery book, from which we choose the following on "mushrumps" as being both practical and seasonable:—

"Take them fresh gathered, and cut off the hard end of the stalk, and as you peel them throw them into a dish of white wine. After they have lain half an hour, or thereupon, drain them from the wine, and put them between two silver dishes; then set them on a soft fire, without any liquor, and, when they have so stewed a while, pour away the liquor that comes from them, which will be very black.

"Then put your mushrumps into another clean dish, with a sprig or two of time, an onion, whole, four or five cornes of whole pepper, two or three cloves, a bit of an orange, a little salt, a bit of sweet butter, and some pure gravy of mutton; cover them, and set them on a gentle fire; so let them stew softly till they be enough and very tender.

"When you dish them blow off all the fat from them, and take out the time, spice, and orange; then wring the juice of a lemon and grate a little nutmeg among the mushrumps; tosse them two or three times; put them in a clean dish, and serve them hot to the table."

I have retained the spelling of the recipe as given in this fascinating little three-hundred-years-old volume, the well-thumbed leaves of which testify to its use by many cooks.

The Tonic Effects of a Gay Overall.

I find myself unable to resist the allurements of the gay cotton overalls now being displayed in the shop windows, and I disagree heartily with a thrifty friend who buys yards of hefty-looking check material and makes "overalls that wash and wash and last for years, my dear!"

I don't want mine to last for years. I like change—and I adore gay colours! Doesn't one face the morning's work with a lighter heart when clad in a coat that reminds one of a sunlit garden in its summer glory than in sober grey or brown reminiscent of a November fog?

QUICKLY-MADE TEA CAKES.

Rub four ounces of butter into one pound of flour, and add a teaspoonful of cream of tartar and half that quantity of bi-carbonate of soda. Mix into a light dough with two eggs and two tablespoonsful of full cream condensed milk dissolved in half a pint of water. Cut into rounds with cutter or small tumbler; brush over with egg, and bake in a hot oven for a quarter of an hour.

Hints.

If a pinch of bicarbonate of soda is added to damsons when stewing it will remove the sharp and acid taste.

……

New shoes will feel a great deal more comfortable if the insides are dredged with talcum or any toilet powder.

……

Stains on brown shoes made by sea water can be removed by a mixture of milk and soda. Dissolve a large lump of soda in a cup of hot milk and rub this into the leather Then polish in the ordinary way.

……

If you have an old pair of brown shoes that have got discoloured, paint them overnight with a tincture of iodine. Clean in the usual way in the morning, and they will look like new.

……

Place a week's tea-leaves in a pail and pour a quart of boiling water over them. Leave for an hour, then strain and bottle. This liquid is excellent for cleaning varnished wood, linoleum, windows or mirrors.

……

A lump of sugar saturated with vinegar will cure hiccough.

……

Condensed milk beaten up with one egg and a little pulverised sugar will make an excellent filling for a cream puff.

……

A bruise may be prevented from discolouring by immediately applying hot water or a little dry starch, moistened with cold water and placed on the bruise.

……

When sponge cake gets dry it is very nice cut in thin slices and toasted.

……

When cleaning the top of your kitchen table use a wire sponge instead of a scrubbing brush. It requires no soap, removes all dirt, and is a much easier method.

……

To clean paint brushes, simmer them in vinegar for half an hour, then wash in soapsuds.

……

Machine a strip of thin silk under the leg of the stocking where the suspenders clip. This prevents ladders from forming, and even after much wear, if one should appear, it will not run down the leg.

……

Mildew stains can be removed from cloth by sprinkling them with salt and rubbing them with the juice of a lemon.

……

To keep ants out of rooms and pantries, put slices of lemon on the floors. Ants do not like lemon.

Warmth and Colour for the Autumn Season.

DEAR MARY,—Just the day before I read your letter, with its concluding suggestion of autumn foliage for indoor decoration, I had carried home an armful of rose-hips and deep red haws, and, if the hawthorn berries are a true indication, their profusion this year promises a hard winter. The chestnut trees are just beginning to blaze gaily, but they seem to begin from the top, and I found no branches within reach.

I like autumn leaves and berries best when arranged in jugs and ewers of copper or brass—the glinting metal sets off the colours, and reflects every gleam of sunlight or firelight.

If you have put away your brass during the summer, and find it spotted by damp, you can clean it up with powdered chalk and spirits of turpentine, or, if it is really badly tarnished, with a weak solution of oxalic acid. The acid must be washed off at once lest it injure the patina, and the brass should then be polished with whiting.

Artificial Flowers.

I do not share your prejudice against glass and shell flowers. Used with discretion, I find them a delightful substitute for natural flowers. but they are difficult to clean, especially after being stored away in a cupboard. The quickest and most thorough method is to place them in a large empty basin, and spray them all over with warm water—use a gardener's sprayer—then dry the flowers as quickly as possible near a fire.

You seem to have been luckier than I in your wardrobe sorting; however, here are one or two wrinkles.

I unearthed a forgotten yellow and black dress, made as a jumper and skirt, and not much worn last winter, but the skirt did not cover my knees! So, instead of letting down the hem, which was too narrow for alteration, I added to the top a band of black silk, four inches wide, and ran elastic through it.

Winter Warmth.

I also retrieved an unlined tweed frock which I discarded last winter because it was not warm enough, and saved myself the expense and bother of a new lining by cutting off the collar and cuffs of a slightly-frayed silk jumper and tacking it in as a lining. The dress is now warm enough to keep me from shivering every time I leave the fire.

By the way, the question of winter "undies" is always a problem. How is one to keep warm and slim? It is worth remembering that there is more warmth in two thicknesses of silk than in one of woollen material, because the layer of air in between two garments keeps in the warmth of one's body and keeps out the cold air of winter.

Bedclothes.

The same principle applies to bed-clothes—two light blankets are warmer than one heavy one, besides being more comfortable to people who cannot sleep under a weight. And if your eiderdown is elusive and slipping to the floor at the coldest hour of the night you can circumvent its wandering spirit by stitching a length of cretonne or casement cloth to the end and tucking this flap under the mattress. The material can be easily folded out of sight under the eiderdown in the daytime.

Talking of casement cloth, reminds me of a find in my rag-bag. I discovered some remnants of material used for summer curtains which I have converted into gay cushion covers, using plain-coloured cloth for the actual cover, with "cut-outs" of flowers and butterflies from patterned cretonne appliqued in button-hole stitching

I was inspired to this by a very charming bedspread a friend showed me, made of delphinium blue cloth and decorated with brilliant birds of cretonne.

Carved Animals.

By the way, as a change from these severely-practical subjects, have you noticed the very remarkable displays of figures and animals in carved and painted wood which are on view in several Dublin shops at present? Some are by Irish artists, others by an artist living in the New Forest and studying animal life there.

They fascinated me so much that I bought some as presents the other day for two small friends who were having a birthday party—but they were welcomed with equal delight by grown ups and children! I believe one of the parents in question has now started a collection as a hobby.—Yours,

AILEEN.

Victorian Bell Pulls Come Back.

Victorian bell pulls of wool work or silk crewel embroidery or other forms of "fancy work" of the period are becoming a popular form of wall decoration, and good specimens are being eagerly sought.

These "pulls" are quite different, of course from the bell rope of heavy twisted cord, and they are chiefly hung flat against the wall as when serving their original purpose. Only they do not connect with a bell, but are merely decorative. These old pulls usually measure from five feet upwards in length and are generally from two and a half to four inches across. Some specially desirable specimens are complete with the original brass ring at the lower end, which was used for setting the bell in motion.

It is remarkable how well the embroidered bell pull, so definitely Victorian in every characteristic, fits in with widely different types of rooms; it can be used in conjunction with pictures and pottery or as an individual wall decoration. A very modern room as regards the bulk of its furnishing, with softly green walls and ceiling, unpolished light wood furniture and mellow golden wall lights, has nothing on the end wall but a broad, long bell pull of wool work on canvas. It is a quaintly floral design of red roses "backed" with shades of brown, all faded to dim loveliness since it was worked by a bride of 60 or 70 years ago.

Another long and low room, furnished chiefly with old mahogany, has had a bell pull added to the pictures, china plates and corner cupboards on the walls. The "pull" is of old gold satin "crewel stitched" right along the centre with a design which was very popular in our grandmothers' days—a mixed trail of recurring poppies, corn flowers and corn heads in natural colours.

Sloe Wine.

Stew six quarts of sloes in a gallon of water until tender, cover with a cloth and leave for three days, occasionally stirring. Then strain through muslin into a preserving pan, put in the rinds of two lemons, and gently boil for half an hour, removing any scum as it rises. Add four pounds of best loaf sugar, let this dissolve, and when cold put in a piece of toasted bread with a teaspoonful of yeast on it, and leave for two days. It may then be bottled, and is ready for use in two months, although it much improves with longer keeping.

Thick Cucumber Soup.

Put together in a stewpan two ounces of butter, two large thinly sliced onions, one large or two small cucumbers, peeled and cut up. Put the lid on the pan and cook over a slow fire for quarter of an hour. Add two tablespoonfuls of rice flour, a bag of mixed herbs and one quart of stock or milk. Simmer for half an hour and rub through a sieve. Return to the saucepan, add quarter of a pint of milk and raw yolk of an egg, and stir till hot without boiling.

Serve with small squares of fried bread.

Rub half a raw potato over the windscreen of your car and it will prevent the rain settling on it. It is amazing how few motorists know of this capital remedy.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

LEST WE FORGET.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—With reference to your remarks upon Professor Julian Huxley's pronouncements may one point out that the social and political fabric of Russia is built upon the view that God does not exist, and that, therefore, children shall not be taught to believe that God does exist, because it is "scientifically untrue." One may be quite sure that the utterance of the British professor, confirming the official dictum, will be broadcasted amongst the Russian people. The man in the street may well scratch his head in perplexity as he reads his newspaper. He finds that certain authorities, countenanced and actively supported by the State, tell him that he must believe in God, and that he ought to manifest that belief by church-going. Then he finds that another authority, countenanced and, perhaps, supported financially by the State, assures him that attachment to any Church founded on a belief in God is perfect nonsense.

There are people who maintain that we should ostracise Russian officialdom, because it acts with thorough logic upon the denial of God's existence. Practically, Professor Huxley is an official. He agrees au fond with Russian officialdom. What are the above-said people going to propose about him? One may remark that, in speaking excathedra for science, Professor Huxley sweeps aside, with a peremptory dogmatism which is positively comic, a large number of scientists. What a difference it must make to a lad whether, in his scientific studies, he falls under the influence of Professor Huxley or, say, Professor Oliver Lodge!

Science, religion, politics—we are in chaos. A real, active belief in God, and acceptance of the Sermon on the Mount as the revelation of His will, would at least dissipate the chaos; that is to say, it is a definite business proposition. The alternative proposition is quite logically stated by Bolshevism. It is "up to" every man to make up his mind definitely between the two. The signs are that we shall all of us have to do so before very long.—Yours, etc.,

J. B. LINDSAY.

OUTWORN HORSES.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—The publication in your issue on Tuesday last of a photograph of Irish worn-out horses at Dublin docks, awaiting shipment to Antwerp, must have had a sad effect on the feelings of all Irishmen, whose love for the horse is world known. Where there is admiration there must be no lack of pity; and, as one reads of the sufferings which these broken animals undergo after their arrival on the Continent, it makes people wonder why there is no legislation in Ireland to prevent them.

When it comes to suffering, we creatures are all one, made of bones, flesh, nerves and brain; but a horse cannot act for itself. When its work is up let us at least be merciful and give it a quick and painless end. Your newspaper has a wide circulation outside Ireland, and many readers who have seen the photograph may not only go in August to see the famous Horse Show at Ballsbridge, but may subsequently desire to visit the other horse show—one that I might term "The Finale"—in Watling street and at the docks.—Yours, etc.,

MINIATURE GOLF.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—I was interested in the paragraph commenting on the numerous variations of miniature golf in your issue of September 30th. Tom Thumb golf is, as a matter of fact, the original American miniature game, and some 18,600 out of the 25,000 courses in the States are Tom Thumb courses. A National Tom Thumb Golf Tournament is being held this month, with a first prize of 5,000 dollars. Tom Thumb golf certainly has a definite relation to the real game—it employs no "freak" hazards, and is played on cotton-seed links giving a surface almost like grass—but I cannot see how some of the "trick" games, with dolls' houses, water-wheels, monkey-cages and heaven knows what else, can claim to be even remotely connected with the royal and ancient game. They cannot possibly afford any practice to the serious golfer, which the Tom Thumb game undoubtedly does.—Yours, etc.,

M. DERMOTT O'REILLY.

PHŒNIX PARK RACES.

LAST MEETING OF THE SEASON.

The attendance at the Ashtown Course on Saturday for the last meeting of the season was affected by the rain, but a very attractive programme proved a consolation to the enthusiastic racegoers who defied the weather. Autumn tints were seen on the trees in the paddock, where the leaves are turning a russet brown. These colours were reflected in the women's fashions, as a great deal of dark brown was worn, some of the shades toning to "copper-beach" or dahlia red. One notices several of the new novelty wools or chiffon tweeds for frocks, which are very attractive for wearing under a heavier tweed or fur coat at this time of year.

Among those present in the members' enclosure were:—Frances Marchioness Conyngham, Sir Walter Nugent, Sir Ernest Goff, Lady Goulding, Sir Michael and Lady O'Loghlen, Lady Grace, the Hon. Mrs. Dunne, Captain Ronald Nutting, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Maher, Mr. David Plunket, Miss Olive Plunket, General and Mrs. Waldron, Major and Mrs. Dalgety, the Right Hon. T. K. Laidlaw, the Misses Laidlaw, Mrs. D. More-O'Ferrall, Mr. R. More-O'Ferrall, Mr. F. More-O'Ferrall, Mr. and Mrs. L. Morogh-Ryan, Major and Mrs. Power, Miss F. Joly, Major and Mrs. E. Shirley, Miss Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. M. King-French, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. H. Peard, the Hon. Mr. Justice Wylie, Mr. Maxwell Arnott, Major E. Conolly, Mr. G. Purcell Gilpin, Mrs. O'Hara Mease, Colonel Clarke, Miss Clarke, Miss Noble Johnson, Mr. H. Jameson, Mrs. Musters, Major and Mrs. J. Parr, Captain and Mrs. Gerald Martin, Mr. Isidore Blake, Captain G. F. Dunne, Mr. T. Kennan, Mr. and Mrs. Harrington, Mrs. Uniacke, Mr. Isaac Corbally, Colonel A. J. Blake, Mrs. Lingard, Mr. Lennon, Miss Lennon, Mrs. Jebb, Mr. John Leonard, Miss Sheila Maxwell, Mrs. Page Croft, Superintendent and Mrs. Ennis, Mr. and Mrs. V. Morton Jackson, Mr. F. S. Myerscough, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Hartigan, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Cogan, Mr. H. I. Ussher, Mr. J. J. Parkinson, Mr. H. S. Gill, Mr. J. W. Murland, Mr. J. T. Rogers, Mr. C. L. Mackean, Mr. Albert Lowry.

METROPOLE DANCE.

OPENING OF THE SEASON.

Over 500 persons attended the opening invitation dance of the Metropole season, held in the Metropole ballroom, on Saturday night. The ballroom and bandstand were very attractive with the new soft colourings and the new scheme of decoration. Among the guests were the French Minister Plenipotentiary and Madame Alphand, accompanied by Mons. André Alphand and Mademoiselle Alphand, Sir Robert and Lady Tate, Miss Lowry, Professor Martin and Miss Martin, Mrs. O'Rourke, Dr. and Mrs. Tierney, Dr. and Mrs. Lait, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Lavery, Miss B. Hackett, Miss MacLoughlin, Mr. Morgan Beddoes, Dr. and Mrs. Fitzpatrick, Mr. J. Moore, Mr. J. J. White, Mr. and Mrs. V. Hanna, Captain and Mrs. Maguire, Mr. E. Crawford, Mr. J. J. Murray, Mr. P. Lyden, Mr. T. J. Meagher, Mr. R. J. Mayston, Dr. McDonnell, Miss Switzer, Miss Shields, Miss Mullaney, Mr. T. Hogan, Mr. R. W. Green, Mr. E. C. Rowlette, Mr. J. McQuaid, Miss de Courcy Wheeler, Mr. D. Sears, Mr. R. W. Monks, Mr. R. A. C. Barratt, Mr. T. F. Nash, Miss S. McNeill, Dr. Craig, Mr. M. Mitchell.

The Lure of the "Talkies."

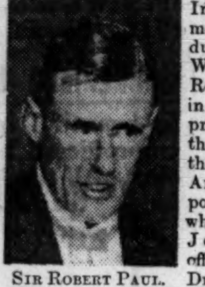
The Black Church.

My recent reference to the Black Church has prompted a correspondent to tell me that which must now be known only to very few people—that the church when first erected was not "black," but "white," and very beautiful it must have been. The Rector of St. Mary's, who evidently had an eye for the fitness of things, appointed the Rev. Mr. White as its curate in charge. Unfortunately, the smoke and dust of Dublin gradually worked their will, until at last the church became black. It was this colour when Mr. White died, and the Rector appointed the Rev. John Black as his successor.

A Waterford Presentation.

Sir Robert Paul, Bart., of Ballyglan, who on his retirement from the Mastership of the Gaultier Harriers has been presented by the members with a cheque and a hunting crop, accompanied by an illuminated album address bearing the names of the subscribers, has long been a popular figure in Waterford hunting circles.

He is the fifth baronet of the line, which was created in 1794, and succeeded his father, the late Sir William Paul, in 1912. After leaving Cambridge University he was employed in the Irrigation Department at Cairo, and during the European War served with the Royal Flying Corps in Egypt, being taken prisoner. Following the War he was given the command of the Arab gendarmerie and police. Sir Robert, who is descended from Joshua Paul, an officer in Ireton's Dragoons, who came to Ireland with Oliver Cromwell, married in 1919 the daughter of the late Count de Habdank Gorkiewscy, of Warsaw, and the heir-presumptive to the title is his brother, the Rev. William Paul, of Saskatchewan, who is well known for his missionary work among the Indians.



SIR ROBERT PAUL.

The Gaultier Harriers' presentation was made at a gathering presided over by Sir Edward Garraway, K.C.M.G., and the gifts were handed over to Sir Robert by Mrs. de Bromhead, of Ardkeen.

The Heron Crane.

Walking along by the railway line near the marsh lands beyond Greystones recently, I came on a number of heron cranes. These birds offer an easy target for the sportsman; for, with their enormous wing-spread, they are slow and clumsy fliers until they get up speed.

I was amused by a trick which one of them played on me. I had got quiet close to it as it moved about among the reeds, when suddenly I lost sight of it. As I had not looked away, it could not have taken flight. Suddenly my eye was attracted by one reed slightly taller than the rest. It was the heron crane. Taken unawares, it had frozen into immobility, thrust its long bill straight up, and melted unostentatiously into the background of reeds. Not until I flung a stone quite close to it, when it flapped slowly away, could I be sure that my eyes were not playing me tricks.

Marvellous Fish.

A recent reference to the taking of sturgeon in the Liffey reminds me of the excitement caused in Dublin in March, 1716, when, according to a contemporary newspaper account, "a great quantity of prodigious large fishes were seen fighting in the sea near the Hill of Howth, and on Sunday in the evening some of them turned towards Clontarf Pool, and later struck upon a sandbank beyond the Sheds of Clontarf, where near 50 of them were taken." One of these was brought up to the Sheds alive, and is described as being "about four yards long, its tail about a yard broad, the two fins about a yard long each, and it is about two feet and a half thick. The skin was as black as 'japanned dale,' as smooth as glass, and without scales," and the flesh "is all fat and looks like bacon; and they have two rows of teeth and fifty teeth in each row." Sailors on arrival in Dublin reported that "they sailed by an infinite multitude of them a little beyond the Bay, and that the shoal was about a league long and as broad."

The Fisherman's Tea.

At one of the creeks along the coast the other day I chatted with a fisherman who had just stowed away his oars and net. He had been out all the morning fishing, and his box was filled with plaice, sand dabs and mackerel. "Yours must be a healthy life," I observed, turning my eyes from the shining harvest at his feet to the ruddy glow in his cheeks, "and I am sure you must have a good appetite for a meal of fresh fish when you get home." "D'ye know what I'm goin' to teall ye, sir?" he replied. "The wimmen that's goin' these times has the quarest o' notions about grub for a man. Last night when I got home the missus went out to the shop an' got a tin o' sardines for the tay, for which she paid ninepence, an' there was me afther sellin' the finest o' fresh plaice for fourpence a pound. Now, what d'ye think o' that, sir?" My eyes turned towards the box again, but my thoughts remained unsaid.

The "Talkie" Lure.

The "talkies" still continue to make their steady progress in the task of securing the scalps of leading figures in the literary and artistic world. Mr. George Bernard Shaw, Mr. John Galsworthy and many others have long ago succumbed to their lure, and now they have captured another of the world's great singers, Dame Clara Butt, who has announced that it is her intention to appear in an all-British "talkie."

It is nearly thirty years ago since Dame Clara Butt, who is now fifty-seven, made her sensational début at the Albert Hall. She was still a student at the time, and it was said that she would not maintain this promise, and would fade away like so many infant prodigies; but since then she has steadily advanced to the proud position of England's—some say the world's—greatest contralto. Lavish praise has been bestowed upon her by critics of all countries, one German saying that "hers is the voice of a century."

DAME CLARA BUTT.

In private life she is Mrs. Kennerly Rumford, her title of "Dame" having been conferred upon her after the Great War in recognition of her generous help and gifts in aid of war charities.

The Brancage.

It is a pity that the hedges in some of the Dublin suburbs are not more tidily kept. In many districts the householders allow their shrubs to grow far out over the footpath—with disastrous results to the pedestrian's hat or umbrella. In the Channel Islands they have an excellent method of combating this evil. Every year each parish has a procession through the roads and laneways to measure the height of out-jutting branches or brambles. "The Brancage," as it is called, is a very ancient custom, and is a very good way of making the people keep their hedges tidy and the roads well opened up, since fines are heavy for those whose boundaries are not kept within the proscribed limits.

Out of Bounds.

The method of procedure is as follows: First comes a mounted policeman armed with a long pole to measure the height of branches jutting over the roadway (12ft. from the ground is usually allowed), then a carriage containing four of the chief police officers of the parish, followed by another mounted policeman. The four occupants of the carriage measure any untidy growth on the hedges, and when the whole parish has been patrolled they adjourn for lunch at some local hotel.

There are often rather ludicrous incidents attendant upon the Brancage, as for instance one year, when an Englishman living in a small villa on the edge of the seashore, hung wire baskets, with geraniums and ferns planted in them, on the paling of his garden, and was fined 12s. for not keeping his hedges within bounds. But even with such incidents as that, there are times when one wishes that such a custom was in use over here to keep the footpaths cleared from straggling branches and briars.

Sea Wolves.

The story of the large shark that attacked a small boat in Knock Bay, near Portpatrick, is a reminder that this ferocious fish is sometimes a menace to bathers in our sheltered waters. It is true that such incidents are very rare, indeed, in the British Isles, but the toll of human lives in other parts of the world is quite appreciable. In Sydney Harbour sharks are a serious danger to bathers, and specially constructed bathing places have had to be built. Not so many years ago a racehorse which was being ridden in shallow water near Sydney was seized by a monster shark, and only prompt assistance prevented its terrified rider from sharing its fate. The crews of trawlers from the deep-sea fishing grounds tell of the great blue sharks that thresh and fight round the trawl net when it is being lifted aboard; indeed, the loss to whalers from these wolves of the sea that tear and lash at the supine bodies of their victims is very considerable.

Sir Henry Lytton.

Gilbert and Sullivan enthusiasts—and they seem to increase rather than decrease—will rejoice at the honour which is to be paid to Sir Henry Lytton on October 21st, when leading men of all arts and professions meet at a banquet in his honour. It is nearly fifty years ago since he ran away from school, married, and sought a living not on the stage, but near it. He first became a bill-poster and then a scene-shifter. Since then he has attained a distinction denied to any former actor—a knighthood; for, though actor-managers have been knighted by the score, he is the first actor pure and simple to attain this rank.

SIR HENRY LYTTON.

Sir Henry is extremely fond of Ireland, and oftentimes slips quietly away from London for a few days' golf or a loafing holiday on our shores. It is happy news that, despite the strain of constant travel and of eight performances a week, and despite the siren call of the "talkies," he has denied the rumour of his approaching retirement.

Fine Penmanship.

My reference to the "dying" art of penmanship has brought me many letters from correspondents, all of whom would have me believe that the art of penmanship is not at all declining, but is, in fact, very much on the up-grade. Never, I am told, has the demand for good, legible handwriting been so great, while the standard for banks and business houses is rapidly becoming very high. Schools for penmanship have been established in the British Isles and U.S.A., and the work done by their pupils fully equals, if it does not excel, the most "flourishing" copperplate that our great grandparents loved. Modern fine handwriting is based, of course, on scientific principles, by which fatigue is virtually eliminated and the dread bugbear, "writer's cramp," banished for ever. The pupils are trained to sit in a natural, upright position, with squared shoulders and arms evenly spaced from the body, and special "parades" are held to drive home these good habits. Finger movement is almost done away with, and all the motive force comes from the large, powerful muscles of the right arm. The pupils of these schools take, they tell me, a great pride in their art.

A Question of Repairs.

Two suburban residents were walking home one evening when a common acquaintance passed them in a rather noisy motor car, leaving a cloud of dust behind him. "Murphy seems to be getting great value out of that second-hand car," remarked one of the pedestrians. "He told me the other day that he had not paid one penny in repairs since he bought it, eighteen months ago." "Indeed," said the other, flicking the dust from his coat, "the fellow who does the repairs told me exactly the same story yesterday."

FREE STATE MINISTERS' RETURN

Three Free State Ministers—Mr. Ernest Blythe, Vice-President of the Executive Council; Mr. P. Hogan, Minister for Agriculture, and Professor O'Sullivan, Minister for Education—arrived at Kingstown by the mail boat yesterday morning.

A FILM OF THE WEEK.

"THE CUCKOOS" AT THE SAVOY CINEMA.

Those who like good clean comedy will get many laughs during the presentation of the all-sound production which, under the fantastic title, "The Cuckoos," is the chief feature at the Savoy Cinema this week. Those who saw "Rio Rita" will remember the clever comedy work of Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey. They are the central characters in "The Cuckoos," and have every opportunity to give full rein to their gift of fun-making. They are a very droll pair, clever in their dialogue, "snappy" in their singing, and accomplished in their dancing.

Naturally, in a production which is offered as breezy comedy, there are ridiculous situations, but they never get too far outside possible happenings, and in that way the comedians keep alive the interest in the story. They are represented as a pair of adventurous Americans, posing in Mexico as fortune-tellers. They stumble into a conspiracy, in which a band of gipsies are hired to kidnap a well-to-do American girl, and when the kidnapping takes place the "professor and his assistant" come to the rescue after a series of most laughable happenings.

Wheeler and Woolsey keep the piece moving at a brisk pace. Their first demonstration of "thought-reading" is very funny. They also make great fun out of their encounter with the customs officials at the Mexican border, and later in the mysterious bedchamber of a wayside inn.

There is an excellent supporting company, in which June Clyde is worth special mention.

The settings are attractive, and there are some delightful technicolour ensembles.

The music is bright and catchy, with one or two very appealing numbers, and there is some delightful part singing by the gipsy troupe.

6,000 FEWER PEOPLE IN FREE STATE.

DECREASE DURING LAST YEAR.

The second part of the statistical review of the British Registrar-General, which was issued on Saturday, shows decreases in the populations of the Irish Free State and Scotland during the year 1929, and increases in England and Wales, while the population of Northern Ireland remained stationary during the same period. The population of Great Britain and Ireland as a whole increased from 48,574,000 to 48,684,000—a rise of 110,000, or 0.23 per cent. Other figures are given as follows:—

ENGLAND AND WALES:—1928, 39,482,000; 1929, 39,607,000. Increase, 125,000 (1.32 per cent.)

SCOTLAND:—1928, 4,893,000; 1929, 4,884,000. Decrease, 9,000 (0.18 per cent.)

NORTHERN IRELAND:—Stationary at 1,250,000

IRISH FREE STATE:—1928, 2,949,000; 1929, 2,943,000. Decrease, 6,000 (0.20 per cent.)

ROYAL HIBERNIAN HOTEL.

LEINSTER BANQUETTING HALL.

A very fine addition has been made to the capacity of the Royal Hibernian Hotel, Dawson street, Dublin, in the shape of a ballroom and banquetting hall. The room is eighty feet long by thirty feet wide, with seating accommodation for two hundred and fifty persons, and dancing space for four hundred. The work was carried out under the supervision of Messrs. Higginbotham and Stafford, architects, the general contractors being Messrs. J. and R. Thompson, Dublin. The floor is of the locking spring dance type, with electric tubular heating, and a band gallery overhead. There is a partition, which is so designed that the room can be divided for the use of smaller parties. The heating and lighting are on an elaborate scale. The illumination control and intensity has been arranged in such a way that the room can be flooded with great brilliance, or with a soft, warm glow, which allow many pleasing effects to be obtained. There is an extremely beautiful scheme of ceiling and wall decoration. The lighting and heating installations were carried out by Mr. A. C. Bruty, Dublin. As far as possible all the work was carried out by Irish firms and by Irish labour.

On Saturday night, on the invitation of the directors, a number of guests, including those who had some hand or part in the work, assembled at dinner in the new hall to celebrate its opening.

Mr. Paul G. Besson, director and manager, presided.

Mr. Bruty proposed "Success to the Royal Hibernian Hotel," and referred to the enterprise, enthusiasm and confidence shown by Mr. Besson, whose ambition was amply fulfilled by this splendid work.

Mr. Besson, responding, said that they had tried to do something to improve hotel accommodation in Dublin, in view of the demands that would be made upon them in 1932.

Replying to the toast of the decorators (Messrs. Switzer), Mr. Avison said that the new hall was the finest outside London.

Speeches complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. Besson were delivered by Mr. Stafford, Mr. T. W. Murphy, Mr. W. C. Chillingworth (President-elect of the Institute of Journalists), Mr. Thompson, Mr. Fitzjames Russell, Mr. J. F. Taylor and Major Sharpe.

Mr. Loftus, director, expressed appreciation of the many complimentary references to the management of the hotel.

The new room is to be called the Leinster Banqueting Hall. The first dinner-dance will be held next Thursday.

While it is probable that the idea underlying "What Every Woman Knows" is as valid to-day as when the play was written some twenty-three years ago, Mrs. May Carey and Miss Norah Lumsden were well advised when they made it a "costume" play for their production at the Gate Theatre last night.

In 1908, when the play was first staged, there were many John Shands in the House of Commons. John is elected to Parliament, and plans a great oratorical attack on the Government—nothing embarrassing, of course; only a diversion. Maggie gives a different version to the Minister who calls, and by her strange strategy secures the preferment of her husband for a minor ministerial post. John had got the reputation of a wit; "Shandisms" his sallies came to be termed, but the poor man was no more capable of humour or wit than an oyster. His "second thoughts" were always best, and Maggie was responsible for them. John, however, believed that he would have greater "inspiration" from Lady Sybil Tenterden, and after Maggie had turned their tête-à-tête to her own advantage she arranges that the pair should spend a week with the Comptesse de la Brière, and it was while in the Surrey cottage that John Shand came to know "What Every Woman Knows." He had thought Maggie to be a hindrance, but it is Maggie who has made him, saves him, and finally brings him to laugh at himself and the world at large.

Audiences can laugh at John Shand; they cannot laugh at Maggie; "for, though Maggie is undersized, she has a passion for romance." It is impossible to laugh at any of Sir James Barrie's women: Maggie Shand, Phoebe, Alice who sat by the fire, Cinderella, Rosalind, or Mary Rose—each and all are pathetic without weakness, and strong without arrogance.

A DELIGHTFUL COMEDY.

This "tragedy of a man who found himself out" is one of the most delightful comedies of the century. Into it Sir James Barrie managed to pour not only his well-known whimsies, but also a lambent irony such as only a Scot knows how to use. It is a comedy that simply calls out to be seen and to be understood.

The company presenting the play last night had all the ingredients that the author would demand—charm, competence, and, above all, intelligence. Not one of Sir James Barrie's sly "digs" was overlooked; not one went astray. Miss Norah Lumsden's Maggie Shand was wholly delightful. Her Maggie did not lack "charm," but was rather the very personification of that elusive quality. She had in Mr. Murray Healy an almost ideal John Shand, one whose very appearance suggested the strong, silent, boring, self-made-man type which has made Scotland what it is. Watching the Comtesse de la Brieré as played by Mrs. May Carey one was amazed at her versatility. Here she was the intriguing French aristocrat, complete in every detail, even to the accent. Miss Margery Lumsden was the blasé and very dull Lady Sybil—an exceedingly difficult part to play, but here played excellently. The Wylie Trio—Messrs. J. Stephenson, Laurence Elyan, and E. V. Healy—would inspire the author to further efforts in the same direction. Never before have these three so different actors appeared to such advantage. In the comparatively little scope offered to Charles Venables by the author, William Denis managed to present the suave, but bored, Cabinet Minister; and Miss Betty Lumsden, with Mr. Gwynne Stirling, played the parts of servants as skilfully as if they had been secured from a servants' registry.

The staging and costumes brought back all the quaintness of the pre-war years. For a delightful production Mrs. May Carey and Miss Norah Lumsden may be whole-heartedly thanked.

DUBLIN THEATRES AND CINEMAS.

THIS WEEK'S PROGRAMMES

Miss Ranee Kelly, the well-known actress, will play the leading part in "Miss Adventure" at the Gaiety Theatre this week. In the supporting cast are Hylton Allen, Cyril Renison, and F. G. Thurstans.

The latest Cohen and Kelly picture will be seen at the Theatre Royal under the title of "The Cohens and Kellys in Scotland." George Sidney and Charlie Murray again play the principal parts.

A variety programme at the Olympia Theatre will include Gertie Gitana, Sammy Shields, Stylo, Two Sharpes, Joy Dean and Don Ross, The Midgets, and Harry Pantz and his boys.

At the Abbey Theatre, Rutherford Mayne's successful comedy, "Peter," will be revived.

Mrs. May Carey and Miss Nora Lumsden will produce Sir James Barrie's famous comedy, "What Every Woman Knows," at the Gate Theatre.

At the Capital Nancy Carroll, with Jack Oakie, Helen Kane and William Austin, lead the cast in "Sweetie," a musical comedy picture, and George Bancroft is the "star" in "Thunderbolt."

A SOUTHERN LETTER.

SUPPORT FOR HOME INDUSTRY.

CORK INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION.

CITIES THAT WANT TO BE BIGGER.

FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.
CORK, Saturday.

Speakers at the annual meeting of the Cork Industrial Development Association this week, which encouraged frank discussion of the obstacles to the development of the home trade, declared that if Cork workmen spent their money in purchasing good local products, more factories would be started. It was mentioned that one of Cork's most prominent traders is paying a premium to shop assistants on every sale of Irish boots. He is an exception apparently; for it was also stated that one of the principal causes of languishing trade at home is the fact that shopkeepers will not push the sale of Irish goods, prefering to display lavishly the imported articles. Some speakers referred to tariffs as the panacea, but there are a majority who believe that if Irish interests were given the first consideration when purchasing, there would not be any need for tariffs.

Mr. O'Herlihy, the Secretary of the Association, who compiled the annual report, deserves congratulation. It was the most detailed document put before the body for some years, and, covering as it did the economic outlook, not only of Cork, but the whole of the Free State, showed keen perception of the problems which face the country.

THE CORK EXHIBITION.

Mr. Sean French, ex-Lord Mayor of Cork, and Mr. Harry Egan have arrived in the United States to conduct a tour in connection with the Cork Industrial Exhibition which it is proposed to hold in 1932, the year of the Eucharistic Congress in Dublin. Their mission is to sell tickets to steamship companies and tourist agencies which will be re-sold to individuals. These tickets carry with them the right to visit every section of the Exhibition. It is pointed out that in great measure the success of the Exhibition will depend on the results of this American tour, though influential support has been obtained at home and in Great Britain.

Senator Dowdall has now consented to permit his name to be added to the list of honorary presidents on the understanding that it is the wish of the Exhibition Committee to place him in control of the Irish section. He would prefer a "national" to an "international" exhibition, believing that the latter type has a tendency to increase imports, and his acceptance of this position does not mean that he has altered his views.

MUNICIPAL BOUNDARIES.

It is interesting to note that members of the Limerick Corporation, following the example of the members of the Cork Corporation some weeks ago, have now set up a committee to consider the possibility of the extension of the city boundaries. In connection with Cork boundaries the City Manager is preparing an extension scheme to be laid before the Corporation in the near future. The work involves a variety of problems, such as payment of compensation to county councils and rearrangement of accounts.

At a meeting of the Limerick Corporation it was stated that residents outside the city boundary paid only 8s. 10d. in the pound rates, while those inside paid twenty-four shillings. It was considered that people enjoying all the social services of the city should pay their fair share of the rates, which could only be accomplished by extending the boundary.

THE HOSPITAL SWEEPSTAKES.

The next step to be taken in connection with the sweepstakes proposal for the Cork hospitals has not yet been decided, or, at least, made public. The visit this week to Cork of Mr. S. H. Maloney, who is a representative of the Trust conducting the sweep on the Manchester November Handicap in aid of Dublin hospitals, may have some bearing on the matter.

Mr. Maloney refused to make any statement beyond saying that the hospitals in the Free State, including Cork, have been notified of the decision to permit them to share in the proceeds of the sweep on the Grand National next March. Should Cork prefer to remain outside this arrangement, the proportion which would ordinarily come to this city will be re-distributed among the other hospitals.

OBITUARY.

SIR GEORGE GAMBLIN.

The Royal Bank of Canada announce the death, which took place on Thursday last, of Sir George H. Gamblin, the manager of their branch at Nassau, British West Indies. At the time of his death Sir George Gamblin was the senior unofficial member of the Executive Council and President of the Legislative Council. Previously he had been for many years leader of the Government House of Assembly. He was knighted in 1929 in recognition of public services to the Colony. Born at Nassau in 1870, he was well known throughout the West Indian Islands for his public services and for his religious and philanthropic interests. His high financial ability was of great service to him as a banker and to the Councils of which he was a member.

MR. THOMAS BARBER.

The death of Mr. Thomas Barber, a leading Dublin business man, took place somewhat suddenly at his residence, 46 Lindsay road, Glasnevin, on Saturday. Mr. Barber was a director of Messrs. Williams and Woods, the well-known jam and confectionery manufacturers, whose services he entered as a boy forty-five years ago. He was largely instrumental in establishing a fruit farm for the requirements of his firm at Kilsallaghan, Co. Dublin, and did much in other directions to extend the business. He was actively identified with trade interests, was a member of the Dublin Industrial Association and of the Trade Board which existed some years ago. In business circles generally he was held in high esteem. He took a personal interest in the welfare of the firm's employés, and will be missed by many who benefited through his liberality. Mr. Barber was a member of the Church of Ireland. He is survived by one son and four daughters, his wife having died eight years ago. The Blackrock Bowling and Lawn Tennis Club, at a meeting on Saturday, passed a resolution expressing regret at the death of Mr. Barber, who had been identified with the club for many years, and tendering sympathy to the relatives. Members of the club are asked to attend the funeral at 10 a.m. to-morrow to Mount Jerome Cemetery.

TRAFFIC IN WORN-OUT HORSES.

GIFT OF HUMANE KILLERS FOR SLAUGHTER.

FROM "THE TIMES" CORRESPONDENT.
PARIS, Saturday.

The Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals has presented fourteen humane killers to the slaughterhouses at Vaugirard, in Paris, where worn-out horses shipped from England are killed.

Attempts to stop the traffic altogether having failed, the Society took the alternative of extending its good offices to the exported animals until their end in France.

The presentation was made by Sir Robert Gower, M.P., Chairman of the Society, and a horse was afterwards slaughtered with a humane killer as a demonstration.

A supply of eighty thousand cartridges was presented with the machines. This is enough to provide for the slaughter of all horses, whether British or French, at Vaugirard for one year.

PRAYER AND OUR DAILY BREAD.

HARVEST FESTIVAL SERVICE.

Preaching at the Harvest Festival Service at St. Patrick's Cathedral, Dublin, yesterday morning, the Rev. T. A. Harvey, B.D. (Prebendary of Dunlavin), Rector of Booterstown, took as his text: "Give us day by day our daily bread" (St. Luke, xi., 3).

He said that food must not only be produced; it must be distributed. To-day they were witnessing a veritable world depression. Millions were unemployed and in poverty; but it was not because of any signal failure of crops, or want of other commodities—in fact, there had been over-production—but owing to various restrictions, caused in every case by competing interests, by national jealousies and suspicions, that free movement had been restricted. It was not nature, but man, with his inherited taint of sin, that was making his fellowman hungry. Thank God, these islands had been wonderfully preserved from the calamity of starvation, but the black spectre of famine stalked through many a country since 1914, and it had enabled them to visualise the risks of starvation in a world where almost every country, and especially our own, is dependent for food upon conditions beyond our control.

UNIVERSITY'S MISSION WORK.

But if that dread calamity had been averted, let them not take it for granted that it must always be so. It was only if God willed, and let them pray to Him who alone was over the whole process by which food is produced and made available, fertilising the soil, preserving the peace of nations, controlling the hearts of men by His spirit. Those who objected to praying for sunshine or rain, because the scientist had brandished before them his dictum about the unvarying rule of law, may bethink themselves how large a part prayer may yet play in bringing us our daily bread, or what is almost as important, making it cheap by ensuring that God's law of brotherly love rules in men's hearts instead of the law of self-interest.

The man who prayed "Father, give us" (that is the whole family) "our daily bread" could never, if he was honest, forget the other members of that Father's family, or turn a deaf ear to their cry of need. They were asked to support the work of the Dublin Univeristy Missions to Chota Nagpur and Fu-Kien, a work which he commended to them, not only as being sponsored by the Church of Ireland, but as pre-eminently fitted to satisfy the two demands of missionary work—that they should give, and give intelligently, with a deep understanding of the needs of those who desired to be nourished with the bread of life.

THE MURDERED MISSIONARIES.

"Yesterday," said the preacher, "we were horror-stricken by the reported murder of two missionaries in China, ladies who had spent much of their lives working for Christ among the women of that country, in the very province where our University mission is situated. We thank God, as we commend their souls to Him, for the witness of their lives and of their deaths, and we crave His comfort for their stricken relatives. This terrible deed happened in a country whose civilisation is at least twice as old as our own. Yet it does not surprise us; it is in keeping with a tradition of cruelty in that country that knows not the God of Jesus Christ; but believes in an impersonal force called heaven."

Continuing, the preacher said that China, except in the dim past, had never had any real or uplifting conception of God. The penalty for the want of a true conception of God always was a multitude of idolatries and a dread of many spirits, which in turn created a cruel spirit. To-day the missionaries of the Church were telling China that Christ had not only given His disciples beautiful precepts, but the power to fulfil them, and to master the natural lusts that war within, and that, if she would set in her heaven that gracious God and Father whom Christ revealed, the light of that belief would scatter the hosts of spirits that haunted her land and free her mind from the fears that made her cruel. Whether we at the home base aided them in this would depend upon the value we set upon the light that Christ had brought to us, and whether the thought of our common Father had warmed our hearts towards all the brothers of His family.

CHRISTIANITY IN NIGERIA.

BISHOP ON THE NEED FOR MISSIONARIES.

The Bishop of Lagos, West Africa (Dr. Melville Jones), presiding at the Morning Service yesterday in St. Paul's, Glenageary, referred to the spread of Christianity in Nigeria.

In Nigeria, he said, there were ninety millions of people, all of negro stock, and only some four thousand Europeans. Great changes have come over the country since he went out there forty years ago. About that time British influence was having effect. Previously tribal wars had been taking place continually and slave-raiding was a general occupation, no village or town being safe from the raiders. Human sacrifice was also common, and there was no security for life or property. Peace was made between the tribes, who were still governed by their native chiefs, but British officers were there to see that these chiefs acted humanely. The country used to be called "the white man's grave," but owing to the advance in the treatment of tropical diseases the conditions of life had greatly improved.

The country was a very good asset to the British Empire. Great Britain had opened up trade with it, which was the main object in taking possession of it. Wealth and civilisation had been brought to the people, but when they developed a country it involved great responsibilities. Civilisation was not enough; education in itself was not enough to give in return. Unless they gave these people the law of God and taught them Christianity they would do them more harm than good. He was glad that that parish had its own missionary in Africa. Missionaries were badly wanted. Churches were springing up everywhere. In his diocese, which was as big as the British Isles, there were only ten churches when he went out; now there are hundreds of churches, and there was hardly a town or village in which there was not a Christian church. The natives built their own churches and paid the native teachers and clergy. There were eighty African clergymen in his diocese, and a native bishop was now acting for him. The Church at home had a great responsibility. The need for missionaries was great in his dioceses. There were only a missionary and two or three African clergymen to superintend one hundred and eighty churches.

Deeming it the more prudent to omit the QUEENSTOWN call on his arrival off that port on Saturday evening owing to the bad weather conditions encountered there, Captain E. T. Britten, Commander of the Franconia, wirelessed his decision ashore and proceeded direct to Liverpool. A strong south westerly gale, huge seas and thick mist prevailed off the coast when the liner arrived off the port. The Franconia was homeward bound from New York, and had on board twenty-three passengers and eighty sacks of mail for disembarkation at Queenstown. A number of coasters, outward bound from Cork, anchored in the harbour during the day. Towards midnight the wind veered north-west, and the weather improved considerably.

BRITISH AIRSHIP R 101 WRECKED.

DISASTER WHILE ON FLIGHT TO INDIA.

46 DEAD: 8 SURVIVORS.

LORD THOMSON, SIR SEFTON BRANCKER, AND FLIGHT LIEUT. IRWIN LOST.

AIRSHIP STRUCK HILL DURING A STORM.

THE airship R 101 crashed at Beauvais, Northern France, early yesterday morning, with the loss of forty-six lives, including:—

Lord Thomson, Sir W. Sefton Brancker, Wing-Commander Colmore, Lieutenant-Colonel V. C. Richmond, the designer of the airship; Major G. H. Scott, Flight-Lieutenant H. C. Irwin, captain of the airship, and other distinguished officers.

The eight survivors were injured.

The airship, which was on its way to India, left Cardington on Saturday night, and had reached a point more than half-way between the northern coast of France and Paris, when it ran into a storm, and was driven down about a thousand feet. On crashing, it burst into flames, and the crew and passengers, many of whom were asleep, were trapped.

The King and Queen, who are at Sandringham, received the news by telephone. His Majesty immediately sent the following telegram to the Prime Minister:—

> "I am horrified to hear of this national disaster which has befallen the airship R 101, and the consequent serious loss of life, including that of Lord Thomson, my Air Minister. The Queen and I sympathise with the relatives and friends of those who have perished in the service of their country, and also with the injured survivors.
>
> "GEORGE R.I."

At the time of the accident the airship was travelling at about 55 miles an hour. According to the survivors, a severe storm, with squalls and violent whirlwind eddies, broke over the airship, and drove it down. The nose dipped twice and struck a hill violently.

The Air Council propose to hold a public inquiry into the loss of the airship, subject to co-ordination with the arrangements which are being made by the French Government.

THE FULL STORY.

A SHATTERING EXPLOSION.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
BEAUVAIS, Sunday.

The greatest airship in the world, the pride of British aeronautical engineers, is lying in a French orchard a mass of twisted blackened wreckage.

Of the fifty-four men who sailed away in her so cheerfully from Cardington yesterday evening, confident that they were about to achieve an epoch-making flight to India, all but eight are dead.

Lord Thomson, Secretary of State for Air; Air Vice-Marshal Sir Sefton Brancker, Director of Civil Aviation; Wing-Commander Colmore, Director of Airship Development, and Major G. H. Scott, inventor of the airship mooring mast, have all been added to the long roll of those who have lost their lives in the cause of aviation.

Of the eight survivors Mr. M. Leech, a foreman engineer of the Royal Airship Works, Cardington; J. H. Binks, engineer and A. V. Bell, engineer, have been slightly injured; Messrs. A. J. Cook, engineer, A. Disley, wireless operator; V. Savory, engineer, and W. G. Radcliffe, rigger, are more seriously injured in Beauvais Hospital, but have been able to take nourishment. Mr. S. Church, rigger, has been removed to a private nursing home. None of their lives is considered in danger.

BATTLING WITH RAIN AND WIND.

The disaster occurred shortly after two o'clock this morning near Allonne, a village about four miles south of Beauvais. Inhabitants who were awakened from sleep by the roar of the airship's engines overhead saw her flying low, apparently in difficulties, and battling with the heavy wind and rain. Shortly afterwards there was a shattering explosion, followed by a blinding flash. People from Allonne hurried from their houses to the spot where they had seen the airship come down. They found a blazing mass of wreckage which cast a ghastly yellow light over the fields around and threw out so fierce a heat that they were unable at first to approach.

FRENCHWOMAN'S DESCRIPTION.

A young Frenchwoman who was an eye-witness of the disaster describes the terrible scene. "Our first intimation of the accident was a loud report, which I mistook at first for a thunder-clap. A few minutes later I and some neighbours were on the scene. The airship had fallen into an orchard on top of some apple trees. Oh! what a horrible sight met our eyes. Flames leaped towards the sky, and in vain did the firemen play their hoses on the blazing ship. We could see bodies in the cabins. They seemed to be twisted like strips of burning cheese. However, we were able to save an Englishman who was alone in the forward cabin. Later we extricated frightfully burned bodies from the wreckage. Oh! it was a terrible sight."

WHAT SURVIVORS SAID.

Mr. Leech, the engineering expert, who was saved, gives the following account of the accident: "When the disaster occurred everybody on board was asleep, except the watch and the pilot. The motors were working perfectly. The ship was battling with storm and rain. Three times it dipped, and then a violent gust hurled it to the ground. It was then that the explosion occurred."

Mr. Disley, the wireless operator, who was asleep at the moment of the disaster, can recall nothing about it. The first he knew of the accident was when he awoke with a start to find himself lying on the ground.

The airship appears to have run into an isolated storm centre, where she was forced down by the rain, and crashed into a low hill in the dark.

WORK OF SALVAGE.

Soon police and troops were on the scene to keep order among the quickly-swelling crowd of spectators and prevent them from looting the wreckage for souvenirs.

At daylight the grim work of salvage began. Armed with blow-pipes and metal saws, firemen and gendarmes made their way into the tangled wreckage, at whose stern the Union Jack was still fluttering defiantly. Four bodies were first recovered, naked, contorted and charred beyond recognition. As they were borne out police and soldiers present stood at the salute.

The remains were placed on stretchers covered with sheets and laid along a hedge in a row which grew steadily from hour to hour.

Bodies were found in various parts of the wreckage, at either end and side, having evidently been scattered by the impact. The débris was disturbed as little as possible at the request of the British Military Attaché, who soon arrived on the scene from Paris, in order that the British Air Ministry experts, who left Croydon by aeroplane, might be better able to judge the cause of the disaster.

THE LAST MESSAGE.

The terrible disaster gives special pathos to the last message received by Le Bourget Aerodrome from the airship at 1.50 a.m. "At the moment," it said, "the passengers, after an excellent meal and after enjoying a number of cigars, are getting ready to go to bed." Twenty minutes later the giant dirigible was a blazing mass of wreckage and most of those on board had been burned to death.

A number of other messages were received from the airship from the time of its departure from Cardington, giving its position and speed. It reached the English coast near Hastings at 10.25, when it was travelling at 54 knots in heavy rain.

FRENCH GOVERNMENT'S ASSISTANCE.

The French Government has given all possible assistance and sympathy. By ten o'clock in the morning M. Laurent Eynac, Minister for Air, was on the scene. He expressed his deep personal grief at the tragic loss of his friends, Lord Thomson and Sir Sefton Brancker, whom he had often met at international air conferences.

As soon as he heard of the disaster, the President of the Republic, M. Doumergue, sent a telegram of sympathy to King George, and M. Tardieu, the Premier, sent a similar message to Mr. Ramsay Macdonald.

A rumour that gained currency in the course of the evening, to the effect that more bodies had been found, is without foundation.

Some twenty gendarmes have been detailed to protect the débris, and the watch will be maintained throughout the night.

It was stated at the hospital that the condition of the injured survivors was satisfactory and improving. The one most badly hurt is Radcliffe, who has somewhat serious burns to his head, hands and feet, but his life is not in danger.

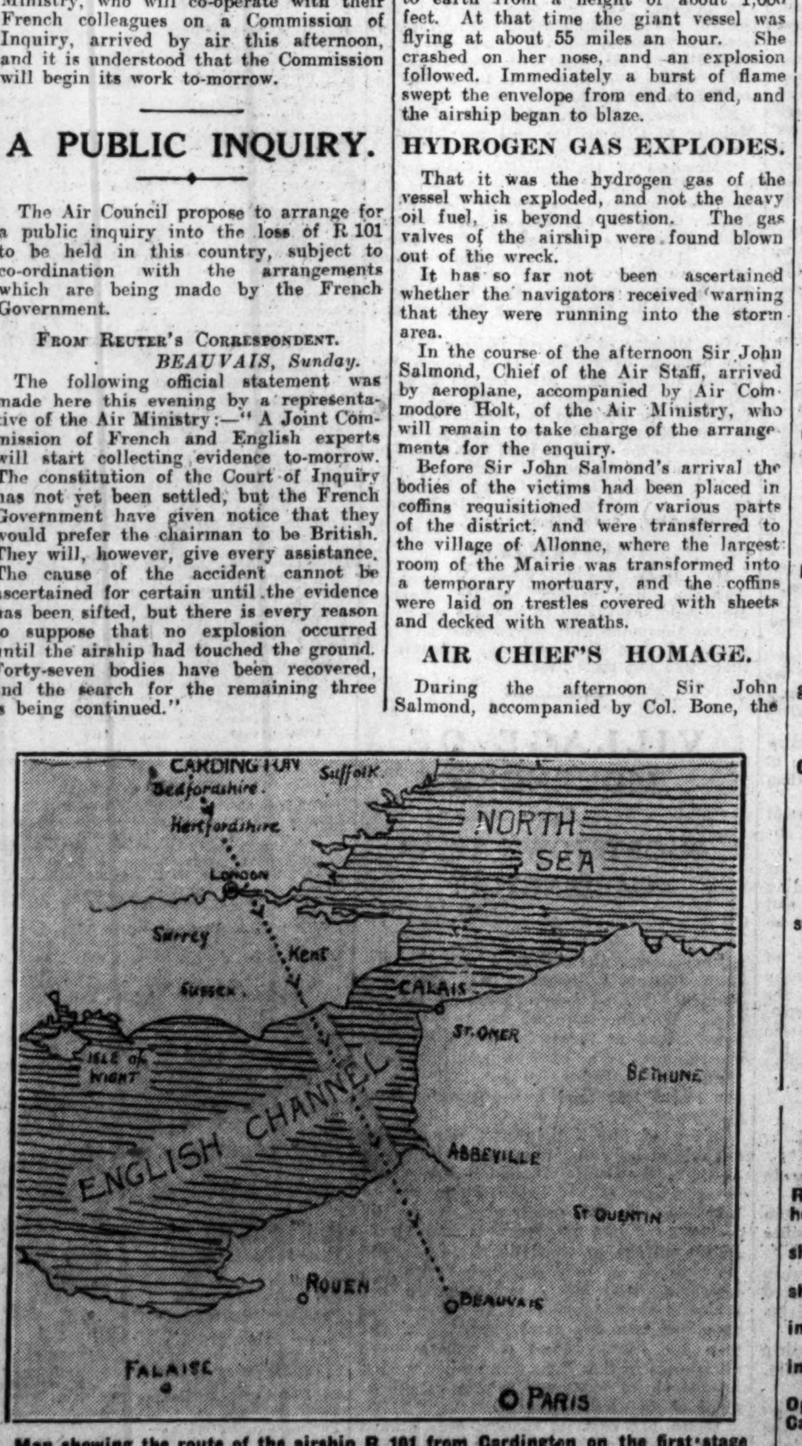
The representatives of the British Air Ministry, who will co-operate with their French colleagues on a Commission of Inquiry, arrived by air this afternoon, and it is understood that the Commission will begin its work to-morrow.

A PUBLIC INQUIRY.

The Air Council propose to arrange for a public inquiry into the loss of R 101 to be held in this country, subject to co-ordination with the arrangements which are being made by the French Government.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
BEAUVAIS, Sunday.

The following official statement was made here this evening by a representative of the Air Ministry:—"A Joint Commission of French and English experts will start collecting evidence to-morrow. The constitution of the Court of Inquiry has not yet been settled, but the French Government have given notice that they would prefer the chairman to be British. They will, however, give every assistance. The cause of the accident cannot be ascertained for certain until the evidence has been sifted, but there is every reason to suppose that no explosion occurred until the airship had touched the ground. Forty-seven bodies have been recovered, and the search for the remaining three is being continued."



Map showing the route of the airship R 101 from Cardington on the first stage of her ill-fated flight. Beauvais, where the airship crashed, is a town some thirty miles north of Paris, and during the Great War represented the furthest point of the advance of the German Army.

MYSTERY OF THE CRASH.

PIECES OF FABRIC FOUND TWO MILES AWAY.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
BEAUVAIS, Sunday.

The accident to R 101 does not appear to be capable of any simple explanation, and an examination of all the available fact must await the Ministerial inquiry, the date of which has not yet been fixed.

The survivors include some who will be able to describe the situation of the dirigible immediately before the disaster, while the testimony of persons who saw the crash from the ground will also be available. The important point to be cleared up seems to be whether the airship's final dive was due to circumstances of the moment, or whether it suffered some damage earlier. In this connection it is interesting to note that a quantity of airship fabric has been picked up some miles away from the wreck.

7.36 p.m.—Left Cardington.
9 p.m.—Over London.
10.35 p.m.—Crossing the coast at Hastings.
11.38 p.m.—Crossing French coast at Point du St. Quentin.
Midnight—Fifteen miles S.W. of Abbeville.
2.44 a.m.—Nearing Beauvais.
3.16 a.m.—Le Bourget message: "G.F.A.A.W.—a pris feu."

From statements made by survivors, who have been allotted a special ward in the hospital, it appears that the airship dipped twice before finally falling to earth from a height of about 1,000 feet. At that time the giant vessel was flying at about 55 miles an hour. She crashed on her nose, and an explosion followed. Immediately a burst of flame swept the envelope from end to end, and the airship began to blaze.

HYDROGEN GAS EXPLODES.

That it was the hydrogen gas of the vessel which exploded, and not the heavy oil fuel, is beyond question. The gas valves of the airship were found blown out of the wreck.

It has so far not been ascertained whether the navigators received warning that they were running into the storm area.

In the course of the afternoon Sir John Salmond, Chief of the Air Staff, arrived by aeroplane, accompanied by Air Commodore Holt, of the Air Ministry, who will remain to take charge of the arrangements for the enquiry.

Before Sir John Salmond's arrival the bodies of the victims had been placed in coffins requisitioned from various parts of the district, and were transferred to the village of Allonne, where the largest room of the Mairie was transformed into a temporary mortuary, and the coffins were laid on trestles covered with sheets and decked with wreaths.

AIR CHIEF'S HOMAGE.

During the afternoon Sir John Salmond, accompanied by Col. Bone, the British Air Attaché in Paris, visited the Mairie to do homage to the dead.

A number of the coffins were opened, as it was considered that there might be a possibility of identifying the principal victims; but Colonel Bone had to admit the impossibility of identification, declaring that the bodies were absolutely unrecognisable.

It is, therefore, quite impossible to say at present which of the bodies are those of Lord Thomson and Sir Sefton Brancker, but another attempt at identification will be made at an early hour to-morrow. A safety razor and shaving brush found upon one of the bodies was placed in the appropriate coffin. It was stated that almost all the bodies bear the remains of some clothing, and that a number of the crew were still wearing flying boots.

FREE STATE SYMPATHY.

Messages of sympathy were received by Mr. Ramsay Macdonald from Mr. Cosgrave, on behalf of the Free State, and from Mr. McGilligan, representing the Free State delegation to the Imperial Conference.

During the day a red aeroplane, somewhat similar to the Prince of Wales' Moth machine, landed near the wreck, and a number of people jumped to the conclusion that the Prince had arrived; but the rumour was speedily disposed of.

Major Cooper, of the Air Ministry Investigations Department, arrived on the scene by air late this afternoon, and proceeded to the hospital to talk with the survivors.

IRISHMEN ABOARD.

Flight-Lieutenant H. C. Irwin.
Squadron-Leader W. H. L. O'Neill.
F. Hodnett, steward, Youghal.
E. A. Graham, cook, Ranelagh.

A report that two of the eight survivors had died from their injuries proves to be incorrect.

NAMES OF VICTIMS

FORTY-SIX DEAD AND EIGHT INJURED.

The names of those killed are:—

Brigadier-General the Right Hon. Lord THOMSON, P.C., C.B.E., D.S.O., Secretary of State for Air.

SIR SEFTON BRANCKER—Lafayette.

Air Vice-Marshal Sir W. SEFTON-BRANCKER, K.C.B., A.F.C., Director of Civil Aviation.

Wing-Commander R. B. B. COLMORE, O.B.E., R.A.F., Director of Airship Development.

Lieutenant-Colonel V. C. RICHMOND, Assistant-Director of Airship Development (Technical).

Major G. H. SCOTT, C.B.E., A.F.C., Assistant Director of Airship Development (Flying).

Major P. BISHOP, O.B.E., Chief Inspector, Aeronautical Inspection Department, Air Ministry.

Squadron-Leader F. M. ROPE, attached to the Directorate of Airship Development.

Flight-Lieutenant H. C. IRWIN, A.F.C., R.A.F., Captain of the airship.

Squadron-Leader E. L. JOHNSTON, A.F.C., R.A.F., Navigator.

Lieutenant-Commander N. G. ATHERSTONE, A.F.C. (R.N., retired), First Officer.

Flying-Officer M. H. STEFF, R.A.F., Second Officer.

M. A. GIBLETT, M.Sc., Superintendent of the Airship Division, Meteorological Office.

A. BUSHFIELD, Aeronautical Inspection Department.

Squadron-Leader W. H. L. O'NEILL, M.C., R.A.F., representing the Secretary of State for India.

Squadron-Leader W. PALSTRA, M.C., Royal Australian Air Force.

Mr. J. BUCK, Attendant to the Secretary of State for Air.

G. K. ATKINS, Wireless Telegraph Operator.

R. BLAKE, Engineer.

C. A. BURTON, Engineer.

C. J. FERGUSSON, Engineer.

H. E. FORD, Rigger.

P. A. FOSTER, Rigger.

W. R. GENT, A.F.M., First Engineer R 101.

E. A. GRAHAM, Cook.

A. C. HASTINGS, Engineer.

F. HODNETT, Assistant Steward.

G. W. HUNT, A.F.M., Chief Coxswain.

THE INJURED.

The following were injured:—

Mr. H. J. LEECH, Foreman Engineer, Royal Airship Works, slightly injured; home address, Shortstown, Cardington.

Mr. A. V. BELL, Engineer, Royal Airship Works, slightly injured.

Mr. J. H. BINKS, Engineer, Royal Airship Works, slightly injured; Sheffield.

Mr. S. CHURCH, Rigger, seriously injured; Cardington Village.

Mr. A. J. COOK, Engineer, seriously injured; Shortstown, Cardington.

Mr. A. DISLEY, Wireless Telegraph Operator, seriously injured; Shortstown, Cardington.

Mr. W. G. RADCLIFFE, Rigger, seriously injured; Bedford.

Mr. V. SAVORY, Engineer, seriously injured; Shortstown, Cardington.

THOSE WHO DIED.

LORD THOMSON'S FAITH IN R 101.

Lord Thomson, the Secretary of State for Air, was fifty-five and a bachelor. He was the son of a Major-General, entered the Army at nineteen, and had a long and distinguished career as an engineer officer. He was a member of the Supreme War Council, 1918-19, and retired with the rank of Brigadier-General.

Lord Thomson received his peerage on taking office as Secretary of State for Air in the first Labour Government, January-November, 1924. He returned to the Air Ministry on the formation of the present Labour Government in June, 1929.

He was an aviation enthusiast, keenly enjoyed flying, and had a lively conception of the airship's future. He regarded flying as safer than travelling on the road.

On one occasion last autumn, when he was about to join R 101 at Cardington, he said, "The only risk I fear is in the journey to Cardington."

He regarded the cost of State airships as money well spent, and he vigorously rebutted criticisms. A few months ago, protesting against "wild exaggerations," he stated that the total spent on the airships programme since 1924 was £2,000,000, that the two ships had given added knowledge, and that a country such as ours must pay for its research.

"With a good skipper and a good crew," he said, "I would go out in the R 101 in any weather."

Lord Thomson was a member of the Labour Party delegation which investigated and reported on conditions in Ireland before the Treaty. He stayed at the Viceregal Lodge several days last August as the guest of Mr. James McNeill, Governor-General.

SIR SEFTON BRANCKER.

Sir Sefton Brancker was Master-General of personnel in the Air Force until soon after the War, when he became managing director of Air Transport and Travel, Limited, the first civil aviation company to operate. They began a service between Hounslow and Paris with old war aircraft. He held that post until 1922, when he joined the Air Ministry as director of civil aviation.

Sir Sefton Brancker had many friends in Ireland, and was a frequent visitor here. In pre-war days he served with his regiment at Fermoy, Co. Cork, and other parts of Ireland. He was keenly interested in the establishment of an air service between Great Britain and Ireland, and had discussed the project with interested people in this country.

WING COMMANDER COLMORE.

Wing-Commander R. B. D. Colmore, the Director of Airship Development, was the Air Ministry Director for Supply and Research, responsible for all airship activities. When it was decided in 1924 to proceed with the development of airships he was appointed Deputy-Director of Airship Development, and he became Director at the beginning of this year. His headquarters were at Cardington, where R 101 was designed and built. He was on board R 100 during her Canadian flight in July and August, and represented the Air Ministry during her stay in Canada.

Born at Portsmouth in 1887, he was educated at Stubbington House, Fareham, and in H.M.S. Britannia. He became a Sub-Lieutenant in the Royal Navy in 1907, and was promoted Lieutenant in 1909. He retired in 1911, but became a Lieutenant-Commander on mobilisation when war broke out. He served with the Armoured Car Division at Antwerp in 1914, and commanded the armoured car section which was employed at Gallipoli in 1915. He was transferred to the airship section of the Royal Naval Air Service in 1916, and after serving at the airship station at Barrow became commanding officer of the airship base at Mullion, Cornwall.

While holding that command he evolved a novel scheme of dealing with the submarine menace by a system of combined patrols of airships, seaplanes and aeroplanes, in conjunction with surface boats. His method proved so successful that he was appointed a First-class Officer of Aircraft Operations at Plymouth with a view to the application of the same principles against submarines along the whole British coasts. Later he was posted as Chief Staff Officer of Aircraft Operations with the Commander of the Grand Fleet based at Dundee. The War ended before his system came into general operation. After the War he was granted a permanent commission as Squadron-Leader of the Royal Air Force, and was attached as Staff Officer for Airships to the Department of the Controller-General of Civil Aviation at the Air Ministry.

MAJOR SCOTT.

Major G. H. Scott, Assistant Director of Airship Development Flying, was 42. He was the inventor of the Air Ministry system of airship mooring to a tower, which is also used in the United States. Since the autumn of last year he carried out extended trials of R 101 and R 100, and was Officer-in-Charge of R 100's Canadian flight last summer.

He was in general engineering until the outbreak of the War, when he joined the Royal Naval Air Service as a Flight Sub-Lieutenant. In 1915 he was captain of the airship Parseval; in 1916 was given the command of the airship station at Anglesey, and in 1917 became captain of R 9, the first British rigid airship to fly. In 1919 he commanded R 34 on its flight from East Fortune, Scotland, to the United States and back to Pelham. This was the first flight of any aircraft to America and also the first outward and homeward flight.

He was appointed Officer-in-Charge of Flying and Training in the Airship Directorate in 1924, and in January of this year became Assistant Director of Flying. He visited Canada in 1927 to advise the Canadian Government on the selection of an airship base, which resulted in St. Hubert, Montreal, being chosen and equipped. Since last autumn he was engaged in carrying out trials of R 100 and R 101, and was Officer-in-Charge of the flight of R 100 to Canada this year.

He was born at Catford, Kent, and was

THE LOSS OF R 101.

A NATIONAL DISASTER.

The Times to-day in a leading article observes:—The disaster to the airship R 101 has aroused feelings of horror and sorrow in every part of the civilised world, and in none more profoundly than in the country whose pride she was, and whose gallant sons she carried. The British Empire has lost not only the latest and biggest product of the science of airship construction, but also a noble company of those who were the repositories of technical skill and knowledge in this branch of aviation. With them has perished Lord Thomson, the Secretary of State for Air, who, in his two periods of office, had confirmed the respect of his friends and won that of his political opponents in the discharge of a difficult task. Sir Sefton Brancker, too, has gone—the man who, since he was appointed Director of Civil Aviation eight years ago, had struggled successfully and unremittingly for its development, and had been recognised far beyond the frontiers of his own country as the ideal leader of an infant service. Eight of the fifty-four persons carried by the airship have providentially escaped, although five have been seriously injured. All the rest—the statesman, the administrator, the experts—have been swept out of existence in the twinkling of an eye at dead of night by a blast of flame on a lonely hilltop in Northern France.

They were engaged in no foolhardy venture, proceeds The Times. The lessons to be learned from the terrible fate of R 38, nine years ago, had been fully studied. The defects revealed in R 101 during her trials at the end of last year had been remedied, so far as the highest skill could tell. Moreover, those trials had been carried out in exceptionally testing weather. The airship successfully rode out at her mooring-mast a storm which actually held up the battleship Malaya from entering Plymouth Harbour for thirty hours. The alterations subsequently effected included the insertion of a new bay and the carrying out of other improvements calculated to increase the lifting capacity of the airship by over fifteen tons. As our Aeronautical Correspondent reported at the time, "R 101 was designed and built upon a policy of safety first." During her further trials, only last week, nothing but a minor and easily curable defect was discovered in one of her five engines.

REASONABLE CONFIDENCE.

A few weeks ago R 100—although that airship has, indeed, different engines and a different design—made a successful journey to Canada and back. Those, therefore, who embarked upon R 101 on Saturday evening did so with every reasonable prospect of a safe trip to India and back. Their experience up to within a few minutes of the disaster must have fully realised their expectations. The accounts given by survivors to our special correspondent show that nothing had occurred to cause anxiety to the crew, and that, though the airship was battling with wind and storm, her engines appeared to be working perfectly. It is some comfort to be able to think that death, if it came terribly, came quickly to a brave company, who believed in the work of their brains and hands, and who showed their faith in it by entrusting their lives to it.

At this moment it would be unpardonable to revive the old controversy over the safety and utility of airships. Time and expert examination alone can reveal whether constructional or mechanical defects in this particular airship caused or contributed to the disaster, or whether, as may appear more probable from the first accounts, R 101 was the victim of unforeseen and unforeseeable local atmospheric conditions. Was she forced down by a sudden downward vertical gust when flying low? Was she borne down by the weight of water from the storm she was encountering? Did some defect disclose itself in the elevating gear at a critical moment? These and all such questions must be answered, if they can be answered, in the interests of airship flying in the future. But meanwhile the fate of R 101 should not retard by one minute the development of aviation generally. What happens to one airship has no conceivable bearing on what may happen to other types of aircraft, nor does a disaster to one type of airship affect the prospects of an airship of another type, unless, indeed, the disaster be due to some feature common to both, or to some factor which reflects fundamentally upon the utility or the safety of airships generally.

AT THE SCENE.

A GRAPHIC DESCRIPTION.

The Times special correspondent who went to Beauvais, states:—"As I approached the scene of the accident through the Bois Seck I caught sight of what looked at first like the half-built roof of a railway station standing up on the horizon beyond the trees. This was the framework of the unhappy airship. Getting nearer still, a delicate network of girders could be made out against the sky. It was one of the vertical fins of the ship. All the fabric had disappeared, and as one began to realise the immense scale of the structure, which from a distance of a quarter of a mile already towered over the surrounding trees, it was difficult to believe that these were the remains of an aircraft fallen by accident into this windswept landscape, and not the framework of some gigantic building intended to stand permanently in this place. With a near view of the wreck the impression of an orderly framework set out on the ground gave way to one of tragic chaos.

The tail of the airship alone retained recognisable shape, its structure not having been very greatly damaged. It lay at the foot of the slope resting on the lower vertical rudder, which had been torn from its fastenings. The pointed tail-piece, with the framework of an observer's cockpit built into the end of it, towered 60 feet above the ground. From the framework of this part of the ship rags and strips of fabric hung fluttering in the wind. The two elevator planes were still almost covered with fabric. The extreme nose of the airship lay on the summit of a hill. From this point looking back down the hill the whole carcass of the airship lay before me a mute witness to the tragedy of hopes shattered and lives sacrificed. The long, twisted girders writhed on the ground in parallel lines. On each side of the remains the cross frames rose like broken ribs, and in the distance over the arched skeleton of the airship's tail itself, as large as the entrance to an ordinary railway station, the frame of her vertical fin rose mournfully against the sky, and the balance rudder, still rocking on its hinges, swung aimlessly, like an indifferent weather-cock, in the wind.

At the point where the airship struck the earth the framework which took the strain of mooring at the mast lay huddled on the ground. The hollow spindle through which the mooring cable passed seems to have struck the ground directly, for it is caked with mud. It may have fallen vertically when the rest of the structure collapsed. Close by it were the drums of cables which were used in mooring, and the wooden mooring platform and passengers' entrance lay splintered here and there.

Hanging from the base of the hollow spindle by its wire was an electric battery or switch-box, and this suggests the most likely cause of the fire. When the airship struck the ground the smashing or tearing off of an engine-car or the control car, or of any important part of her accommodation, would break the electrical connections of her lighting and produce short circuits, which would produce flashes or sparks. Such flashes igniting the small supply of petrol would be quite enough to start the fire which consumed the ship, or they might do so equally well if they occurred in a stream of hydrogen, caused by damage to the hull and gasbags. Such a fire once started would in a few seconds sweep the ship from end to end. R 101 may have been relatively safe from fuel fires, but she carried 5,650,000 cubic feet of hydrogen, which more than made up for the absence of volatile engine fuel.

REVOLUTION IN BRAZIL.

10,000 TROOPS MAY JOIN REBELS.

MARTIAL LAW IN FORCE.

BORDER TOWNS FULL OF REFUGEES.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
NEW YORK, Sunday.

According to despatches received here to-night, Brazil is in the throes of revolution. Virtually the entire State of Rio Grande do Sul has revolted against the Federal Government, while outbreaks are also reported in the States of Parana, Minas Geraes and Rio de Janeiro; but, owing to the strict censorship, details and the extent of the uprising are not known.

In Rio Grande do Sul the Federal troops in several cities have joined the insurgents, and it is regarded as a certainty that the whole Federal military force in that State—about 10,000—will take the field against the Central Government.

All the public buildings are in the hands of the revolutionaries.

Yesterday an attempt was made to seize the public funds in the National Bank at Uruguayana, but the employés succeeded in diverting the funds to an English bank.

The Uruguayan border towns are full of fleeing Brazilian refugees.

The movement appears to be directed against the President and the President-Elect, Dr. Julio Prestes, who, his opponents assert, was fraudulently elected.

General Francisco Pereyra da Souza leads the rebels in Do Sul Province.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE TO CONGRESS.

STATE GOVERNMENTS SUPPORTING REBELS.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
RIO DE JANEIRO, Sunday.

The Federal Government has sanctioned martial law. A Presidential message has been sent to Congress asking it to approve a martial law decree.

The message declares that the subversive movement broke out on the 3rd inst. at Bello Horizonte and Porto Alegre, and immediately spread to other cities of Minas Geraes and Rio Grande do Sul, and that the Federal Government is well acquainted with its causes and origins.

It is further stated in the message that not only have the fomenters of the trouble succeeded in winning over the police forces in Minas Geraes and Rio Grande do Sul, but that the Governments of those two States are actually supporting and directing the disturbances.

In conclusion, the Government calls upon Congress, besides voting martial law, to vote the credits necessary for the Federal Government to be able to act effectively and rapidly to suppress the movement.

FEDERAL TROOPS SURRENDER.
BUENOS AIRES, Saturday.

News from Brazil is subjected to a strict censorship, but reports from the frontier indicate that a rising of the population and police of the State of Rio Grande do Sul has taken place against the Federal authorities.

At Santana a crowd is reported to have captured a General and several officers of the Federal Forces in a hotel. They then surrounded the cavalry barracks, killed a lieutenant and injured three men. The remainder of the troops surrendered.

A large force of Federal troops from the north is marching on Santana.

POST OFFICE WORKERS' WAGES.

DEMAND FOR INCREASE.

A sub-committee of the Post Office Workers' Union, it is understood, is preparing a report, upon which a demand for increased wages will be made at an early date.

There is considerable discontent in the Post Office Service following the reductions in the cost of living bonus, consequent upon the fall in prices recorded in the official cost of living figures. Post Office workers declare that a substantial increase in wages is necessary if their incomes are to compare with those of pre-war years. The change of Government, they assert, has not brought "a change of heart," but "a confirmation of a sweated wages and cheeseparing policy, once despised by many who now champion it."

THE ACCIDENT.

THEORIES AS TO THE CAUSE.

The Times Special Correspondent, in a message from Cardington says:—The report of the survivors and the testimony of those who saw the wreckage is that she (R 101) struck the crest of a hill, with her nose slightly down, and immediately took fire. That she should come into collision with the earth in a neighbourhood like that of Beauvais, devoid of high hills, is not easy to explain, unless she was subjected to abnormal forces. In the absence of any evidence of structural or mechanical defect, such as would have given some warning, and have led, perhaps, to a wireless S.O.S., it is more likely that she was the victim of an atmospheric disturbance.

There is but little likelihood in some of the stories from France, that an explosion occurred in the air. That the envelope should take fire after the crash, and that fire should be followed by explosions as the hydrogen escaped from the bags, is easily understood. The engine cars forward and amidships were hung close up against the hull, and would be crushed up against the envelope at the first impact. The hot cylinder heads projecting from the afterpart of the cars would immediately set fire to the fabric they touched. This ship's immense area would offer a wide field for the operation of vertical currents. Her carefully designed shape and her stream-lining made head resistance extraordinarily small, but the length and breath of her hull made her very sensitive to upward and downward movements of the air. The great cubic capacity of her gas bags meant that she had to be the more carefully handled in changing temperatures.

THE AIRSHIP DISASTER.

educated at Richmond School, Yorks, and the R.A. Engineering School, Keyham.

FLIGHT-LIEUTENANT H. C. IRWIN.

The Captain of the airship, Flight-Lieutenant H. C. Irwin, who was seconded from duty from the R.A.F., was 36 years of age. He was born at Dundrum, Co. Cork, and was educated at St. Andrew's College, Dublin. He joined the Royal Naval Air Service Section in 1915, and during the following two years he was captain of non-rigid airships of S.S. zero coastal and N.S. types in home waters and the East Mediterranean. In 1920 he commanded R 33 and R 36, and from the following year to 1924 was performing R.A.F. duty at service stations and staff duties at the Air Ministry. He was transferred to the Royal Airship Works at Cardington in 1925, and in 1926 he again commanded R 33 when she carried out experimental flights to gather technical data required in connection with the design of R 100 and R 101. He commanded the R.A.F. School of Balloon Training on Salisbury Plain, and was again transferred to the Royal Airship Works last year to take over command of R 101.

He was for many years a prominent Irish athlete. At the age of 18, when a member of the Clonliffe Harriers' Club, Dublin, he won the Four Mile Championship of Ireland. In 1920 he was one of the long distance runners representing Great Britain and Ireland at the Olympic Games at Antwerp, and in the same year he represented Ireland at the Triangular Championships in Glasgow.

He was a nephew of the late Mr. Justice Samuels, and a godson of Sir Thomas Myles, the distinguished surgeon, who had written to him only a few days ago wishing him success on his trip to India. Whenever he came to Dublin he invariably stayed with Sir Thomas Myles. When the R 101 visited Ireland some months ago Flight-Lieutenant Irwin paid a graceful tribute to his godfather when he hovered for a couple of minutes over Merrion square.

He was a son of the late Mr. Frederick Irwin, a Dublin solicitor, and his uncle was Sir James Murray Irwin, who was Director-General of Medical Services to the Third Army in France during the War. Another uncle was Colonel Herbert Irwin, after whom he was named, who commanded the Warwickshire Regiment at the Battle of Omdurman. His grandmother, Mrs. Irwin, was a sister of Sir Herbert Edwards, "the hero of Multan." He had three brothers, one of whom served in the War.

Sir Thomas Myles was greatly distressed yesterday afternoon when he heard of the death of his godson, whom he had come to look upon as a son.

Flight-Lieutenant Irwin was married last year.

LIEUTENANT-COLONEL V. C. RICHMOND.

Lieutenant-Colonel V. C. Richmond, the designer of R 101, joined the Royal Airship Works in 1924 as officer in charge of design and research. This year he was appointed Assistant Director of Airship Development (Technical). Born at Dalston, London, thirty-seven years ago, he was educated at the Royal College of Science, London, and then became engineer to Messrs. S. Pearson and Sons for physical and structural problems in connection with dock construction. Joining the Royal Naval Air Service in 1915, he was engaged until the end of the War mainly on the construction of non-rigid airships.

In 1920 he went to Germany with the Inter-Allied Commission of Control, and during part of the time was in charge of the Naval Sub-Commission for the surrender of airships and seaplanes.

In 1921 he joined the Airship Research Department of the Air Ministry, and for two years was engaged on research into problems connected with rigid airship construction. In 1923-24, during the cessation of airship activity in England, he was in charge of the Material and Research Branch under the Director of Research at the Air Ministry. Since 1923 he had been lecturer in airship design and construction at the Imperial College of Science.

SQUADRON-LEADER JOHNSTON.

Squadron-Leader E. L. Johnston, the navigator of R 101, was navigator of R 100 as well, and in that capacity flew with the airship to Canada this year. He was an Air Ministry examiner for navigators' licences, and recently organised the Guild of Air Pilots and Air Navigators of the British Empire, of which he was Deputy Master. He was 39 and a native of Sunderland. He was a qualified master mariner, and served originally in the Royal Naval Reserve. He was appointed to the Royal Airship Works in 1924 for navigational duties. For some time he was "loaned" to Imperial Airways. In 1927 he was navigator on the first Imperial Airways flight to India and back.

OTHER OFFICERS.

Lieutenant-Commander N. G. Atherstone, who was 36, was appointed First Officer of the R 101 last year. Having transferred from the Navy to airships in 1917, he became a pilot of non-rigid types. He was appointed First Officer of R 29 the following year, and was awarded the A.F.C. Returning to the Navy in 1919, he retired a year later and went to Australia. In 1926 he was promoted Lieutenant-Commander R.N. (Retired), and returned to England three years ago on being appointed to the Royal Airship Works for airship duties. He was born at St. Petersburg, Russia, and was educated at Winchester and Charterhouse.

Flying-Officer M. H. Steff, R.A.F., Second Officer of R 101, flew in R 100 on her trial flights to Canada and back in July and August this year as her Second Officer. He was born at Luton, Bedfordshire, in 1896, and, joining the Navy in 1914, served in H.M.S. Inflexible at the Battle of Jutland.

Mr. M. A. Giblett, M.Sc., Meteorological Officer of R 101, flew in R 100 as her Meteorological Officer on her trips to and from Canada this year. He was born at Englefield Green, Surrey, and was educated at the Universities of Reading and London. He served during the War as Meteorological Officer, Royal Engineers, with the North Russian Expeditionary Force, and in 1919 joined the Meteorological Office, Air Ministry. During 1921 he was detached for duty during the trial flights of airships R 80, R 36 and R 38. When an Airship Services Division was created in the Meteorological Office, Air Ministry, in 1925, he was appointed Superintendent.

During the service at CLAREMONT Presbyterian Church, Derry, last evening, Mr. William Roulston, managing clerk for Mr. Stuart C. Ross, solicitor, who was present with his wife, took suddenly ill. He was assisted by his wife to the vestibule, and he died in a few minutes. The Rev. R. J. Barkeley announced the sad affair to the congregation, who sang: "There is No Night in Heaven." The service then terminated. The late Mr. Roulston, who had been almost twenty years with Mr. Ross, was a prominent Freemason.

NATION SHOCKED.

PREMIER "GRIEVED BEYOND WORDS."

The Press Association says the news of the disaster to R 101, flashed all over the world in the early hours of yesterday morning, was received in this country with incredulous horror. It was a catastrophe, the national character of which stunned the senses, and struck to the heart of the British public.

The King and Queen, the Prime Minister and his Cabinet, and famous men learned the news with a shock of horror.

AIR CHIEF VISITS THE SCENE.

Air Chief Marshal Sir John Salmond, Chief of the Air Staff, flew yesterday morning to the scene of the accident. He was accompanied by Air Commodore F. V. Holt, Director of Technical Development. By permission of the French authorities a party of airship and technical officers left Croydon later by air to assist in the collection of information bearing on the circumstances of the accident.

An official at the Air Ministry said last night: "Sir John Salmond flew back from Beauvais to Croydon this evening, and he asked me to indicate that he feels that in view of the fact that all the circumstances of the accident must be inquired into, it would be inadvisable for him to give his personal impressions of what happened at the present stage.

"Sir John spoke in the highest terms of the splendid assistance rendered by the Minister of Air in France, by his officers, and by the local authorities at Beauvais and in the Commune. Air Commodore Holt has remained with the other technical officers who are there.

"Steps are in hand for bringing the bodies back to this country as soon as the necessary arrangements have been completed with the French authorities."

It is understood that the bodies may be brought back on a warship.

An official at the Air Ministry said that the party of experts who had left for the scene included Squadron-Leader R. S. Booth, captain of the R 100; Mr. F. M. McQuade, Resident Inspector, Cardington; Mr. A. E. Gerrish, Erection Manager, Royal Airship Works; Mr. E. F. Randle, Chief of Design, Royal Airship Works; Mr. T. S. D. Collins, Chief Calculator, Royal Airship Works; Professor L. Bairstow, Professor of Aeronautics, Imperial College of Science, University of London; Major J. F. C. Cooper, Inspector of Accidents, Air Ministry; Major H. Jones, Personal Assistant to the Director of Civil Aviation, and Flight-Lieutenant Montgomery Moore, who will act as interpreter.

Major Cooper is the official Inspector of Accidents, and has recently been dealing with the investigation into the Meopham crash in June, when six people lost their lives. Squadron-Leader R. S. Booth was the hero of R 33 when it broke away from its mooring mast at Pulham, Norfolk, in 1925. He has been attached to the Royal Airship Works, Cardington, since 1924, and commanded R 100 during its successful flights to and from Canada last August.

AT DOWNING STREET.

The Prime Minister (Mr. Ramsay Macdonald) hurried to the Air Ministry, arriving there at 8.15 a.m., where the whole of the staff had been assembled. He held a long consultation with experts, who later left for Croydon air port to fly to the scene. Meanwhile a long conference between chiefs of the departments was held at the Ministry, and all possible efforts were made to get in touch with the relatives of the victims.

The Prime Minister, after his call at the Air Ministry, returned to Downing street, where one of his earliest callers was Mr. J. H. Thomas, Secretary of State for the Dominions. Mr. Thomas remained with Mr. Macdonald for some time.

About 11 o'clock Mr. Stanley Baldwin arrived at No. 10. Mr. Baldwin had an interview with the Prime Minister, and was at No. 10 for about half-an-hour. Another of the Prime Minister's visitors was Sir John Salmond, Chief of the Air Staff.

Mr. Macdonald left Downing street shortly before noon for Chequers, with the intention of returning again to No. 10 in the evening.

After the Prime Minister had gone Lord Stamfordham, the King's Secretary, called at 10 Downing street, and saw one of the Prime Minister's private secretaries.

STATEMENT BY PREMIER.

The Prime Minister made the following statement yesterday afternoon to a Press Association reporter: "I heard in the early hours of this morning of the terrible disaster to R 101, and am grieved beyond words at the loss of so many splendid men, whose sacrifice has been added to that glorious list who, on uncharted seas and unexplored lands, have gone into the unknown, pioneers and pathfinders, and have met death. My most heartfelt sympathy goes out to their families in this hour of their bereavement. Only those who have been associated with Lord Thomson know how much the country has lost. To me no one can now fill his place of genial companionship and friendship."

THE KING AND QUEEN.

The King and Queen joined with humble village folk in the parish church at Sandringham yesterday in special prayers for those bereaved. Queen Maud of Norway and Princess Victoria were among the congregation.

VIEWS OF FRENCH EXPERTS.

SURVIVOR'S GRAPHIC STORY.

From Reuter's Correspondent.
PARIS, Sunday.

While the exact cause of the Beauvais disaster will not be known until the conclusion of the official inquiry, which will be jointly carried out by the French and British experts, the probable causes are already being discussed by experts in the French newspapers.

It is surmised that, under the stress of the heavy weather, and weighed down by the drenching rain, the airship tried to land on the plain near Beauvais. Visibility at the time was very low. It seems that the R 101 passed over a wood, dipped into a cup of land, and then, having difficulty in rising again, crashed against the hillside on the other side of the cup. The impact caused the hydrogen to explode and the oil to catch fire.

Mr. Leech, a foreman engineer, who was one of the survivors, gives the following account of what happened: "The night watch, composed of twelve men, was at its post. I was in the navigation cabin. The trip was proceeding without incident until just before we arrived over Beauvais, when we were overtaken by a terrible storm, with squalls of wind and rain and violent whirlwind eddies.

"Nevertheless, I had confidence in the solidity of the airship and pushed on unconcerned. However, over Beauvais, at about 1.40, I had the impression that the airship was pitching dangerously. We were making headway—very slowly it is true—but still we were making headway. Le Bourget communicated our position to us at 1.43 as two kilometres south of Beauvais. I had no idea at what height I was navigating, and I had to resist the force of the wind with all my might. Then the airship began to feel the weight of the rain and to respond badly to the motors, which I ordered to be driven full speed ahead in order to try and obtain altitude. Then suddenly the disaster occurred. The nose of the airship, after dipping twice, struck the ground violently on the top of a small hill. A terrible explosion followed and everything began to blaze. Hurling myself against the cabin wall and smashing it with anything that came to hand, I managed to make an opening and dashed through the flames head first.

"The most dramatic escape was that of Binks and Bell. They thought their last moment had come when the tank containing the reserve water supply burst over their heads. They were drenched through, and were hurled out without a burn."

Representatives of the British Embassy called this afternoon at the Ministry of the Interior and the Quai D'Orsay to thank the Prime Minister and the Minister for Foreign Affairs for the messages of sympathy. M. Laurent Eynac, Minister for Air, called personally at the Embassy to express his condolences, and sent a quantity of flowers to Beauvais Hospital.

LATEST CASUALTY LIST.

DISCREPANCIES IN FIGURES.

From Reuter's Correspondent.
BEAUVAIS, Sunday, 9.30 p.m.

This evening the casualty list of the R 101 was drawn up here as follows:—Injured, 8; dead, 47.

Of the bodies 41 are at the mairie of Allonne village, and six, for whom coffins have not yet been procured, are still on the scene of the disaster. At a late hour carpenters in the village were still busy making coffins.

According to survivors' accounts, the airship carried 53 persons, and the local authorities, basing themselves on this return, state that three are unaccounted for. Work on the wreck was abandoned at nightfall.

NO STOWAWAY ON BOARD.

"There can be no question of a stowaway being on board the airship," an Air Ministry official stated when his attention was called to reports from Paris that more bodies had been recovered than there were persons known to be on board. "Every member of the crew and every passenger was double checked as they boarded the airship," he added.

The discrepancy between the total number on board, as telegraphed from Beauvais, and the figures issued by the Air Ministry, was explained by a Ministry official last night as being possibly due to the fact that the French figures were based on a statement of survivors, who probably were without exact knowledge of the number carried.

THE FIRST NEWS.

SURVIVOR TELEPHONES TO AIR MINISTRY.

The first news to reach the Air Ministry, apart from Press messages, came from one of the survivors. Wireless Officer A. Disley, after escaping from the burning ship, got to a telephone and put through a call to London. His information was not complete, but he told Air Ministry officials that the airship flew down into a hill. Another official message was telephoned to London early by the French Foreign Office.

A rumour that a woman was on board when the ship crashed was denied by an Air Ministry official. "We know everyone who was on board," he said, "and there was no woman."

DEPARTURE SCENES.

LORD THOMSON GAY AND CHEERFUL.

There was no shadow of impending disaster when the R 101 left Cardington on Saturday night (writes a special reporter of the Press Association). Passengers and crew were in the cheeriest of spirits and full of hope of making a successful voyage. They were to make history by being the first airship to travel to Egypt and India, and the thought filled them with pride.

Lord Thomson, the Air Minister, was the most exuberant of all. He stepped from his car at the foot of the tower with a cheery greeting to his fellow-travellers, and was chaffed by Sir Sefton Brancker for bringing so much luggage and a walking stick. He was evidently prepared for ceremonious occasions in the East, for he had three big suitcases and two cardboard boxes. Sir Sefton, with his inevitable eyeglass, laughingly remarked that he was "travelling light." He had, in fact, flown in a Moth from London to Henlow, being piloted by Miss Winifred Spooner.

One of Lord Thomson's first acts on arrival was to greet Miss Spooner and congratulate her on her Italian achievements. Then having faced a battery of cameras, he gave a message to the Press, full of pathos in view of what happened a few hours later.

"I am starting off with great confidence," he said. "It seems that conditions are quite satisfactory. I have promised the Prime Minister to be back by October 20th."

The Press Association representative asked him if he thought the flight would be the forerunner of regular trips; but he would not be drawn.

"No prophecies," he answered with a laugh, and with a cheery goodbye to those around the Tower he stepped into the lift and was taken aboard.

Major G. H. Scott, greatest of airship commanders, looked thoughtful, but confident, as he said "Goodbye." Most delightful of men, but undemonstrative in character, he was beloved by his officers and crew. He had charge of R 34 on the first airship flight to America and back, was in charge of R 100's flight to Canada, and the flight of R 101 was under his direction. Everyone on board had the fullest confidence in his judgment.

The crew were all looking forward to a happy time. They included the Assistant Chief Coxswain, Mr. W. A. Potter, who had already come safely through one severe ordeal. He was one of the few survivors of the R 38 when she broke up over the Humber. Nothing, however, could daunt his spirit or that of the Chief Coxswain, Mr. I. W. Hunt, who played a great part in bringing back R 33 when she broke from her mast in the great gale.

When finally the big airship slipped away in the darkness, a magnificent spectacle with her lights a-gleaming, the greater portion of the little crowd that cheered her going were wives, mothers, sisters and sweethearts of the crew.

CRASH ON HILLSIDE.

GRAPHIC STORY BY AN ENGINEER.

COMRADE PULLED FROM WRECKAGE.

From Reuter's Correspondent.
BEAUVAIS, Sunday.

The following description of the tragic voyage was given to Reuter's Special Correspondent this evening by Mr. Leech:—"We started from Cardington in fine weather with fifty-eight souls on board, being sixteen passengers and forty-two crew. The weather became steadily worse as we approached the Channel, and over the sea it was really bad. Nevertheless, the voyage was uneventful until we reached Beauvais, by which time the conditions were very rough, the wind and rain being terrific.

"It was not a storm which would normally have given us cause for anxiety—I have been through much worse—but that spot beyond Beauvais has a bad reputation for air accidents, several aeroplanes having crashed there.

"I think it must be the result of eddies caused by the range of hills at that place. At the time of the accident there were on duty one man in each of the four forward engine cars, and two in the after engine car.

"In the body of the ship there were fourteen men on duty watch. I was not on duty, but I was up. The rest of the people were in bed. Just after passing over Beauvais the ship was weathering the storm well, and the engines were running quite normally when, without warning, she dipped her nose at an angle of 45 degrees to the ground. She descended some distance, straightened out, then dipped again at the same angle, striking the side of the hill with great force—the hill is 780 feet above sea level.

"The forward engine cars were crushed under the hull, which in turn collapsed and buried the cabins in wreckage. I counted a space of about a second between the crash and the explosion, which was followed by a roar of flame, and the hull burned from end to end. My idea is that the explosion was due to the breakage of electric wires, which caused the flash.

WENT BACK FOR COMRADE.

"It was a case of getting clear as quickly as possible, and all the men in this (hospital) ward owe their lives to bursting their way through the wreckage and getting to safety.

"When I had got clear I heard a voice calling from the wreck, and going back found that Disley, the wireless operator, had been caught in the wreckage."

Leech refused to say what happened next, but Disley confirmed that Leech pulled him out of the blazing wreckage.

Binks and Bell, the two occupants of the after engine car both got clear. The fire reached its height in five or six minutes and then gradually subsided.

This is Leech's third airship wreck in fourteen years' experience. The other two were during the War in the Airships S.S. 35 and T.C. 21.

The injuries of the survivors are as follows:—

Leech—Slightly burned in the hands and head.

Cook—Badly burned in the hands and head.

Disley—Burned in the hands and head.

Radcliffe—Burned in hands, head and feet.

Binks—General bruises.

Bell—Slight burns in the head.

Church—Burns to head, arms and feet.

Savornt—Burns to head and feet.

THE NATION'S TRIBUTE.

REFERENCES MADE IN THE CHURCHES.

The tributes to the men who had perished came flowing in spontaneously from great figures in public life. In a great number of churches and chapels in the country the news of the calamity was broken by clergymen, and prayers were said by crowded congregations.

The first news of the disaster was conveyed to Cabinet Ministers, who are at Llandudno for the opening of the Labour Party Conference, by a Press Association reporter, and all expressed the view that it would cast intense gloom over the Conference proceedings.

Mr. Arthur Henderson, the Foreign Secretary, in an interview, said:—"The news of the terrible disaster, with its sudden, sad, calamitous results, has so distressed me that it is difficult to give a considered opinion as to the national and personal losses sustained. Seldom has a nation suffered to the extent that ours has in the deaths of so many of its leading experts in a single branch of the Service as in this sad instance. On the personal side, I wish to say that I first met Lord Thomson when he was passing through Russia in 1917, and from that time on we have been very close friends, and have twice been colleagues in the same Cabinet. In my opinion, he was a great Air Minister, and was wholeheartedly devoted to the development of aviation."

Mr. Arthur Greenwood, Minister of Health: "I have heard with profound regret of the terrible disaster which has befallen the R 101, and would like to express my deepest sympathy with the relatives of those who have lost their lives. Especially I mourn the loss of a staunch personal friend in Lord Thomson, whose death has deprived the nation of a great public servant."

Commander Sir Charles Dennistoun Burney, the airship expert and designer of R 100:—"It is terribly sad. Many of those who have been killed were my close personal friends, and they were all fine fellows." Sir Charles added—"As to the cause of the disaster itself, it is impossible to say anything until after the fullest investigation and inquiry have taken place. I cannot say whether this will be the doom of the airships in their present stage of development, but, as I said in my book, they are not a commercial proposition."

Sir Samuel Hoare, Air Minister in the last Government, was deeply grieved, but deferred making any statement for the present.

Mr. Bernard Shaw:—"Great heavens! What an awful death! Disasters must be faced, and it is no use making remarks about them. I can only say that I join in the grief of everybody."

Mr. Henry Ford, the American millionaire motor car manufacturer:—"It is horrible; it is terrible. No one could be more sorry than I am."

Sir Akbar Hydari, head of the Hyderabad Delegation to the India Round-Table Conference:—"We are exceedingly shocked by the tragedy. The establishment of the air route to India will be a means of binding England and India more closely together, and I hope that the disaster will not be an insuperable set-back."

Mr. G. W. Forbes, Prime Minister of New Zealand, in a telegram to Mr. Ramsay Macdonald:—"I am deeply shocked at the tragic disaster. As New Zealand's representative at the Imperial Conference I hasten to express our heartfelt sympathy with His Majesty's Government in the United Kingdom, and with the bereaved relatives."

POST-WAR DISASTERS.

The following is a list of disasters to airships during recent years:—

August 23rd, 1921—R 38, sold by Britain to America, broke in two over the Humber and fell in flames. Forty-four killed.

December 21st, 1923—French airship Dixmude, formerly German L 72, wrecked in bad weather off Sicily. Crew of thirty-eight and nine passengers lost.

September, 1925—United States airship Shenandoah broke in three over Ohio. Fourteen officers and men killed.

May, 1928—Italian airship Italia, under command of General Nobile, lost in the Arctic after flying over the North Pole. General Nobile and some members of the party were rescued, but others, who have not been heard of since, presumably died from exposure.

EXPRESSIONS OF SYMPATHY.

FRANCE.

France, Belgium, Germany, Egypt and the United States are among the countries whose official heads and members have sent expressions of sympathy with the British Government and people.

Reuter's Paris Correspondent states that as soon as he heard of the disaster to the R 101, the President of the Republic, M. Doumergue, sent a telegram of sympathy to King George.

M. Tardieu, the Prime Minister, when he heard of the accident, sent the following telegram to Mr. Ramsay Macdonald:—

"I wish to assure you of the sad emotions which the shocking disaster which has come upon your aviation and your country has caused the French Government. The death of my friend and comrade, Lord Thomson, who died at his post as Minister for Air, causes me great sorrow. I would express to your Cabinet my profound sympathy at this cruel loss."

A representative of the Prime Minister has called at the British Embassy to express his sympathy. M. Briand has also sent a message of sympathy to the British Ambassador, while M. De Fleuriau, the French Ambassador in London, will offer the French Government's condolences to Downing street.

M. Laurent Eynac, French Minister for Air, on his return to Paris from Beauvais sent a telegram to Mr. Frederick Montague, British Under Secretary of State for Air, expressing the grief and sympathy of the French Air Service. He added:—"Lord Thomson and Sir Sefton Brancker leave among us poignant regrets. We bow before the end of our valiant British comrades of the R 101, united in death, in the service of aviation, and the grandeur of their country. The sang-froid of the survivors, the coolness of the injured, set the highest example. French aviation, linked by so many memories with the British, shares its mourning."

BELGIUM.

The Foreign Minister, M. Hymans, says a Brussels message, has sent the following telegram to the Belgian Ambassador in London:—

"We learn with consternation of the terrible catastrophe which has overtaken R 101, which is causing profound emotion throughout Belgium. I ask you to convey to the British Government and to the families of the victims the condolences of the King of the Belgians and of the Government. We deplore the tragic death of Lord Thomson, whom we sympathetically 'remember.'"

M. Hymans has also conveyed his sympathy to Earl Granville, the British Ambassador in Brussels.

GERMANY.

Reuter's Berlin correspondent says:—Chancellor Bruening on hearing the news of the accident sent a telegram to Mr. Ramsay Macdonald expressing the German Government's warm sympathy, whilst the Executive Committee of the Socialist Party has sent to the Labour Party a message expressing its sympathy with the British Government in the loss of one of its most brilliant Ministers.

EGYPT.

The Prime Minister of Egypt, Sidky Pasha, has sent the following cable to Mr. Ramsay Macdonald:—

"The news of the appalling catastrophe to the R 101, involving the death of the Minister for Air and his brave companions, has deeply moved Egypt. On behalf of the Egyptian Government I express our heartfelt sympathy at this cruel loss suffered by British aviation. The Government is all the more saddened in that it had hoped to profit by the passage of R 101 over Egypt to-morrow to participate, by the presence of its chief and the Minister of Communications at Ismailia, in a tribute to the progress of aviation. Will you, then, accept our sincerest sentiments on this sad occasion."

UNITED STATES.

Reuter's New York Correspondent says:—American officials in Washington, from President Hoover downwards, were deeply grieved and shocked by the news of the disaster, and their opinion and feelings were reflected in the message which Admiral W. A. Moffatt, Chief of the Navy, Bureau of Aeronautics, sent to the Air Ministry. Admiral Moffatt's message reads:—

"On behalf of the United States Navy Bureau of Aeronautics, I wish to express the deepest sympathy on the occasion of the R 101 disaster, and the loss of Lord Thomson, your Minister; Sir Sefton Brancker, and so many brave officers and men. They went to their death as many before by setting a peerless example in pioneering development for the causes of human progress and the benefit of mankind."

Admiral Moffat and Mr. David S. Ingalls, Acting Secretary of the Navy, called at the British Embassy and conveyed the sympathy of the American Navy to Sir Ronald Lindsay.

CANADA.

Mr. R. B. Bennett, the Canadian Prime Minister, has sent the following message to Mr. Ramsay Macdonald:—

"On behalf of the Dominion of Canada, may I express to you and, through you, to the British people our sincere sympathy and deep sorrow in the unparalleled disaster that has resulted in the destruction of the airship R 101, and the loss of so many valuable lives. The accident has not only deprived the Government of a distinguished and universally esteemed Minister, but the public service of those who, by their experience, technical skill, and scientific knowledge, were the leaders in the British Air Services."

Sir George Perley, the acting Prime Minister at Ottawa, has sent the following message to Mr. Bennett:—

"Members of the Canadian Government now in Canada, and the whole people of the Dominion, are much shocked by the terrible disaster to R 101, and wish to join with our Prime Minister in his expression of profound regret at the loss of so many brave men, who gave their lives in keen desire to develop air knowledge, and of heartfelt sympathy with the sorrowing relatives and friends."

The Minister of National Defence, who is also head of the Air Services in Canada, has cabled to the Air Ministry in London, expressing the deep sympathy of the Canadian Air Force in the loss of so many gallant officers and men, with particular reference to the death of Lord Thomson, who is remembered by many Canadians in connection with his tour of Canada two years ago as a member of the Inter-Imperial Parliamentary Association.

AUSTRALIA.

Mr. James Scullin, Prime Minister of Australia, has written to Mr. Ramsay Macdonald, conveying to him the sympathy of the Commonwealth Government and the people of Australia with the relatives of those who lost their lives.

VILLAGE OF MOURNING.

SHORTSTOWN NEAR CARDINGTON.

Shortstown, the village where the airship station is located, was yesterday suddenly turned into a place of mourning. Women, stunned by the terrible news, stood at street corners discussing the calamity in awed tones, while around them played little children, unaware of the awful fate that had overtaken their fathers.

Many of the inhabitants seemed incapable of believing that the "old 'bus," as they affectionately called R 101, would never return to her base. These women had cheered the great airship as she roared away into the darkness from Cardington on the previous night. Little did they think as they saw her lights disappearing that never again would her majestic shape appear in the sky. The crew had been one great family. Officers, men and distinguished air experts were all friends in this little community, which has owed its existence to the establishment of an airship base.

Death has cast its shadow over almost every street in the village, and in many cases there are in adjoining houses families mourning the loss of a dear one. There were many poignant scenes when the news first reached the village.

U.S. MARKETS.

STOCKS CLOSE STEADY

Reuter's Telegrams.
NEW YORK, Saturday.

Following an irregular opening, and in very dull trading, several issues advanced 1 to 2 points. The gains, however, were not maintained, bears taking advantage of week-end profit-taking to seek out soft spots. Pivotal shares were occasionally in moderate demand, but a long list of stocks finally sagged 1 to 2 points, while a few lost from 3 to 7 points. Although the extreme pessimism prevailing earlier in the week has largely vanished, business news was not of a character to inspire much bullishness. Reports from the steel industry failed to promise any resumption of the acceleration of output, which was checked a few days ago. A reduction of 50 cents per ton in steel scrap at Chicago, and a decline in lead prices were cheerless developments, although news from Radio Building Industries was a little more cheerful, the market closed heavy. United States Steel, Westinghouse Electric, Sears Roebuck, New York Central, American Telegraph and Telephone, and Allied Chemical lost 2 to 4 points, and Eastman Kodak fell 7. Government Bonds steady. Railroad Bonds steady. The day's sales totalled 898,000 shares.

BIRTH CONTROL.

"SCANDAL TO THE CHRISTIAN MIND."

Cardinal Bourne, preaching at St. Joseph's Church, Swansea, yesterday, asked for special prayers for the Imperial Conference. "There is another matter," he said, "to which I must refer. I do so very reluctantly, on account of its unpleasant nature; but I should fail in my duty were I to allow it to pass unnoticed, this being the first opportunity I have had of alluding to it. Some weeks ago there took place at Lambeth a large conference of Prelates of the Anglican Communion. Many resolutions were passed by them, and among these resolutions there was one, voted by a large majority, which condones, in certain circumstances, practices euphemistically described as birth control, which Christian tradition has consistently condemned as unnatural sin.

"I was abroad when this really destructive resolution was made public, and I know the intense surprise and real scandal to the Christian mind at home and abroad by this abandonment of unbroken traditional Christian teaching.

"It is recognised that prelates who adopted this resolution have abdicated any claim which they may have been thought to possess to be authorised exponents of Christian morality.

"WHOLLY MISLEADING."

"In order to justify their action they make appeal by reference, and not by quotation, to what they understand to be the teaching of the Catholic Church. It is difficult to grasp what they really mean; for the reference is vague and veiled. I can only suppose that some who are not trained theologians must have misread and misinterpreted some Catholic writers on moral theology, just as one not trained in law misunderstands a legal treatise. But the reference as it stands, and in the sense which it appears to bear, is quite inaccurate—I do not wish to use any stronger term—and wholly misleading.

"Lest, therefore, any be led astray by this resolution of the Lambeth Conference, and placed thereby in danger of committing grievous sin, I now reaffirm the teaching of the Catholic Church on this subject, binding on the conscience of every man and every woman. Any direct interference with the natural consequence of marital relations—namely, conception, whether within the marriage state or outside it—is an unnatural vice, sinning against the nature which the Creator has bestowed upon us, and therefore grievously displeasing in His sight."

FUNERAL OF LORD BIRKENHEAD.

A SIMPLE CEREMONY.

The funeral of the Earl of Birkenhead took place at Charlton-by-Newbottle, after service at the Church of St. James, Newbottle, on Saturday afternoon. The church could accommodate only about 200 people. Long before the Service began the unreserved portion of the building was occupied by labourers and other folk—some of whom had walked ten miles—from neighbouring villages. Many of the people who had come from outlying districts had to remain outside; so that there were two congregations—one within and the other without the church.

The coffin had been brought to the church on Friday evening, and had rested before the chancel throughout the night.

The Service was conducted by the Suffragan Bishop of Peterborough (Dr. Lang), who was assisted by the Rev. W. B. Bates, Vicar of Charlton. It was of the simplest character, and the only hymn was the late Earl's favourite one—"Lead, Kindly Light." Dr. W. H. Harris, of Christ Church, Oxford, an old friend of Lord Birkenhead, was at the organ. Among those present in the church, in addition to members of the family, were:—The ex-King of Greece, Sir Austin Chamberlain, Mr. Churchill, Sir L. Worthington-Evans, Sir John Simon, the Duke of Westminster, the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough, Lord Gage, Lady Desborough, Colonel John Buchan, Lord and Lady Dufferin, Major Sir John Seely, Lord Riddell, Commander Locker Lampson and Colonel Grant Morden.

The mourners included Viscount Furneaux (the new Earl), with his mother; Lady Eleanor and Lady Pamela Smith (daughters), Lady Harold Smith (sister-in-law), Colonel and Mrs. Claude Furneaux (brother-in-law and sister), Mr. Arthur Furneaux (brother-in-law). Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Thompson (brother-in-law and sister) and Miss Louise Smith (sister).

Behind the coffin walked the late Earl's favourite little terrier "Janie."

TO-DAY'S MEMORIAL SERVICE.

At the Memorial Service to the Earl of Birkenhead at Westminster Abbey to-day the Cabinet and ex-Cabinet Ministers will be fully represented. Viscount Hampden, Lord-in-Waiting, will represent the King. The Lord Mayor of London and the Mayor of Westminster will attend. Representatives will be present from Gray's Inn, the various law societies and other associations which have been closely connected with Lord Birkenhead's life. Although a Memorial Service is being held in Oxford, members of Merton College have intimated their intention of coming to Westminster.

COUNTY CORK.

MR. DE VALERA ON THE GLORY OF SACRIFICE.

From Our Reporter.
CORK, Sunday.

A cross to the memory of Donal O'Brien, who was executed at Victoria Barracks in May, 1921, was unveiled at Liscarroll, County Cork, by Mr. de Valera to-day in the presence of a large gathering. The memorial was erected from local subscriptions.

Mr. de Valera said that Donal O'Brien was one of the many young men who, in the full vigour of youth, gave all they had, so that Ireland might be free. That monument would be a reminder to them all that if they were to have an Ireland worth while they must, everyone of them, be prepared to make such sacrifices as might be necessary. The young people of the rising generation should have something to inspire them, and they should think that there was glory in giving one's life and blood for one's country. It was possible for them to live for Ireland, each in their own way, so that Ireland might become what Donal O'Brien and his comrades wished.

ULSTER'S LINEN INDUSTRY.

EFFORTS TO STIMULATE TRADE.

SPECIAL DISPLAYS IN ENGLAND.

FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.
BELFAST, Saturday.

The depression in the Belfast linen trade continues. There is a lack of orders for all classes of cloth, but particularly for coarse qualities in ordinary widths. With the approach of the Christmas season, some orders are being received for handkerchiefs and fancy linens, and until the end of November it is anticipated that there will be a good demand for this class of goods.

The Irish Linen Guild has made arrangements for special displays of linen goods in the shops in the West End of London during October, and also in some of the larger stores in provincial cities in England. It is hoped that this will lead to a greater demand for damask tablecloths and napkins, pillow cases, sheetings, and towels, and that the prominence given to linen generally will lead to inquiry for other classes of linen goods.

CHEAP RUSSIAN FLAX OFFER.

Recently flax has been offered at a cheap price to Belfast spinners from Russia and other quarters; but the demand for linen yarns is so poor at present that there is no desire to increase stocks of flax.

It has been calculated that the imports of linen goods into Great Britain from abroad, particularly from Continental centres, amounts to about £80,000 per month, and this is telling heavily against the capacity of the home market as a buying centre for Belfast linen. It is believed that most of this trade, amounting to nearly a million per annum, could be conserved for the Irish linen industry under a proper system of safeguarding.

Mr. Thomas Somerset, M.P. for North Belfast, speaking here last evening, referred to now the local linen manufacturers are handicapped in competition with Continental manufacturers.

WAGES BILL COMPARISON.

He said that the annual wages bill of a weaving factory with 650 looms at Belfast amounted to £36,444, with an additional sum of £1,200 for social services. In Belgium the wages bill of a factory of similar size was only £30,746, making a difference in this connection alone of about £7,000. Yet in face of this the Government of the country allowed the Belgian manufacturer to send his goods into this country free, enabling him to keep his looms working and his workers employed while Belfast linen workers walked the streets idle.

"Is that fair?" asked Mr. Somerset, who said that what they all wanted—employers and employés—was work, and more work, but the only thing the Socialist Government could offer was the "dole."

"My views on safeguarding are well known to you all," he said, "and it is a source of great satisfaction to me that this great subject, which was the principal plank of my election address eighteen months ago, has come to the front within the past few months."

THE EUCHARISTIC CONGRESS.

PROBLEM OF CATERING.

The survey of catering facilities for the Eucharistic Congress, to be held in Dublin in 1932, is still going ahead. Sufficient progress has been made to bring home to the Congress authorities the realisation of the inadequacy of existing catering units. Hotels and restaurants will be overtaxed by the pressure of business.

The only real solution lies in the establishment of temporary restaurants and in the extension of existing accommodation. It is hoped to arrange all catering on a coupon system, by which visitors staying in any temporary school, hostel, etc., will be fed at a convenient restaurant without rush or confusion.

The proposed system of temporary restaurants in halls and other public buildings can only be carried into execution with the co-operation of Irish caterers, or, failing their aid, with the help of caterers from abroad.

Given the necessary co-operation, the Congress Committee do not foresee any insurmountable difficulty. Every effort will be made to ensure smooth working of the scheme, and to provide against disproportionate stress being felt at some points while others suffer from lack of business. Catering firms who can see their way to take advantage of this rush of business should communicate at once with the Congress authorities.

FURTHER SUBSCRIPTIONS.

Among subscriptions to the Congress Fund received or promised during last week were the following:—£105 from Sisters of Mercy, Carysfort Park, Blackrock; £105 from Sisters of Charity, Milltown; Independent Newspapers, £250.

The subscription of £50 acknowledged as from Mr. John Leonard, Drumree, should have been acknowledged to Mr. John Leonard, Whitehall.

FIANNA FAIL MEETINGS.

MR. LEMASS AND EMPIRE FREE TRADE.

Mr. Sean Lemass, T.D., who was the principal speaker at a Fianna Fail meeting held in Killarney yesterday, said that the position of the farmers, particularly in counties like Kerry, would be so serious during the coming winter that some emergency measures would be necessary to stave off disaster. Irish agriculture could only be put on a paying basis when the home market, and not Britain, became its principal mainstay. There could be no doubt that some scheme for Empire free trade was being formulated at the Imperial Conference. Fianna Fail would vigorously oppose any proposal to limit their freedom to impose protective duties on British goods. There was no real advantage for them in Empire free trade.

CLOSING THE PORTS.

Addressing a Fianna Fail meeting at Ballinrobe yesterday, Mr. Sean T. O'Kelly, T.D., said that Fianna Fail's aims and ideals were as old as the hills of Mayo, and in that party lay Ireland's hope. Their policy of closing the ports against the dumping of the world's goods would mean a decent livelihood for double the present population. The country was well able to exist, independent of England or her Colonies. It was a question of management. They were satisfied that it was necessary to close the ports, and before advising the farmer to grow more, they wanted to ensure that there would be a price for it.

FOURTEEN PIT VICTIMS.

The body of the fourteenth victim of the pit accident at Grove Colliery, Brownhills, near Walsall, was recovered from the mine on Saturday.

It was that of John Whittaker (48), married, living at Field lane, Pelsall. An inquest on the victims of the accident will be opened at the colliery offices to-day. Ten of the victims, who lived at Brownhills, are to buried in one grave to-morrow.

TO THE ELECTORATE OF DUBLIN COUNTY BOROUGH.

We, the undersigned members of the Constitutional Group, desire to convey our thanks to the many thousands of Dublin citizens who by their votes and support secured our election to the new City Council. LABOUR'S NEW PROGRAMME.

MEETING AT MARYBOROUGH.

A well attended meeting under the auspices of the Irish Labour Party was held at Maryborough yesterday. Mr. T. Territt, County Councillor, Vice-Chairman, Queen's County Board of Health, presided.

Mr. W. O. Davin, T.D., said that the result of the Dublin County and City elections was a hopeful sign of the progress of the Labour movement throughout the country. The new programme of the Labour Party, which would shortly be announced, was based on the idea that those who ruled the State should provide a decent livelihood for all its citizens and a guaranteed minimum wage to the workers. The programme would put forward a great national housing scheme for the erection, over a stated period of years, of forty thousand houses, to be built with Irish raw materials, thus preventing millions of pounds going out of the country. They wanted to re-open the brickyards so long closed, to set up cement works and give employment at home, rather than in England, Belgium or elsewhere.

LOANS FOR FARMERS.

Unless they solved the problem of agricultural depression they could make little progress. The Labour Party proposed to assist the farmers by providing long-term loans at reasonable rates of interest on the security of their lands, as was done in Denmark, Belgium or other countries. It was time that the Irish banking system was scrapped and a system introduced which would place agriculture in its proper position as the greatest national asset they had. Labour proposed to assist the products they had at their doors by subsidies, if necessary, as in the case of Carlow Beet Factory. They proposed to keep out Chinese and American bacon, whether the people liked it or not. They would also see that the Irish bacon curers, who got a monopoly, would not be allowed to fleece the public.

He understood that a statement had been made by the agent of a certain party in Leix Offaly constituency that he (Mr. Davin), as a delegate to the inter-Parliamentary Union, had his expenses paid by the Government. He declared that if the man who made that statement produced evidence to prove it he would hand over the sum in question to the Fianna Fail Party.

THE DUBLIN ELECTIONS.

Mr. T. J. O'Connell, T.D., Chairman, Irish Labour Party, said that the results of the elections in Dublin did not indicate that there was anything in the nature of a landslide in favour of Fianna Fail, despite the statement of a prominent member of that organisation, that the composition of the new Dublin Council would be a reflex of the Dail after the next general election. Labour had been accused of having no nationality or national outlook. Labour believed in intensifying and increasing friendly relations with other countries. There was no reason why they should hate their neighbours across the water. Nothing was to be gained by cultivating a spirit of hatred, either at home or abroad. Labour was the only party that was truly national, as it did not stop at the boundary.

The objects of the new Labour programme would be to provide the ordinary necessaries of life, and the luxuries and social amenities necessary for the cultural development of the country. No Labour Government would stand for the reduction of the standard of living. They could better afford a higher standard of living here than in England.

Referring to the statements of Fianna Fail speakers on the need to reduce the Army and police forces, Mr. O'Connell asked what would be the policy of Fianna Fail, if in power, towards the Arms Act? Would they repeal or modify it, or allow anybody who wished to carry a revolver? While Fianna Fail talked about other things they carefully evaded these questions. If Labour were in power they would see that no man carried arms without authority, and they would use the sternest measures to see that the regulations were enforced, and that there was only one Army, and that that was subject to the control of the Government elected by the people.

GOVERNMENT CRITICISED.

Mr. D. Morrissey, T.D., said that the Government had been in office for eight years. For five years they had a majority of three to one, and they never attempted to improve social conditions in the country. Through the action of the Labour Party in the Dail in 1927, sixty-six thousand old-age pensioners and blind pensioners had got back what was taken from them in 1924. They forced the Government to provide a quarter million pounds to relieve unemployment, and prevented twelve thousand houses being taken from under the control of the Town Tenants Act.

DUBLIN FIRE.

PLAZA RESTAURANT DAMAGED.

At one o'clock this morning a fire was discovered at the rear of the Plaza Restaurant and Ballroom premises in Princes street, Dublin. When the Dublin Central Fire Brigade, under Captain Connolly, arrived, it was seen that the fire had gained a considerable hold and was blazing furiously inside on all three floors. The Buckingham street section was then summoned, and the work of controlling the fire began. The big fire escape was sent up, and a couple of lines of hose played into the upper portions of the burning buildings, while other lines of hose were concentrated on the lower floors.

Flames were seen issuing from the windows of the two upper floors at the rear of the ballroom and of the restaurant.

The work of the firemen was hampered by the narrowness of Princes street, in which heavy volumes of smoke gathered.

The searchlights of the fire engines lit up the back of the burning building faintly through the smoke and enabled the firemen to get on with their work. Three fire escapes were run up to the windows, and from these lines of hose were played inside.

Shortly after two o'clock an entrance was effected to the back entrance by the garage door. At this stage the upper portion of the building was unaffected.

INDIAN ROUND-TABLE CONFERENCE.

ARRIVAL OF HYDERABAD DELEGATION.

Sir Akbar Hydari, Minister of Finance, and the members of the Hyderabad delegation to the Indian Round Table Conference arrived in London on Saturday last. At Victoria Station they were met by Mr. O. Gruzelier, representing the Secretary of State for India.

Sir Akbar Hydari told a Press Association reporter: "We shall pull our weight on behalf of the Empire as a loyal ally of the Empire during the War. I hope that the Conference will be successful and produce good results."

A bouquet of yellow and crimson carnations was presented to Lady Hydari by Lord Headley, the Mohammedan peer, and Dr. Khalid Sheldrake, President of the Western Islamic Association, presented a basket of fruit to Sir Akbar.

Those present included Sir Frank Crawford, Sir Reginald Glancy, a member of the delegation; the Rajah of Wanaparti and Captain Leonard Munn.

This is the first time since the reign of George II. that a representative of the State of Hyderabad—the largest of the Indian States—has attended an official conference in England.

NEW COUNTY DOWN MAGISTRATES.

The Governor of NORTHERN IRELAND, on the recommendation of the Marquess of Londonderry, H.M.L. for County Down, has appointed the following new magistrates for the county:—Robert Ardis, A.M.I.E.E., Holywood; Robert J. Grainger, Holywood; Captain the Hon. Charles Henry George Mulholland, Ballywalter; William Frederick T. M'Mordie, Ballygowan; William James Stockdale, Ballynoe; Robert Thompson, Ballylesson.

THE LIMERICK SURCHARGES.

The Town Clerk (Mr. W. A. Nolan) has received a letter from the Free State Minister for Local Governmnt in regard to the recent surcharges of £1,400 on members of the LIMERICK Corporation, stating that the matter was one in which the Minister could not give a properly expressed opinion at present, prior to the consideration of the appeals of the persons surcharged. When submitted the appeals would have early consideration.

RETURNED FOR TRIAL.

An unusual prosecution was heard in the BELFAST Custody Court when Walter Hall, motor engineer, Great Patrick street, Belfast, was charged, on remand, with false pretences in connection with a number of apprenticeship fees alleged to have been received by him. It was stated in evidence that he received fees of £20 from apprentices to the engineering, but that he taught them nothing, and that they spent their days idling. He was returned for trial to the Recorder's Court, bail being granted.

FATAL FALL.

While a young man, Robert Montieth, of OMAGH, was engaged last Friday sawing branches off a tree beside his father's house one of the branches suddenly gave way, and he was precipitated to the ground, a distance of thirty feet. He was attended by Dr. Logan, who had him conveyed to the Tyrone County Hospital. It was found that his left arm was so severely lacerated that it had to be amputated, while he also sustained severe wounds to the left leg, head and face. He died on Saturday morning without regaining consciousness.

DOMINICAN CONVENT, BELFAST.

A new wing and chapel has been added to the Dominican Convent, Falls road, BELFAST, and yesterday the chapel was dedicated by Cardinal MacRory in the presence of a large congregation. The Cardinal was received at the convent entrance, the grounds of which were decorated with the Papal colours, by the Mother Prioress-General, the Mother Prioress and the community. A beautiful gold key of the chapel was presented to Cardinal MacRory by the architect, Mr. P. Gregory, M.R.I.A.I. A procession was then formed and passed through the cloisters to the sanctuary. The Most Rev. Dr. Mageean, bishop of the diocese, was attended by his chaplain, the Rev. D. Gogarty, the cross-bearer to the Cardinal being the Rev. Father McCarthy, Fortwilliam Park.

CLARE VOCATIONAL COMMITTEE.

At a special meeting of the CLARE County Council the following were appointed to act on the County Vocational Committee:—The Rev. Father Scanlon, Administrator, Kilnamona, to represent the clerical managers of schools; the Rev. P. J. Vaughan, to represent St. Flannan's College; the Rev. M. Crowe, C.C., Ennis, to represent convent schools; the Rev. Brother Flannery and the Rev. Brother O'Brien to represent the Christian Brothers' Schools; Mr. P. Ashe, national teacher, Doonbeg, the Gaelic League, and Mr. James F. Collins, national teacher, Lissycassey, independent candidate. The following were appointed to represent the County Council:—Messrs. T. Hannon, J. O'Dwyer, P. Burke, T. G. Burke, T. McGrath, P. Henchy, and F. Barrett, Chairman of the Council. The Commissioner administering the affairs of Ennis has appointed Mr. Sean O'Grady, County Councillor, and Mr. James O'Regan, Old Ground Hotel, to act on the Committee.

FATAL INJURIES.

James McKee (64), of 22 Frederick street, NEWTOWNARDS, was brought to the Royal Victoria Hospital, Belfast, early yesterday morning suffering from injuries received in Bangor on Saturday night, when he was knocked down by a motor car. He died in hospital later in the day.

POTEEN TRAFFIC IN DONEGAL.

When still-hunting on the mountain on the west ridge of GLENTOGHER, a mile from the main road, last Thursday, Guards O'Neill and M'Guirk, Carndonagh, found a barrel containing thirty gallons of wash, fully fermented for stilling, together with a cooler barrel, an empty four-gallon steel drum, and an empty two-gallon crockery jar. They were hidden underneath heather and shrubbery.

THE CARDINAL'S BELFAST VISIT.

A public reception to Cardinal MacRory will take place in BELFAST this afternoon, when he visits St. Peter's Church, Falls road. It will be the first public visit of the Cardinal to this part of the Diocese of Down and Connor since his elevation to the Cardinalate. Cardinal MacRory will be accompanied by a procession and bands down the Falls road. The district will be decorated, and arches of welcome will span the road.

ENNIS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of ENNIS Carnival Shopping Week a suggestion was made by Mr. P. J. Meghen, B.E., Commissioner administering the affairs of the urban district, that a Chamber of Commerce be established in the town. The suggestion was unanimously approved, and it was decided to convene a public meeting of traders to take immediate steps to put the suggestion into effect.

TEACHERS AND AN INQUIRY.

At a meeting of the BELFAST branch of the Irish National Teachers' Organisation consideration was given to the report of a discussion on corporal punishment at the recent meeting of the Belfast City Council, and the following resolution was adopted, and ordered to be forwarded to the Northern Ireland Ministry of Education:—"That, in view of the publicity which has been given to a case of alleged corporal punishment which has yet to be investigated by the Ministry of Education, we request the Ministry to take steps to ensure that the teacher's case is not in any way prejudiced by the remarks of certain members of the Belfast City Council at the meeting of that body on 1st inst."

COSTLY "JOY RIDE."

Austin Wallace (18), was fined £20, or, in default, three months' imprisonment, by Justice Flood at LIMERICK District Court for causing damage to the amount of £21 19s. 6d., to a motor car the property of Joseph Vincent Coogan, Mallow street, Limerick. Defendant took the car out of Mr. Coogan's garage during Mr. Coogan's absence. He took the car with a number of boys for a "joy-ride." The car skidded and mounted a ditch, and was put back in a damaged condition in the garage. The Justice said that defendant's action was that of a young blackguard. There was an amount of "joy-riding" which was most reprehensible and should be put down.

SHEEP DIPPING.

A large number of sheep owners was prosecuted at CASTLEDERG on Saturday for failing to produce declarations that sheep which they were selling at a recent Castlederg fair had been dipped. Sergeant Flanagan, Royal Ulster Constabulary, said that the defendants produced certificates from the sheep-dipping inspector that the sheep had been dipped, but that was not sufficient. He had distributed the declaration forms to sheep-owners, but they would not take the trouble to fill them up. Captain Gosselin, R.M., said that the defendants were clearly to blame, as the police had supplied them with everything required to make the declaration, and it only required a minute's work. When defendants would not obey they must pay. Imposing nominal penalties, Captain Gosselin, R.M., remarked that as sufficient warning now was given the penalties would be heavy in future.

AFTER TWENTY-TWO YEARS.

After twenty-two years of married life a woman sued her husband at DUNDALK District Court for maintenance, alleging that because of his drunken habits she and her four children had to live apart from him. The woman was Mrs. Ellen Brennan, of Donegall avenue, Belfast, and the defendant was Patrick Brennan, a farmer, residing near Dundalk. The defendant denied the allegations of cruelty, and stated that he had done his best to make the home all right. In all his life he had never beaten his wife, nor had he hit one of the children. He was quite prepared to take his wife back, and he had gone to Belfast three times to get her to change her mind. She had promised to return, but failed to do so. All he received out of the letting of his farm was £22 a year. District Justice Goff adjourned the case to enable the husband to make an offer of a weekly sum for the maintenance of the woman.

GERMAN OFFICERS' TREASON.

SENTENCES IN LEIPZIG TRIAL.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
LEIPZIG, Saturday.

The verdict in the high treason trial of the three artillery officers was pronounced this morning.

The accused men are each sentenced to eighteen months' detention in a fortress for "jointly preparing a highly treasonable enterprise."

Lieutenants Scheringer and Ludin are to be dismissed from the Army, and the six months and three weeks which the accused officers have served in prison pending their trial are to be considered as part of the full sentence. They have also to bear the costs of the trial.

Scheringer was acquitted of the charge of having transgressed the regulations of the military code by writing an article for the Hitler newspapers.

The Vorwarts reports that the Ministry of Defence is considering whether disciplinary action is to be taken against certain officers who gave evidence at the trial and clearly showed their sympathy for the aims of the Nationalist Socialist party under Hitler.

The pronouncement of the verdict was accompanied by tumultuous scenes outside the courthouse, where a crowd yelled in chorus so that the presiding judge's voice could sometimes not be heard above the din. Shouts of "Wake up, Germany," resounded from all parts of the square, and thousands of Swastika emblems, the badge of the National Socialists (Fascists), were thrown into the air by ardent members of that party. Finally, mounted and foot police had to use force, and drove the demonstrators into side streets, where the uproar was continued.

FLYING TO AUSTRALIA.

OFFICER'S LONG TRIP TO SEE PARENTS.

Flight-Lieutenant C. W. Hill, of Henlow Aerodrome, Bedfordshire, started from Lympne Aerodrome yesterday in a Moth machine for Australia. He is making the trip during his leave in order to see his parents, who live in Queensland, and by flying all day and sometimes at night he hopes to beat the time of fifteen days two hours taken by Captain Hinkler.

Lieutenant Hill started in fine, but dull, weather at 6 a.m., and was given a hearty send-off by the aerodrome staff.

With a brother officer, Lieutenant E. H. Jones, Flight-Lieutenant Hill figured in one of the most dramatic prison camp escapes of the war. To gain their freedom the two feigned madness for many weeks.

NORTHERN PREMIER BEREAVED.

The widow of Mr. Henry Coke Craig, of Cairndun, Strandtown, died last Friday, a month after her husband. It will be remembered that Mr. H. C. Craig, a brother of the Prime Minister of Northern Ireland, died on September 5 while spending a holiday at Harrogate.

Mrs. Mary Alexander Anderson Craig was the eldest daughter of the late Mr. Robert Ferguson, of Sydenham House, Strandtown, one of the founders of the well-known firm, Messrs. Robertson, Ledlie, Ferguson and Co., Ltd., of Belfast and Cork. She is survived by her son, Mr. Alan F. Craig.

GRADING OF BEEF.

HIGHER QUALITY SUPPLIES FOR LONDON.

COMPULSORY POWERS SUGGESTED.

The success of the grading and marking of beef in London, and its failure, owing to the opposition of certain sections of the trade, in Birmingham, are discussed in the report, issued on Saturday last, of the Inter-Departmental Committee, consisting of Lord Henry Cavendish Bentinck, Mr. George Dallas, M.P.; and Sir Archibald Sinclair, M.P., on the "Grading and Marking of Beef."

"All things considered," states the report, "it appears certain that the scheme has, as was anticipated, attracted to London a better average quality of beef. On the whole the demand for marked beef appears to be most noticeable in the East End of London. Many manual workers insist on having beef of high quality. The evidence given by the principal consumers' co-operative societies, who have given invaluable support to the scheme from the start, showed that co-operators are excellent customers for the best beef from British farms."

Since the commencement of the scheme Smithfield had absorbed larger quantities of Scotch and home-killed beef at slightly higher prices. Wholesalers had fed the market with supplies of steadily improving quality. In spite of heavier consignments, wholesale prices have remained more stable.

The Committee found that the quality of the demand was improving; supplies of marked beef were cleared first on the wholesale market; and the use of marked beef by clubs, hotels, and restaurants was increasing.

THE OPPOSITION.

"Several trade witnesses," it is stated, "considered that the opposition shown to the scheme in certain quarters was partly due to its having already reduced the possibility of substitution, and thus deprive dishonest traders of illicit profits.

"For all buyers who insist on seeing the mark on the meat, the National Mark scheme does afford complete protection. But, according to our evidence, it has certainly not stopped substitution in London and Birmingham. This is because many housewives do not look for the mark, and, therefore, have only themselves to thank if they are sold chilled beef for Scotch or home-killed beef."

The committee recommends the continuation of the scheme experimentally, both in London and Birmingham, until October 31st, 1931, and its extension experimentally for a year to Leeds, including Bradford, to Cardiff and Swansea in Wales, and to Edinburgh and Glasgow in Scotland.

It is further recommended that the cost of grading and marking should be a charge on public funds.

"While, under present circumstances, it would be impracticable to make grading and marking of beef compulsory in all slaughter houses throughout the country," says the report, "it would be quite feasible to introduce a compulsory scheme in any defined consuming area; as part of any compulsory scheme, provision should be made for the payment by traders for the grading services. Compulsion has been advocated by various representatives of trade interests."

BARRICADES IN BILBAO.

EXCHANGE OF SHOTS WITH GUARDS.

SEQUEL TO MONARCHIST MEETING.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
BILBAO, Sunday.

A monarchical meeting here to-day passed off quietly. The meeting was attended by only about 2,500 persons, although the stadium has a capacity for 5,000.

Most of the speakers belonged to the old Dictatorship camp, and a son of the late General Primo de Rivera was one of them. There were large forces of police and civil guards, ready in the event of disturbances.

After the meeting a crowd of strikers raided an armourer's shop and seized weapons and ammunition. Mounted civil guards charged the crowd, and the strikers threw up a barricade by overturning several motor-cars, behind which they faced the police.

Over two hundred shots were exchanged, and a number were wounded on both sides.

HOTELS BAN MONARCHISTS.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
MADRID, Sunday.

The strike at Bilbao, which was called by the Labour organisations to-day to thwart the big meeting of the National Monarchist Union, planned as a counter-blast to last Sunday's revolutionary meeting in Madrid, demonstrates the strong feeling that prevails against the entry into the field of the Monarchist Union, which is the political successor of the Patriotic Union created by General Primo de Rivera.

In addition to the complete stoppage of work in the streets and the closing of the cinmeas, theatres, etc., the leading hotels in the town refused to serve a banquet in honour of the speakers at the monarchist meeting.

DICTATORSHIP RUMOURS.

There has recently been talk here of a new Dictatorship, and it is stated that two colonels who made overtures to the General in command of a large garrison near Madrid were arrested and afterwards released.

Later.

It is rumoured here this evening that several persons were killed in the rioting which occurred in Bilbao to-day after the monarchist meeting.

Legal proceedings are being taken against the speakers at the great meeting of Republicans in the Madrid Bull Ring last Sunday. The Court of Appeal has appointed a special judge to hear the case.

CHARITY SERMON.

RELIEF OF THE SICK AND DESTITUTE POOR.

In the Church of the Star of the Sea, Sandymount, at 12 o'clock Mass yesterday, the Very Rev. T. V. Nolan, S.J., preached a charity sermon on behalf of the Sisters of Charity, Lakelands, Sandymount, who visited and relieved the sick and destitute poor.

He said that our corrupt tendencies, as well as worldy influences, tended to make us oblivious of everything except our own satisfaction and aggrandisement. If those who, through the Providence of God, enjoyed affluence were to put themselves into the position of one who, wasted with hunger and numbed with cold, went through the streets furtively asking passers-by for something to relieve his suffering, and if after a fruitless search they returned to a damp, cold kitchen of a tenement of our slums, and if they were fated to hear the cries of hungry children and beheld their wasted features, what, he asked, would they wish men should do to them in such circumstances?

They could rest assured that their generosity would not be misplaced or abused. The Sisters of Charity would administer the contributions they received, and they had intimate knowledge by their personal visitations to the houses of the poor and needy as to who were deserving cases. He appealed to them to enlarge their hearts, open their hands, and give to Christ their Lord.

Healthy Nerves

"I will take Sanatogen till my nerves are better"

THOUSANDS of people—as sceptical as you—have discovered that their decision: "I will give Sanatogen a fair trial," has changed their whole life.

Where formerly they felt worn and tired, they now enjoy radiant health and abundant energy. They are really and thoroughly healthy again, able to do a full day's work without feeling any fatigue.

Sanatogen revitalizes the whole cell life of your system and multiplies the number of red blood corpuscles. But its main strength lies in its remarkable influence on the nervous system. That is principally due to the phosphorus which is present in Sanatogen in the exact form in which it exists in the nerve cells. It is only from Sanatogen—an intricate chemical combination unique in the whole scientific world—that these delicate nerve-cells can fully absorb the energising phosphorus.

That's why that famous standard work: "The Elements of Pharmacy, Materia Medica and Therapeutics" says:

"In neurasthenia and neuralgic conditions, Sanatogen is clearly indicated"

The Irish Times.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1930.

IRELAND.

At a meeting of the North-east Dublin Executive of Cumann na nGaedheal on Saturday it was announced that Senator Alfred Byrne had been selected as the representative of the Constitutional Group for the Lord Mayoralty of Dublin.—(Page 13.)

According to the estimate of the British Registrar-General, the population of the Irish Free State decreased by six thousand during the year 1929, while the population of Northern Ireland remained stationary.—(Page 4.)

GREAT BRITAIN.

The funeral of the Earl of Birkenhead took place at Charlton on Saturday after Service at the Church of St. James, Newbottle.—(Page 8.)

ABROAD.

The airship R 101 was wrecked yesterday morning in Northern France with the loss of 46 lives. Lord Thomson, Sir Sefton Brancker and distinguished air officers were killed.—(Page 7.)

Martial law has been proclaimed in Brazil, which is in the throes of a revolutionary outbreak.—(Page 7.)

At the closing of the eleventh Assembly of the League of Nations on Saturday Lord Cecil hinted at his coming retirement.—(Page 8.)

The verdict in the high treason trial of the three artillery officers was pronounced at Leipzig on Saturday. The accused men are each sentenced to eighteen months' detention in a fortress for "jointly preparing a highly treasonable enterprise," and two were dismissed from the Army.—(Page 8.)

SPORTING.

At the Phœnix Park on Saturday Attala won the Terenure Plate, Sir Walter Raleigh the Tallaght Plate, Soliped the La Touche Plate, Wandering Minstrel the Tinode Plate, Snood the Templeogue Plate, and Follow Me the Tara Plate.—(Page 10.)

At Alexandra Park Valediction won the London Sprint Race.—(Page 10.)

FINANCIAL.

In Lombard street on Saturday loans over the week-end were finally offered under 1 per cent. The Discount market was active, with the three months' rate firm. The Bank sold £8,747 in bar gold and exported £10,000 in sovereigns.—(Page 12.)

The closing was heavy on the New York Stock Exchange on Saturday.—(Page 8.)

Toll for the Brave.

On Saturday evening the world's greatest airship began her flight from England to India. Within seven hours she lay, a blazing wreck, in Northern France, and only eight of her company of fifty-four men remained alive. The personal aspect of this most terrible of all disasters of the air claims our first attention. Perhaps, other airships will succeed R 101, but no human art can replace the brave and accomplished manhood which perished with her. Lord Thomson, the Minister for Air, is among the dead. He had been a good soldier; he brought a high enthusiasm to his duties at the Air Ministry, and his faith in the airship's future was apostolic. His dearest hopes were fixed in R 101, and we can believe that he would not have wished to survive her. Sir W. Sefton Brancker, a dauntless pioneer of civil aviation, is his comrade in death. Of the officers and men of science who planned the airship and commanded her flight all have shared her fate. Ireland will lament especially the loss of her gallant son, Flight-Lieutenant H. C. Irwin, the captain of the airship; that post was an effective tribute to his skill and character. All the men under his command—from navigator to fitter—were experts, and all, save eight, have made an equal sacrifice. Who could have guessed that R 101 was "built in the eclipse and rigged with curses dark?" She was the mightiest craft that ever took the skies; her construction embodied the latest feats of science; she burnt oil-fuel—a notable saving of weight—and meteorology had piled all its secrets into the mapping of her path to India. Yet, within a few minutes after she had flashed forth a confident message, she was destroyed. Of course, her loss will involve the strictest inquiry. For the moment her own wireless reports, the impressions of French eye-witnesses and the stories of survivors combine to suggest that, after a long struggle, at a low altitude, against heavy winds, a sudden gust drove her to earth, and that an explosion of hydrogen gas completed her doom.

The disaster must have an important bearing on Britain's air policy. Of the two main schools of thought in the Royal Air Force, one favours the airship for long-distance travel. The other champions the cheaper and swifter aeroplane, which, indeed, is equal to all existing demands for mail and fast passenger traffic. The present Government, influenced by Lord Thomson's zeal, has given consistent encouragement to the airship. It has spent millions on this development; mooring masts have been erected in three continents; the success of R 101's flight would have portended regular services to Canada, to India (via Egypt), and, at a later stage, to Australia. These projects are on the agenda of the Imperial Conference, but we may suppose that now the delegates will approach them with an altered mind. To-day's news furnishes grim support for the school which holds that airships are too costly, are unwieldy, are too much at the elements' mercy and expose too many lives to the risks of a single crash. The present year has taken a large levy of young life in the Royal Air Force, but the total loss through accidents to some forty aeroplanes is below yesterday's dreadful exaction. It may be found that the fate of R 101 has deferred by many years the day when airships will link the most distant Dominions to the mother country. Such considerations, however, are for to-morrow. Now, in this hour of "national calamity"—they are the King's words—our thoughts must be with those who mourn the gallant dead.

Hard Times.

The United States, in common with the nations of Europe, are looking forward to the winter with some concern. Except in Detroit, where the wizardry of Mr. Henry Ford has enabled a tentative hope of future work to be offered to some of the city's eighty thousand workless, the big towns are rotten with unemployment. According to the Special Correspondent of the Observer, the immediate problem confronting the officials of the Ford undertakings is to avoid foreclosure on the multitude of instalment-purchased homes while their insecure occupants are being taken into the factories. Other towns, lacking a Henry Ford, are in graver distress. So acute has the position become that the Governor of New York State proposes to accommodate the homeless in the militia armouries. In the meanwhile Mr. Hoover is doing what he may to maintain public confidence in the essential wealth of America. Addressing the bankers in convention at Cleveland, he admitted the economic crisis, but urged wholesale and retail buyers to abate nothing of their expenditure, presumably on the ground that work must be created at all hazards. Mr. Hoover referred to "the unparalleled machinery of production and distribution," but did not deem himself inconsistent when he attributed the cause of world depression to over-production.

The United States are suffering to-day as much from over-production as from anything else. Indeed, this evil exists everywhere. The truth is, of course, that production has outrun temporarily the power of the world to absorb it, and thus salvation lies in immediate retrenchment. We understand that the United States are making a small effort in this direction, and that a cut of £17,000,000 will be made in Government expenses in the next Budget. Since, however, a fall of £30,000,000 in the revenue has been announced, this economy does not appear impressive. Germany, alone among the nations, is making a whole-hearted effort to grapple with the difficulty. The Brüning Cabinet, in a preamble introducing its "economic and financial plan," strikes bravely at the root of the problem. The preamble states frankly that "the support of the unemployed is only an emergency measure," and that "the revenue and expenditure of the unemployment insurance system" will be balanced without recourse to the Budget. Moreover, no attempt will be made to spend money that does not exist. A drastic reduction in the salaries of officials, including that of President Hindenburg, will be of value both as an example and as a needful economy.

Britain as yet has shown few signs that she proposes to economise. Her Labour Government would prefer to face bankruptcy rather than to face the constituencies with the admission that industry no longer can afford to carry the workless upon its back. We doubt if a Conservative Government would develop the necessary courage; yet every day that the decision is postponed must aggravate the unpleasantness of its ultimate appearance. It may be argued that Britain's condition is different from that of the United States. While the American Republic is richer in untapped resources, her fiscal structure, both actually and psychologically, is far more artificial than the British. Hire-purchase in Britain is not yet a universal habit, and her stock markets do not rely so heavily as Wall street relies on marginal credits. Nevertheless, Britain has small cause for congratulation where her industries and financial affairs are concerned. While much may be hoped legitimately from the deliberations of the Imperial Conference, no return to real prosperity can be made until British statesmen are prepared to educate the people on certain essential facts. It is not enough to save money on service votes if the money thereby saved is to be squandered on the unproductive. While new markets are being found—or, rather, while old markets are being rehabilitated—strict economy must be Britain's watchword.

The Population of Britain.

Throughout England and Wales the estimated population during 1929 increased by 125,000, or 1.32 per cent., above the figures for 1928, but it seems reasonably clear that this result is due to immigration from other countries—notably Scotland and the Irish Free State. In these two countries the decline in population was small, but noticeable. Scotland lost during the year 9,000, or .18 per cent., of her people, and the Free State figures decreased by 6,000, or .20 per cent., while Northern Ireland's population remained static. Throughout the islands there was a general rise of 110,000, or .23 per cent. since 1928, but its causes are not such as to inspire hope. Unfortunately, the British review does not provide the birth-rate figures for Ireland, so that a careful calculation of the year's tendency cannot be made; but the figures quoted for England and Wales show that the post-war decline continues. The births registered in 1929 numbered 643,673—a figure which is equivalent to a rate of 1.63 per cent. of the population, and shows a decline of .4 per cent. from the 1928 record. A comparison of these statistics with the marriage rate for 1929, which reached a higher level than it had attained since 1921, provides a significant commentary on the paradox of modern conditions. Next year the decennial census of Great Britain will be taken. It will be interesting to compare its conclusions with those derived from the 1926 survey in the Free State. England's problem at the moment is the more acute, but a decline in population would be fraught with far more danger to Ireland than to the crowded sister country.

Cheaper Fiction.

Those who have battened from boyhood on the sound meat of the classics, ancient and modern, must have wondered from time to time at the vast mass of fiction that is poured from the world's presses during these latter days. Here and there amidst this colossal output a work of real genius shines conspicuously, but the great majority of modern novels neither possess value in critical eyes nor contrive to catch the popular fancy. How do these third-raters find a publisher, and why, above all, must every one of them appear at a standard price of 7s. 6d.—a sum for which, in these days of cheap reprints, one can procure three volumes of the immortals? Admittedly, they do not profit the publishers, who, nevertheless, through the stress of competition, are compelled to continue the publication of undistinguished volumes in the hope that one will prove a "best-seller" and will compensate for the losses sustained on the rest. An English company now proposes to issue new and carefully chosen novels at the price of three shillings. The promoter maintains that his action not only will be more lucrative than the present system, but will cause a general reduction in the price of novels within a short time. Our blessings are on the venture, and we do not doubt that the higher ranks of novelists will afford it an equally enthusiastic welcome. Even at three shillings, however, much modern fiction is grossly dear.

LONDON LETTER

R 101.

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON,
SUNDAY NIGHT.

A rumour that something terrible had happened to the R 101 spread through London quite early this morning, and, in the absence of the usual morning papers, there was much anxiety to know whether the story was true. It was not until nearly church-time that the special editions of the Sunday papers reached the suburbs and the awful details of the most serious aerial disaster yet recorded became generally known. They created a very great impression; for it was apparent that many important men had gone to their deaths in the service of their country. Lord Thomson, the Minister of Air, always has shown a marked devotion to the work of his Ministry and never has feared to take the chances which his subordinates were asked to take. The loss of Sir Sefton Brancker is a heavy blow to the cause of civil aviation, since he has been its inspiration and its support for a long time.

Mr. Macdonald's Difficulties.

The death of Lord Thomson will add another anxiety to the worries of the Prime Minister; for he must find a good man to succeed to the Air Ministry, and the task will not be easy at the moment. Mr. Ramsay Macdonald is faithful to his friends, and the blow will be a very heavy one to him personally, apart from the fact that it may interfere with his intention to attend the Labour Party Conference at Llandudno, where he has undertaken to speak. The general defence of the Government against the attacks which will be launched against it by the extremists will be in the hands of Mr. Arthur Henderson, who is respected by all sections of the party. I understand that the Cabinet is very anxious about the outcome of the discussions on the unemployment question; for it is feared that the Conference may come to an almost unanimous decision that the Government ought to secure greater powers than it possesses at present to deal with the case of the workless.

The Conservative Programme.

Mr. Baldwin will meet his principal colleagues in council on Tuesday next, when it is expected that there will be much discussion about the Conservative Party's future policy and about the convocation of a meeting of the party within the next few weeks—certainly before the State opening of Parliament. In regard to policy, it is known that Mr. Baldwin is determined to make no great attack on the Government during the sittings of the Imperial Conference and the India Round Table Conference, but that he will wait until the spring, when gloves will be taken off in the House of Commons and the country. The party meeting is likely to see some interesting developments; for, as I have mentioned already, it is likely that the Conservative leader will announce the changes to be made in the party programme. These have been the subject of grave deliberations before submission to the meeting, but they show, it is said, a very distinct advance on the "safety first" idea, while the referendum is likely to disappear for ever—particularly as a preliminary to the imposition of taxes. Whether Mr. Baldwin will go far enough to meet the views of the leaders of the Empire Free Trade Party is very doubtful, but he certainly will satisfy the demands of many of their followers.

An Unjustified Rumour.

A chance remark by Lord Cecil of Chelwood about the improbability of his attendance at the next meetings of the League of Nations at Geneva created quite a flutter in diplomatic circles, where the conclusion was drawn that he was giving up the work which he has performed so brilliantly for years. It appears that Lord Cecil simply was referring to the possibility that the Labour Government might be out of office when the next meetings of the League took place; for he mentioned that it was a minority Government, dependent upon the good-will of the Liberals.

A Royal Betrothal.

The King of Bulgaria for years has been suggested as a possible husband for a daughter of the King of Italy. At last the match has been arranged by Signor Mussolini, and the choice has fallen upon Princess Giovanna, who is said to be very sprightly and pretty. King Boris often has been described as the loneliest King in Europe—quite possibly, because he is unmarried—but, in any event, he is one of the most cultured; for he speaks many languages with great facility and is extremely well read. He is a great French scholar, a keen ornithologist and a very fine entomologist. His scientific pursuits attract him to his country homes, though he has a charming palace in Sofia. The King, as monarchs go, is not rich, though his father, King Ferdinand, who abdicated after the War, was formerly one of the richest Princes of Europe, and even now must be very wealthy.

Empire Day.

A memorial tablet to the late Earl of Meath, founder of Empire Day, will be unveiled by his son, the present Earl, in Christ Church, Ottershaw, Surrey, next Saturday. It has been presented by the Empire Day Movement Committee of the Royal Empire Society, which was known formerly as the Royal Colonial Institute, and will be unveiled by the Bishop of Guildford. Few men have worked more earnestly in the cause of a movement, few have met with such success, and few have had their efforts so generally recognised as the late Earl of Meath. He gave a great part of his life to the promotion of the Empire Day movement, and the lament played last May at the great demonstration in Hyde Park was a public tribute to his patriotism and persistence.

Music and Controversy.

When the excitement engendered by the controversy between Sir Hamilton Harty and the British Broadcasting Corporation has died down it will be the British public who will give the casting vote, and its verdict will be decided by results. The fact that the Hallé Orchestra and the B.B.C. Orchestra both will give a series of symphony concerts in the Queen's Hall this winter will arouse keen interest in the merits of the two institutions. Only two out of the hundred Hallé players have been tempted to leave their Northern fastness for the delights of London and the B.B.C., and the new tuba player, once a tram-guard, is an exceptionally fine player of his instrument. Sir Hamilton Harty and his Hallé musicians will be on their mettle more than ever, and as his programmes are distinguished for their catholicity of choice, the first concert, in which Berlioz's remarkable "Messe des Morts" is the principal feature, will be awaited with unusual interest.

Dr. Sthamer's Opinion.

On account of his intimate knowledge of German affairs and his disinterested judgment in regard to party politics, the opinion of Dr. Sthamer, the retiring German Ambassador in London, must have special weight. Before he sailed from Southampton for Hamburg he expressed himself unperturbed about the situation in Germany that has followed the recent elections, and added that he was sure that there was no reason to expect any alteration in the Government's policy. Any change in Germany would be more economic than political, and no apprehension need be felt.

If you have tried Food after Food without success—

let Hush-a-Bye come to the Rescue

IT'S a heartbreaking time when a bottle-fed baby cannot digest his food. One food after another is tried without success. Nothing seems to agree. It's in such cases that Hush-a-Bye proves its true worth and comes to the rescue of a literally starving baby.

Hush-a-Bye Milk is rich full cream cow's milk (which is acknowledged by doctors to be the best substitute for mother's milk). Nothing is taken from it but some of the water, and nothing is added but the correct proportion of highly refined sugar which supplies the carbohydrates required by all infants. Hush-a-Bye contains all the food elements found in rich pasteurised Grade A Milk. But here is the important difference:

Hush-a-Bye is much easier to digest than ordinary cow's milk. It forms soft fine curds—just like mother's milk. That means Hush-a-Bye can be thoroughly digested—easily assimilated. All the precious elements it contains go to nourish the baby—to build him into a strong sturdy child.

Hush-a-Bye, too, is as safe as if there were never a germ of disease in the world. And it is always of the same unvarying quality which guards against upset in baby's digestion.

If your baby is not thriving on his present food we urge you to put him on Hush-a-Bye Milk. You will notice a big improvement even after the first day

IRISH COMMERCIAL TRAVELLERS

The committee of the Irish Commercial Travellers' Association, at their monthly meeting on Saturday, unanimously elected, subject to his acceptance, Mr. Michael O'Dea (a Vice-President and former Chairman) as President of the Association. It was stated at the meeting that the sum of £10,300 was expended by the Association in benevolent grants during the past fourteen years to widows and orphans of commercial travellers and necessitous persons of that vocation.

The liabilities of DERRY Rural Council in respect of road expenditure for the current financial year amount to £15,541, this figure being £42 over the limit.

GOSSIP FROM THE COURSE.

THE "DOPE" CONTROVERSY

BIG DEMAND FOR YEARLINGS BY HIGHBORN II.

THE AUTUMN HANDICAPS.

From Our Travelling Correspondent.
LONDON, Sunday Night.

The week-end has brought signs of a return to sanity on the great dope controversy which has been raging ever since Monday last, when the notification was issued from the registry office that another trainer had been warned off for the administration of a drug to a horse.

It is possible that there may be another case or two arising out of the specimens of the saliva of a number of horses that have been taken recently, but to all intents and purposes we have heard the last of doping for a long time to come. The trainers who have been in the habit of using dope regularly—it should be stated that their number was strictly limited—are not in the least likely to go on with the practice.

A STEWARD'S VIEW.

There is one point, however, arising out of it all on which some trainers seem a little puzzled. They ask whether the administration of the ordinary tonics that are given in so many stables to horses who are not doing well can come under the heading of dope. Most of these tonics contain arsenic, and they would like to be assured that arsenic is not considered by the Stewards to be a dope.

So many owners and trainers took the matter seriously that I asked the opinion of a Steward of the Jockey Club on this point, and he said that he for one would never imagine for a moment that a tonic which contained a minute quantity or arsenic, given for its legitimate purpose, could be considered a dope. That view, he thought, was concurred in by his fellow-stewards: so trainers can set their minds at ease on this point.

There is another point that has been raised. Trainers asked why when a swab of the saliva of one of their horses is taken and forwarded for examination another cannot be taken and handed to their own veterinary surgeon for separate examination. This is the custom which, I believe, prevails in France. The procedure in England is that when a swab is officially taken, either by the Jockey Club's own veterinary surgeon or, away from Newmarket, the veterinary surgeon to the meeting, it is placed in a sealed jar, labelled and forwarded to the registry office.

BENEFIT OF THE DOUBT.

Messrs. Weatherby then send it to a pathological laboratory for analysis, and the assistant there has not the remotest idea whether it is a specimen of the salivia, say of the Derby winner, or that of one of the dray horses of the North-Eastern Railway. He only knows it as "Abyx 3," or some such designation, and he makes his dispassionate report on what the tests tell him.

There would be no certainty that the other swab was examined quite so independently. I have heard, though I cannot vouch for the statement, that in France there are frequently differences of opinion between those who examine a specimen for the authorities and those who examine for the trainer concerned, and that in such cases the trainer is given the benefit of the doubt.

I can see no great objection to the system which our own Jockey Club has been pursuing lately. It is not a question diagnosis on which the greatest physicians and surgeons and veterinary surgeons can, and do, differ. It is a question of fact. The ordinary tests reveal that there is in a swab cocaine, caffeine, herein or some other such substance, or that there is not. In consequence of the methods used and the precautions taken there can be no question of any interference with the official swab from the time it is taken from the horse's mouth and the time that it reaches the laboratory in which it is examined.

LAST WEEK'S SALES.

The yearling sales at Newmarket last week were very much as people expected—no better and no worse. Prices generally approximated to those of Doncaster. The highest price given was 2,100 guineas for a colt by Diomedes, and the next highest price was 1,700 guineas for a colt sent up by Mrs. Purcell Gilpin and M. de St. Alary. He is by Highborn II. from a mare who goes back to Mitlene, the dam of Greek Bachelor, and is a very fine colt. I have rarely seen a better mover, and I am sure Captain Boyd-Rochfort got a bargain in him.

Mr. Peter Fitzgerald received 1,500 guineas for a filly by the same sire, also a most attractive animal. I was particularly interested in seeing these Highborn yearlings because I was always confident that this fine-looking horse, who is of the male line of St. Simon, would one day make a great stallion. He was a brilliant racehorse when Sir Hugo Cunliffe-Owen bought him after he had come from France to beat Diomedes at Ascot, and he was further a magnificant animal, with very strongly-marked masculine qualities all over him. I hear of several other good Highborn yearlings to go into training, and a saw a splendid one the other day at the stud farm of Mr. Falcon, near Newmarket. Mr. D. O'M. Leahy has a filly by Highborn coming up at the sales next week.

MORE DISPOSALS.

There are rather more horses in training than usual coming up for sale in Cesarewitch week. Mrs. Chester Beatty, who is going to race more in Egypt, is reducing her Newmarket establishment, and is also sending up eleven yearlings. Sir John Buchanan-Jardine is selling his horses in training, but for the most part the drafts from the big stables are no larger than usual, except that from Mr. J. B. Joel's place. Indeed, the remarkable thing about the Foxhill draft is that it is not larger, but then Mr. Joel was ever an optimist. Considering how bad things are at present, it is most refreshing to see how few owners have been influenced by the surprise gesture of Lord Derby. By the way, the first of Lord Derby's draft sold in pursuance of his policy of reducing the size of his stable realised, for the most part, poor prices. Two yearlings by Pharos made between them 37 guineas.

There is very little fresh to communicate about the Cesarewitch. The most notable feature of last week was the support for two candidates—Friendship, who has been backed down to 6 to 1, and Show Girl, about whom little more than 10 to 1 can be obtained. There was a great deal of money placed last week for Lady Ludlow's filly, and she is certainly giving every satisfaction in her work. Her trainer hopes for firm going on the day, for, like most of the offspring of Son-in-Law, she is likely to do better on firm than on soft going.

BROWN JACK AND SHOW GIRL.

Brown Jack we are likely to see out in the Nottingham Handicap to-morrow, where he will be opposed by other Cesarewitch candidates like Richborough, Eagle's Pride and Buoyant Bachelor. These he should be able to beat. Brown Jack and Show Girl are the two Cesarewitch candidates I like best, and a final choice between them, if both go on well to the day of the race, will depend on the probable state of the going.

The Cambridgeshire remains as obscure as ever, but the race for the Duke of York Handicap at empton on Saturday will be helpful. I believe that Athford runs for this. We have not seen him since he ran in the Ascot Gold Cup. He is a winner of the Jubilee on this course, and horses who once do well at Kempton generally do so again. On the other hand, he has shown no form this year. Other Cambridgeshire horses likely to be in the field are Artist's Proof (8st. 3lb.), a very occasional visitor to racecourses, but on his one race this season only 3lb. behind Empire Builder; the good French three-year-old, Potiphar II., Argonaute, the penalised Tullycross, and Lord Bill. It should, therefore, be an informative race.

DULL RACING.

I found racing at Alexandra Park yesterday dull. The first of the selling races was won by Whitsbury, a four-year-old, by Swynford out of Bayora, bred by Mrs. Bailey in County Limerick, and the other, a two-year-old affair, fell to Miss Putt, by Papyrus out of Miss Tut Tut, bred in County Dublin by Captain Daly. In the October Nursery 7 to 4 was taken about Go On, from the stable of Mr. J. M. Bell, but he failed to stay, and was beaten out of a place behind the three 20 to 1 chances, Lis, Spooner and Silvador, the first-named of which won by three lengths from Spooner, for Mr. J. M. Misa.

The principal race of the day, the London Sprint Handicap, fell to Mr. Ronald Tree, the joint Master of the Pytchley, with Valediction, a useful Gay Crusader filly when she is in the mood. She was yesterday, and, starting at 100 to 8, she upset half a dozen more fancied candidates when she won three lengths from Thunder Squall. Tyltyl was an easy three lengths' winner of the Apprentices' Plate, and the useful Auction Pool, owned by Mr. Rundle Brendon, won the Tottenham Plate by a length and a half from the more fancied Nestorian.

SELECTIONS.

I will not oppose BROWN JACK in the Nottingham Handicap to-morrow. The Bestwood Park Nursery may be won by MARJOLAINE, while in the Rufford Abbey Plate another chance may be given to Trews.

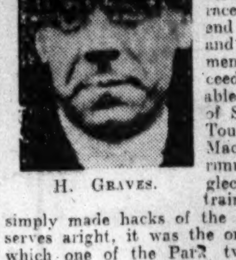
PHOENIX PARK.

FIFTY TO ONE WINNER.

SOLIPED'S GREAT FEAT.

"TOTE" INCIDENTS.



H. GRAVES.

Yet another afternoon's racing was spoiled by rain on Saturday. A capital programme had been arranged for the final meeting of the season at the Phoenix Park, and the racing came well up to expectations, but the downpour which set in just prior to the opening race continued to the end of the afternoon, and took all enjoyment from the proceedings. A remarkable score was that of Soliped in the La Touche Plate. Mrs. Mackean's gelding, running as the neglected of the Heath-trained three runners, simply made hacks of the field. If memory serves aright, it was the only occasion upon which one of the Park two-year-old races was won by a horse carrying such a heavy impost as 10st. 1lb.

Manana and Tyrant's Queen, the other two from Colonel Blake's stable, were the best backed of the nine runners, and as a result the Tote returned a somewhat freakish dividend. Soliped was a 50 to 1 chance with the bookmakers, and there was a mild sensation when the Tote dividend was announced as two shillings, or otherwise a return of stake money. The explanation, of course, was that backers of Soliped with the machine were supporting three horses from the stable, and backers of Tyrant's Queen and Manana, though these horses did not win, got their money back. Soliped had only run once previously, when he won the Anglesey Stakes at the Curragh last month, but as he beat nothing of any great class on that occasion little was thought of the achievement. That he is a really good horse was proved by the ease with which he carried his big burden to victory in the deep going on Saturday, and as he stayed the full Anglesey distance at the Curragh he may well turn out to be one of the best of the progeny of Soldennis. Mrs. Mackean may well be described as a lucky owner, since she owns such horses as Soliped, Salisbury and Sol de Terre. The unlucky Glass Gift again finished second, but no excuse could be made for her defeat on this occasion.

Sir Walter Raleigh was not a runner for the La Touche Plate, his owner preferring to let him take his chance in the Tallaght Plate, in which the opposition was not so strong. Just as Soliped won the other race, so did Sir Walter Raleigh canter home an easy winner from a big field.

A LUCKY PURCHASE.

Attala has proved a lucky purchase for Mrs. Darby Rogers, for whom she won a steeplechase at Limerick recently, and now she made hacks of the five runners opposing her in the Terenure Plate. This was an amateur riders' race, but jockeys were allowed to ride by putting up 3lb. extra. J. Cullen, who rode Attala, was always going easier than Sir Ernest Goff or Knockenarrigan, and he had only to rouse his mount to induce him to go out and beat Mr. Ashe's horse.

Striped Sleeves and Wandering Minstrel, first and second in the five furlongs sprint at Baldoyle, were amongst the eleven runners for the Tinode Plate, but now Striped Sleeves was at a disadvantage of 10lb. in the weights, and the altered conditions enabled Wandering Minstrel to completely reverse the previous placings. Striped Sleeves, in fact, never appeared with a winning chance, and Wandering Minstrel scored a very easy win from Kirkcormac and Sailing Bird. Snood made amends for a recent failure by winning the Templeogue Plate and thus completed a double event for the Heath stable. She was ridden by the English jockey, H. Graves, who crossed over to ride Tyrant's Queen, and the other horse of the stable.

TOTE'S BIG DIVIDEND.

Follow Me registered his third success off the reel by winning the Tara Nursery Plate from a big field of runners, and over this race backers on the tote had a big pull over those who wagered with the bookmakers. The winner's starting price was 4 to 1, and the tote dividend was 63s. 6d., or odds at the rate of over 30 to 1. Details:—

3.0—TERENURE HANDICAP of 100 sovs. Second 10 sovs., third 5 sovs. 1m. 7f. 160yds.
Mrs. Darby Rogers' br. m. ATTALA, by Frontino—Attal, a, 10-10 .... T. Cullen 1

Betting—2 to 1 each agst. SIR WALTER RALEIGH and Boy, 6 to 1 Bachelor's Defence, 8 to 1 each Speeding Princess and Prince Pat, 10 to 1 Frantic, 50 to 1 any other.

Tote (2/- stake)—Win, 5/6; places, 3/-, 4/6, 3/6. Pool totals—Win, 865; places, 1,063.

Prodigy threw his rider before the start and took no part in the running. Sir Walter Raleigh showed in front of Speeding Princess, Bachelor's Defence and Tail-end, with Prince Pat next. Close home Speeding Princess and Bachelor's Defence were at the head of the others, but Sir Walter Raleigh, leading all the way, won easily by five lengths; three parts of a length. Prince Pat was fourth, Septimus fifth, Boy sixth, Frantic seventh, Runaway Jack eighth, Cravat ninth, Provocation tenth, Hotsy Totsy eleventh. Time—68 2-5 secs.

4.0—THE LA TOUCHE PLATE of 200 sovs., of which the second received 30 sovs., and the third 20 sovs. For two-year-olds. 5 f.

(Winner trained by Colonel Blake.)

Betting—5 to 4 agst. Manana, 3 to 1 Tyrant's Queen, 5 to 1 Swilly Rock, 6 to 1 each Glass Gift and Order Mark, 50 to 1 SOLIPED, 100 to 1 Royal Arms or any other.

Tote (2/- stake)—Win, 2/-; places, 9/-, 5/-, 34/6. Pool totals—Win, 1,336; places, 874.

Soliped and Glass Gift were in advance of Swilly Rock, Order Mark and Tyrant's Queen, with Royal Arms and Manana next. Nearing home Soliped drew clear of Glass Gift and Royal Arms to win by four lengths; three parts of a length. Manana was fourth, Swilly Rock fifth and Order Mark sixth. Time—69 2-5 secs.

4.30—TINODE HANDICAP of 100 sovs. Second 10 sovs., third 5 sovs. 5 f.
Mr. F. More O'Ferrall's b. g. WANDERING MINSTREL, by Evicted—Lute, 3, 8-0 M. Prendergast 1

Mr. H. G. Gregson's Sly Abbot, 3, 7-2 J. Conlon 0
Captain Bloomfield's Fantail, 5, 7-2 (car. 7-4) J. Whitehead 0

(Winner trained by R. More O'Ferrall.)

Betting—4 to 1 agst. De Courcy, 5 to 1 each WANDERING MINSTREL and Kirkcormac, 6 to 1 each Flashing Dawn and Tremolio, 7 to 1 Striped Sleeves, 8 to 1 Sly Abbot, 10 to 1 each Sailing Bird and Fantail, 50 to 1 each Double Date and The Whooper.

Tote (2/- stake)—Win, 10/6; places, 4/-, 3/-, 7/-. Pool totals—Win, 771; places, 895.

Wandering Minstrel made the running from De Courcy, Kirkcormac and Striped Sleeves, with Sailing Bird and Sly Abbot next. Close home Kirkcormac improved his position, but could not make any impression on Wandering Minstrel, who won by four lengths; two and a half lengths. De Courcy was fourth, Sly Abbot fifth, Flashing Dawn sixth and Striped Sleeves seventh.

5.0—TEMPLEOGUE PLATE of 100 sovs. Second 10 sovs., third 5 sovs. For horses that have not won a race value 60 sovs. 1 m. 2 f. 50 yds.

NOTTINGHAM TO-DAY:

PROBABLE STARTERS AND BETTING.

RICHBOROUGH FANCIED.

MISTY CLOUD BEST FOR BESTWOOD.

Another of the so-called Cesarewitch trials comes up for decision at Nottingham to-day. Brown Jack, winner of the Nottingham Handicap last year, takes his chance again. He has 2lb. more to carry now, but has probably improved more than that, and, being a genuine old horse who always runs his races out, must be given a big chance. Old Orkney is given a better chance with Brown Jack than he was at Ascot, but it is not improbable that his trainer will saddle Orange Tip, who is in receipt of such a lot of weight that he may not be so outclassed as would appear. Synot is another from the same stable, but this one may again be waiting for the Cesarewitch. Buoyant Bachelor gets this distance all right, and I think he may be excused his Doncaster running.

I prefer Boss of the Show to Rois des Aulnes, but Arctic Light will probably beat both of them. Persevere has a chance, but I am taking Dunlavin Lass and Synot as the best of the light weights. In Richborough, however, I fancy they will all find one too good for them. Lord Derby's gelding was quite unsuited to the distance of his last race, and is sure to do better here. Brown Jack and Buoyant Bachelor represent obvious dangers, but I shall take a chance with Richborough.

In the Bestwood Nursery Flori gelding will not be disgraced, but I have more liking for the consistent White Slave, while Backward Glance is reckoned to be fairly useful by his trainer. Flying Friar and Multorb are recent winners, and Monzie, Damerham and Joy For Ever are others with some sort of form; but I am satisfied to vote for Misty Cloud, and only in the latter's absence would I rely on Ameer.

The A.J.C. Derby.

The Australian Jockey Club Derby was run at Sydney on Saturday, and resulted in a win for Tregilla (10/1), who beat Veilmond (9/4) by a head, with Balloon King (8/1) four lengths away, third. There were fourteen runners. The time for the mile and a half was 2 mins. 33 1-4 secs.

S. Donoghue's Recovery.

S. Donoghue left London for Le Touquet on Saturday. He can get about freely with the aid of a stick, and will be back at the end of next week. He expects to resume riding in two or three weeks' time.

Irish Challenge for the Cesarewitch.

The Irish candidate for the English Cesarewitch, Pucka Ranee, had a striding pace gallop at the Curragh on Saturday, with her stable companion, Pucka Shikari. The latter was ridden by Joe Canty, and Pucka Ranee by the apprentice, J. Conlon, who will have the mount at Newmarket. The distance of the gallop was two-and-a-half miles, and the mare comported herself splendidly.

Conyngham Club Committee.

Mr. R. J. Duggan has been appointed a member of the Conyngham Club Committee, the other members of which are Mr. J. J. Maher, Chairman; Captain C. M. Harding, Sir Walter Nugent, Mr. J. W. Murland, Right Hon. T. K. Laidlaw and Mr. D. O'M. Leahy. Mr. W. Chas. Chillingworth, F.J.I., acts as secretary. The Committee carry out similar duties in Ireland to those of Tattersall's Committee in England.

Sold to Go Abroad.

Mr. H. S. Gray's Wounded Prince has been sold to go abroad, and has left P. Behan's stables, Mountjoy Lodge, the Curragh, for his new destination.

THE SOCIETIES' GOOD WORK.

BUILDING TRADES AT HERMITAGE.

A SUCCESSFUL YEAR.

Mr. John Good, T.D., paid a warm tribute o the Dublin Golfing Societies when, proposng "The Visitors" at the dinner of the uilding and Allied Trades G.S. at The Hermitage Club on last Saturday night, he said hat societies like theirs brought together the arious sections of industries like theirs. They id an immense amount of good. Many of hem knew one another from the business tandpoint; but they liked to get to know ach other better. It was in the interests of ndustry that they should, and societies, such s theirs, discharged a national duty of coniderable importance. He was trying to picure to himself an architect and a builder rawn against each other in a golf match, and e could picture the feelings of the poor builder as he stood on the first tee asking imself: "What am I to do?" (Laughter.) The more the builder thought of it the more would his knees shake, because if he were to beat the architect he would feel sure that he would be met on the following Monday morning, not with the same greeting from the architect as he had received on the tee on Saturday. (Laughter.) His advice to any builder placed in such a predicament would be—exercise the greatest caution. (Laughter.) Any society that brought builders, architects and others concerned in their industry closely together and into more friendly relationship was doing an immense amount of good for all of them, and they would like to see the different branches of it associated more frequently at functions like the one they had so much enjoyed that day. He coupled with the toast the names of Mr. Robinson, Vice-President of the Institute of Architects, and Mr. J. Dickson, President of the Insurance Association. They were delighted to have Mr. Robinson with them, and Mr. Dickson was an excellent sportsman and a most popular guest.

Messrs. Robinson and Dickson having replied, Mr. J. J. McGowran, in giving "the United Societies," also spoke of the excellent work which the Societies had accomplished in the direction indicated by Mr. Good. The movement which Dr. George Price initiated had been a wonderful success; it had achieved much more than even the founders expected.

Mr. Claude Murray, Hon. Secretary, responded.

Replying for "the Hermitage Golf Club," proposed by the captain of the Society, Dr. Sherlock, Hon. Secretary, said it was not easy to get the ordinary members of a club to agree to give up their course on a Saturday to another golfing institution, but the members of the Hermitage Club raised no objection whatever. He hoped that next year, if they were there, they would find that additional improvements had been made on the course, so as to ensure that it would be a real test of golf. These improvements were being discussed the evening before, when one member remarked: "If you are going to make it more difficult I am going to join a midget golf club." (Laughter.)

Mr. J. McNaughton, President, gave "the Captain," and said that, in the opinion of every member of the Society, there was no man more worthy of the toast than Peter Good.

Mr. Peter Good, in reply, said it was a great pleasure to him to be Captain of the Society since its formation. They had started with a small membership, but now, owing to the efficiency of their officers, the hon. secretary, Mr. Samuel Young, in particular, they had a roll of eighty members.

Other toasts followed.

Mr. McNaughton spoke of the work done for the Society by Mr. Young, and which the members so much appreciated that they had decided on making him a presentation of a little memento, which he handed to him amid applause.

From 10 o'clock competitions were held, but the heavy rain in the afternoon marred the success of the fourball. The results were:—

Captain's prize—J. S. Deans (11), 73; second (on a toss), P. Lyons (17), 77; third, B. Hemmingway (18), 77.

Best gross—J. J. McGowran (won on a toss) and T. P. Ryan tied at 82.

Visitors' prize—F. O'Kelly (8), 72; second, R. Beatty (3), 77.

Fourball—C. Murray and J. Griffin, 2 up; second, J. S. Deans and F. O'Kelly, all square; third, G. Curtis and S. Spratt, 1 down.

Special prizes were presented by Mr. Peter Good (captain)—Rhodes Chains Ltd. (second in captain's); Brooks, Thomas and Co., Ltd. (visitors'), and Mr. Alexander Hull, President, Master Builders' Association (fourball).

The captain was supported at the dinner by Mr. John Good, T.D.; Dr. Sherlock, Mr. J. J. Robinson, F.R.I.B.A.; Mr. F. G. Hicks, President, R.I.A.I.; R. C. O'Keeffe, F.R.I.A.I.; Mr. A. B. McNaughton, Mr. H. M. Dockrell, Mr. E. Thompson, Secretary, Master Builders' Association; Mr. . Murray, Hon. Secretary, D.U.G.S.A.; Mr. S. G. Young, Secretary, and Mr. E. Cotter, Hon. Treasurer.

MILLTOWN G.C.

The President's (Dr. W. Lombard Murphy) prize was played for at Milltown last Saturday, and afterwards the annual dinner was held in the clubhouse, Dr. Murphy being supported by a representative company, over one hundred being present.

The principal toast, "The Golfing Union of Ireland," was proposed by Dr. Murphy, and responded to by Mr. Beamish A. Morrison, President, G.U.I. The Chairman alluded to the fact that, through the efforts of the Union, three representatives from each county had been appointed, one of them a member of the Milltown Club (Mr. Fred Davies), to look after the affairs of golf generally. The Union had also been responsible for promoting the international matches, and, looking back on the splendid work that had been accomplished by their governing body, their opportunities for the future seemed to him to be unlimited.

The other toasts were "The Milltown Golf Club" and "Our Guests."

NEWLANDS G.C.

Captain's day at Newlands yesterday was completely ruined by a bad break in the weather. From ten o'clock a steady stream of competitors went out in warm sunshine, but shortly after lunch, when fifty-eight cards had been returned, the course was swept by a storm of rain and hail, and in less than half an hour had become unplayable, several greens being under water. The committee met to consider the position, and had no hesitation in ordering play to be abandoned for the day, messengers being sent out to acquaint the players to that effect.

There was a representative muster of members and guests at the annual dinner in the clubhouse, over which the captain, Major-General Felix Cronin, presided. The usual toasts were honoured, and musical items rendered. The following received invitations:—Judge Gleeson, T. Brindley (Hermitage), the Rev. E. N. Bateman, Commandant J. Carroll, the Rev. T. J. O'Callaghan, A. B. Kidd (G.U.I.), M. Crowley, J. Coulter, W. Brassington, . Hawksby Mullins.

FINE SCORE BY THE PRINCE.

The Prince of Wales played an excellent round over the Sunningdale course last Saturday, when competing in the autumn meeting of the club. He was in a "field" which included several prominent players, and from handicap 11 he returned a net 71 to tie with T. H. P. Kolesar, a scratch golfer, for the captain's prize.

THE LEINSTER ALLIANCE.

The Leinster Alliance will open the season at the Castle, Rathfarnham, on Sunday, October 9th, with an 18-hole stroke competition in the morning and a fourball after lunch. The annual general meeting will be held on the same evening. Several well-known amateurs have joined the Alliance, and the prospects for another successful season are extremely bright.

LANSDOWNE DRAW IN THE NORTH.

TRINITY WIN AGAIN.

The four senior matches in Dublin on Saturday were played under very unfavourable conditions, heavy rain throughout the afternoon making the ground soft and unsuitable for back play. Monkstown opened their season with a match against Dublin University in the College Park. Although led by 11 points to nil at half-time, they made a good showing in the second half, and while keeping their line intact scored the only try of the half.

Bective Rangers and Wanderers had a close game at Lansdowne road, the former club winning by 8 points to 6. Clontarf, suffering a big handicap through losing their full-back for the entire second half, were beaten by Old Wesley by 24 points to nil. Blackrock College defeated Palmerston by 8 points to 3; and Lansdowne, travelling to Belfast, played a scoreless draw with Queen's University. North of Ireland, making the long journey to Cork, were beaten by Constitution by 8 points to 3.

TRINITY BACKS HELD.

MONKSTOWN IMPROVE IN SECOND HALF.

The conditions which prevailed for the match between Dublin University and Monkstown, in the College Park, were by no means favourable to Trinity, who, to a large extent, depend upon the superior pace of their men behind the scrum, and but for the heavy rains, which rendered the pitch soft and the ball heavy and greasy, the University would have won by a larger margin. The final score was one goal and two tries (11 points) to one try (3 points), and it about represents the merits of the teams on the run of the play.

Monkstown, whose first match it was, are not as strong as last year, and on Saturday they were without J. M. O'Sullivan and R. Williams amongst the backs, and Ross-Todd in the forward line. Trinity, too, were below strength, R. McNeilly in the centre and F. C. Jackson, forward, being absentees.

Monkstown held their own well forward, and really got the ball oftener in the set scrums. Their backs, however, were poor in attack, and with the exception of J. B. Ganly and occasionally T. H. D. Wall, none of them showed to advantage in this phase of the play. They defended stoutly, however, and P. Bailey, a player of promise, who played on the wing, brought down his man time and again.

The Trinity backs had some smart rounds of passing, and all the tries came from movements behind the scrum. J. B. McNeice and N. Tindal both made full use of the limited opportunities they got on their respective wings, and each registered a score. M. Cussen made a good deputy for McNeilly in the centre, while J. W. Stokes and T. B. Hannin made a very happy combination at half back. Mullaney played a splendid game at full back, and it was noticeable that he kicked equally well with both feet. Michael was the best of the forwards, and next to him came Tighe and Pike. Ganly, as mentioned, was the best of the visiting backs, and his try was the outcome of a clever piece of play. Wall got through much good work at half back, while forward, Mulhearn, O'Ferrall and Hooper were the pick.

Dublin University did all their scoring in the first half. Tindal was the first to cross, following a swift round of passing, and Mullaney added the extra points from the touch line. Next McNeice got over, and then Michael finished up a movement with a try. The second period was played in a heavy downpour, and the only score of the half came to the Sydney Parade side, when Ganly, receiving from Wall, flashed over for a try, which the latter failed to convert. Result:—

Dublin University—1 goal, 2 tries (11 points).
Monkstown—1 try (3 points).

Teams:—

Dublin University—P. J. Mullaney; J. F. McNeice, M. Cussen, H. R. Davies, N. Tindal; T. B. Hannin, J. W. Stokes; H. Michael, D. L. Graham, H. V. Tighe, W. J. Hall, G. T. Keyes, St. J. Pike, G. C. V. O'Driscoll, J. Anderson.

Monkstown—L. V. Montgomery; P. J. Bailey, J. B. Ganly, S. S. Coleman, J. F. Shackleton; T. H. D. Wall, G. R. Patterson; E. C. G. Mulhearn, J. J. Hooper, J. R. Shanks, K. O'Farrell, W. T. Condell, M. A. J. O'Reilly, B. A. McGrath, I. Miller.

Referee—Mr. T. Bell.

BECTIVE'S NARROW WIN.

A PROMISING YOUNG HALF-BACK

The match between Bective and Wanderers at Lansdowne road, although played in unpleasant weather, proved to be a very good game, and the verdict of two points in favour of Bective was an equitable result on the run of the play.

The forwards were evenly matched, but Bective got the ball more frequently from the scrums, and their backs in consequence had more chances than those of Wanderers. Some of their passing movements were very good under the circumstances, notably one in the scond half, in which nearly all the backs took a hand. McCartan, the Bective full, on the whole acquitted himself very creditably, although on one occasion his failure to field the ball cost his side a try. Lightfoot and O'Connor were the best of the three-quarter line, Connell hardly getting a chance of distinguishing himself. Arigho got the ball smartly away from the scrums, and Desmond O'Connor, a Belvedere boy, who played on last year's interprovincial team, was quite a success as out-half. He is very young, but is undoubtedly a player of much promise. Among the forwards, who showed a great improvement on their form in the match with Lansdowne, McAllister, Powell and McMorrogh were always noticeable.

Kennedy played a sound game as full for Wanderers, though he was a few times at fault in fielding. Grealy and Ridgeway were the pick of the three-quarters, but the halves were not impressive. The absence of Wellwood was sorely felt. Clinch, as usual, made some gallant efforts for his side, and got through a deal of gruelling work, while Halligan, Hilton and Potterton were also prominent.

Play was very even for the first twenty minutes and then McCartan, misfielding a long kick, let Wanderers' forwards attack, and Birmingham got over for a try, which Kennedy failed to improve on. Wanderers continued to attack, and from a free Kennedy landed a penalty goal. Bective forwards worked to the other end, and Desmond O'Connor made a grand run, and sent Keane over for a try, which Carroll converted. In the second half J. D. O'Connor scored a try, but Carroll failed with the kick.

Result:—

Bective Rangers—1 goal, 1 try (8 points).
Wanderers—1 penalty goal, 1 try (6 points).

Teams:—

Wanderers—D. Kennedy; J. G. Grealy, E. C. Ridgeway, F. Williamson, R. Birmingham; J. T. Keegan, J. C. Hewat; J. D. Clinch, C. R. Graves, L. Halligan, H. J. Hilton, M. McQuaid, R. N. Potterton, D. T. Young, G. Robertson.

CLONTARF MISS LANGAN.

OLD WESLEY PILE UP POINTS.

Showing marked superiority, Old Wesley easily defeated Clontarf at Donnybrook on Saturday by a goal from a try, a dropped goal, 2 penalty goals and 5 tries (24 points) to nil. The losers put up a good fight in the opening period, and were only led by a penalty goal at half-time. Just before the interval Clontarf were unlucky to lose Langan, their full-back, who had done fine work in defence, this player having to retire owing to an injury received in tackling. In his absence the strain of heavy pressure soon told, and Old Wesley had matters much their own way in the closing stages. The only score of the first half had been a penalty goal, landed by Young quite early. After the interval Talbot soon added an unconverted try; Young kicked a penalty goal, and then, with little room to manœuvre, dropped a smart goal. Old Wesley continued to have the best of matters, and before the end Ingram obtained three tries, from one of which Cummins placed a goal.

In a team which played a winning game well, Walker was sound when called upon. Prescott showed to advantage at three-quarter back, and the half-back combination of Willoughby and Young, in which the latter was the dominant partner, was the greatest source of danger to the opposition. The forwards, lively and well together, satisfied in every phase, Ingram, Fitzpatrick, Maher and Massey being most prominent. The Clontarf line had few chances, Giddings being about the best. Lyons and Tyndall worked hard at half, and forward Roche, Murphy and Mooney most impressed. Result:—

Old Wesley—4 goals (1 dropped, 2 penalty) 3 tries (24 points).
Clontarf—Nil.

Teams:—

Old Wesley—D. G. Walker; W. R. Prescott, F. H. Ballagh, H. F. Cummins, J. R. Prescott; J. G. Young, J. F. Willoughby; D. C. Fitzpatrick, M. J. Maher, J. D. Seymour, A. W. Ingram, E. W. Massey, A. W. Love, H. Prim, J. W. Johnston.

Clontarf—D. J. Langan; J. B. Mullally, O. G. Giddings, J. C. Harte, C. D. A. Browne; S. V. Lyons, G. A. Tyndall; P. H. Mooney, J. P. Cavanagh, T. D. Murphy, O'S. Roche, J. V. Glass, W. D. Ryan, V. Hayes, W. H. Fox.

A COLOURLESS GAME.

BLACKROCK DEFEAT PALMERSTON.

Forward rushes and free kicks were the main features of an otherwise colourless game at Clonskeagh on Saturday, in which Blackrock College beat Palmerston by a goal from a try and a penalty goal to a penalty goal. Heavy rain and a greasy ball caused a lot of knocking on, and the rival packs soon took over control, little attempt at back play being made, and though there was little between the sides Blackrock just deserved to win.

The full-backs, Cobbe, of Palmerston, and Martin, of Blackrock, both defended well, and got good length into their kicks, under the circumstances, but the three-quarters on both sides seldom attempted concerted movements. Five minutes from the start A. E. Thompson brought off a penalty from near half-way, but soon after P. Crowe levelled up with a similar score from near the touch line.

In the second half Palmerston were doing better, but after ten minutes Gorevan sent out to Crowe, who put Costello over to ground behind, Crowe adding the points. The rest of the game was confined to forward work, and from a free A. E. Thompson hit an upright.

Crowe was the best of the Blackrock three-quarters, who operated as individuals, and Gorevan worked the scrums pluckily. Burns, Keaney, O'Reilly and ffrench did best of a pack that had three substitutes. V. Kirwan and F. Hussey were the best of the home "threes," and a schoolboy, Hazlett, showed great promise at scrum half. A. E. and J. H. Thompson, Wilson and Kenna were the best of the forwards. Result:—

Blackrock College—2 goals (1 penalty) (8 points).
Palmerston—1 penalty goal (3 points).

Teams:—

Palmerston—R. B. Cobbe; V. E. Kirwan, F. Hussey, L. Hanrahan, M. Fee; S. Renchie, J. H. Hazlett; D. D. Hussey, C. N. Kirwan, A. E. Thompson, J. H. Thompson, J. R. Y. Wilson, W. A. Smith, W. J. Mahony, G. P. Kenna.

Blackrock College—E. Martin; H. Costello, P. Crowe, A. Lynch, E. Walker; P. Branigan, J. Gorevan; M. Burns, J. Keaney, F. O'Reilly, D. Scully, M. Vaughan, J. Traynor, B. Mooney, G. ffrench.

QUEEN'S FAST FORWARDS.

DRAWN MATCH WITH LANSDOWNE.

Rain ruined the match between Lansdowne at Belfast on Saturday; for, while Ravenhill was in splendid condition, the ball was too greasy for the backs to handle, and a scoreless draw was an equitable result, though the visiting side held out more promise than the students, who have not been beaten in this annual match for the last three seasons.

Lansdowne had a marked superiority in the scrums, but with close marking, keen tackling and quick-breaking forwards, Queen's rarely permitted their opponents to develop passing movements, and when they did, dropped passes, injudicious kicking or faulty transfers prevented the forward advantage being translated into scores. While the Queen's forwards were beaten for possession, they did grand work in the loose, and their backs defended stoutly, while they once or twice menaced the Lansdowne line in the second half. Arigho and Crowe were a dangerous wing, and the former was distinctly unlucky to be deprived of a try in the first half, when he darted over at the corner and was knocked into the corner flag as he was about to ground the ball. Malcolmson had a fine chance of landing a penalty goal for Queen's from a good position, but sent narrowly outside, and Lockett and Boyd were in a movement that looked like producing a score in the second half, Arigho's speed in a burst across the field saving the line when Moran was beaten. Even allowing for the tenacity of the Queen's defence Lansdowne, with three international backs operating, should have shown greater resource, and made use of some of the many opportunities that came their way.

Lansdowne—D. P. Moran; E. J. Lightfoot, M. P. Crowe, W. H. Lambert, J. E. Arigho; E. O'D. Davy, T. A. O'Reilly; M. E. Bardon, F. Conroy, J. Hanlon, J. M'Guire, J. MacNeaney, G. Byrne, J. C. Powell, J. M'Enery.

Queen's—D. I. Malcolmson; K. R. Kennedy, R. W. Hewitt, J. C. Entrican, E. Lockett; J. H. M'Clenaghan, A. F. Turner; R. Alexander, W. Allen, J. A. Boyd, C. Dick, R. D. J. Doolan, R. B. Murphy, J. M'Vicker (capt.), W. M'C. Ross.

NORTH DEFEATED.

LIGHT CORK FORWARDS CARRY THE DAY.

CORK CONSTITUTION 8
NORTH OF IRELAND 3

At Cork on Saturday Constitution won their first important match by defeating North of Ireland by a goal and a try to a try.

North were the heavier team, with a good set of backs, while Constitution depended on light forwards to make the best of loose play. North had the better of the scrums, but a slippery ball spoiled good passing movements. Constitution evened up on the lines out, and contented themselves by judicious cross-kicking, which made ground for them. There was no scoring in the first half, and M. Murphy gave Constitution a try in the opening minutes of the second half. He had a fifteen yards run, during which he dummied twice and scored far out. Egan converted. Ten minutes later North got the ball in a loose forward rush and scored, but the kick failed. Constitution replied five minutes before full time, three forwards carrying the ball across. The kick at goal failed.

A DRAW AT LIMERICK.

Garryowen were visited at the Market Field, Limerick, on Saturday by Sunday's Well. The game was played in a drenching downpour, and while there was still ten minutes to play in the second half the referee stopped the match, neither side having scored up to this stage. Result:—

Garryowen—Nil.
Sunday's Well—Nil.

BOHEMIANS' EASY WIN.

Bohemians had Dolphin (Cork) as visitors at the Crescent ground. The Limerick side got possession more frequently from the scrimmages, and had their backs often moving. In the first half Lynch scored after a forward rush, Donovan failing to goal. Then J. Graham added a try, which M. Graham failed to convert. Early in the second half the last-mentioned player defeated the Dolphin full-back, to score in a good position, and had little difficulty in adding the points. Before the close Hanlon scored Bohemians' fourth try. Result:—

Bohemians—1 goal, 3 tries (14 points).
Dolphin—Nil.

BANGOR'S SOUND PLAY.

Bangor, last year's Senior League champions, put up a sound display against Instonians at Bangor and were only beaten by a try to nil. The home side, whose forwards were keen and thrustful, had a good deal of the play in the opening half, but Instonians defence gave nothing away, the nearest approach to a score being a drop by A. Finlay, which was unsuccessful.

It was Instonians' game in the second half, but Bangor defence held till Campbell got over for a score, which H. Hewitt failed to convert. Near the close of the game H. Finlay just failed to take a pass when going well for the line.

CIVIL SERVICE WIN.

Civil Service were victorious over Lurgan by three tries (9 points) to nil, largely because of their stronger finishing, but, on the whole, they were the better balanced side, and thoroughly deserved their win. Lurgan showed promise in the early stages of the first half, but the passing of the backs was not quick enough to beat the Service defence, and the first half was scoreless. Soon after the resumption, Caldbeck scored for the home side, and while Nixon was unable to convert, the Service strengthened their lead with unconverted tries by Wright and Caldbeck.

A STRONG JUNIOR TEAM.

The junior side Y.M.C.A. gave a meritorious display in the match with Knock, which the seniors won by two tries (6 points) to nil. The only score of the first half was obtained by Smyth, and Watson scored in the second. The greasy ball was a handicap which neither side could overcome.

MALONE VISIT DERRY.

Malone were at Derry, and after a scoreless first half, the home side showed improvement and won by 1 goal 2 tries (11 points) to nil. Bennett, McClure and McLaughlin scored tries and Anderson goaled one.

Presentation College (Bray), 1 goal 1 try (8 points); High School, 1 goal 1 try (8 points). At Belgrave square.

SATURDAY'S RESULTS.

ASSOCIATION FOOTBALL.

LEINSTER CUP TIES.

WINNING TEAMS SCORE FREELY.

ROVERS AND SHELBOURNE SURPRISED.

University College and Dolphin drew their Leinster Cup match last Saturday at 1—1, but the other seven ties were won out. The winning teams scored heavily, registering 31 goals, while the losers' share was 5. Bohemians had a weak Dublin University side at Dalymount Park, and won with the greatest ease (9—1); but Shelbourne and Shamrock Rovers were desperately hard pushed by Brideville (beaten 1—0) and Rossville (beaten 2—1), the latter giving a surprising display against the Rovers. St. James's Gate beat Jacobs 5—1; Dundalk easily accounted for Bendigo (5—1), and Drumcondra also survived, Richmond Rovers being beaten 5—0.

SHELBOURNE FORWARDS WELL HELD.

A PLUCKY DEFENCE BY BRIDEVILLE.

SHELBOURNE .... 1 BRIDEVILLE 0

At Shelbourne Park last Saturday. Howieson scored.

Brideville deserved a replay; for, though they scarcely deserved to be on level terms in the first half, they played particularly well after the interval, when Shelbourne's cross-bar was hit twice, while several good shots tested Diffen severely.

It was a very moderate game, in which neither forward line distinguished itself, and, except Chatton, all the half-backs were poor. Hair and Howieson were well watched, but apart from his defensive work the latter accomplished little. Chatton made sustained efforts to keep his forwards in possession, and his placing was good; but Thomas was reckless in his kicking. Bermingham was a sound back, but not so good as Paton, who was always in position to break up promising movements by Reid and Gibbons, although the latter did not often use excellent chances to advantage. They were, however, a better wing than Smith and Gaskins, Smith being too short with his centres.

Hair, though well watched, sent in a few fine shots, but Shelbourne's forwards participated in only two combined movements.

Shelbourne—Diffen; Paton, Byrne; Thomas, Chatton, Glavey; McGrillen, McMillan, Hair, Howieson, Salisbury.

Brideville—O'Callaghan; Kenny, Bermingham; O'Reilly, Charles, Ryan; Smith, Gaskins, Quinlan, Reid, Gibbons.

HEAVY DEFEAT OF A WEAK TRINITY XI.

NINE FOR BOHEMIANS.

BOHEMIANS ..... 9 DUBLIN UNIVERSITY 1

At Dalymount Park last Saturday, Horlacher (2), Dennis (2), Bermingham (2), Cleary (3) scored for Bohemians, and Chambers for Trinity.

The result was a foregone conclusion, and the match was as one-sided as the score indicates, but Trinity had only six of the side which showed such promise against University College a week ago.

King and McEvoy deputised as Bohemian full-backs for O'Kane and McCarthy, otherwise the home team was at full strength. After twenty-five minutes Horlacher opened the scoring, and during this period Trinity, whilst mostly defending, took the first corner, and Thornton troubled Cannon with a great drive from a free. These were merely interruptions in the Bohemians' attack. The last twenty minutes produced four goals for the home side, a score which remained to the interval. The second half was opened by the home forwards with in-and-out passing, and produced two further scores, and then we had some neat play by the Trinity halves and forwards, who were rewarded when Chambers got the ball past Cannon. Cleary had been satisfied to watch his partners score, but he got three on his own, and the scoring ended.

Bohemians—Captain H. Cannon; F. King, C. McEvoy; P. Andrews, J. McMahon, A. Morton; J. Bermingham, W. Dennis, W. Cleary, A. Horlacher, J. Redmond.

Dublin University—A. W. Callaghan; B. P. McCormack, L. Huggard; R. A. Crawford, H. D. McGarry, P. Reilly; J. McNeilly, J. A. Hamilton, Dr. P. A. Thornton, R. F. Chambers, K. Harrison.

A STRONG CHALLENGE BY ROSSVILLE.

ROVERS GET THROUGH JUST IN TIME.

SHAMROCK ROVERS 2 ROSSVILLE 1

At Harold's Cross Park yesterday Byrne (2) scored for Shamrock Rovers; Murphy for Rossville.

Shamrock Rovers, the holders, were distinctly fortunate to resist the challenge of the Leinster League team, Rossville, who, after keeping their goal intact for forty-three minutes, equalised and were beaten only by a second goal, scored four minutes from the end.

On a ground water-logged in parts, Rossville showed excellent dash and played football of a high standard, their only weakness being the failure of their centre-forward, who tried to work through too often on his own. Rossville swung the ball about with such effect as to completely spoil Rovers' attempts at short passing, while the defence of the full backs, Keegan and Redmond, was a feature of a hard-fought and extremely enjoyable match.

The heavy conditions obviously did not suit Rovers, who adhered to their usual close game, and were frequently beaten for possession by the speedier and almost equally as clever Rossville side. Fast on the wing, Gill and W. McCormack got across several centres, which often had Rovers' defence in difficulties, while the half-backs were a strong connecting link between the defence and their forwards. Rovers could not be said to have played badly; they played clever football, but had all the luck that was going, and much of their work that would otherwise have been more noticeable scarcely came in for the attention it deserved. Nevertheless, it was a narrow shave.

Shamrock Rovers—Maddocks; Hyland, Burke; Glen, Caulfield, Leonard; Golding, Moore, Byrne, Flood, Sloan.

Rossville—Dunne; Keegan, Redmond; Cranwell, Brookes, Kelleher; T. Gill, J. McCormack, Murphy, Payne, W. McCormack.

MANY CHANCES MISSED AT TOLKA PARK.

DRUMCONDRA'S FRONT LINE MORE EFFECTIVE.

DRUMCONDRA...... 5 RICHMOND ROVERS 0

At Tolka Park yesterday, Kavanagh (2), Grace, Dunne (penalty), and Byrne scored.

There were failures forward in both teams in a game remarkable for the number of missed scoring chances. Drumcondra, however, were always more methodical and effective, and were not flattered by the score. Despite the wretched conditions, the teams played well in the first half. In this period Richmond Rovers were quite as good as their opponents, and had as much of the play. Later they had a player ordered off, and Drumcondra were masters of the situation for long periods.

Drumcondra were without Moore and Hughes (injured), but that did not reduce their strength. Daly did well at full-back, while Grace at centre-half, was quick on the ball, strong in defence, and utilised his opportunities. Kinsella and Farrell were not as useful, and it was well for Drumcondra that Dunne and Daly were at the top of their form. They had three serviceable forwards in Murray, Kavanagh and Griffiths. Byrne was not a successful leader, and McCarney played an indifferent part. Richmond Rovers were best served at half-back and in goal. The halves attacked and defended cleverly. Their forwards should have turned some of their work to account in the early stages, when simple chances were provided. Molloy kept a fine goal.

Drumcondra—Pigeon; Dunne, Daly; Kinsella, Grace, Farrell; Griffiths, Kavanagh, Byrne, McCarney and Murray.

Richmond Rovers—Molloy; Kearney, Hayes; Mulligan, Kane, Bell; Kavanagh, Murphy, Snow, J. Kearney, Quinn.

JACOBS BREAK DOWN.

HOME TEAM SCORE FREELY.

ST. JAMES'S GATE... 5 JACOBS 1

At Iveagh Ground last Saturday, Kane, Comerford (2, 1 penalty), Gleeson, and McLoughlin scored for St. James's Gate; Heron for Jacobs.

The score flattered St. James's Gate, who were superior only in finishing. In the first half Jacobs had a good deal more of the play, but were well held by a steady, if lucky, defence, in which Cass, with many clever saves, had much to do.

At the interval Jacobs were two in arrears when they might have held the lead. They lost by a decisive score through their backs tiring and their forwards lacking finish.

St. James's Gate took a long time to settle down. Their forwards and half-backs held the ball too long, and when they let it go a Jacobs' player invariably turned it away. They swung the ball about better in the second half, and their forwards being faster than the opposition, goals came easily.

St. James's Gate—Cass; Gorman, Clarke; Tynan, Mackay, R. Murray; Kane, J. Murray, M'Loughlin, Comerford, Gleeson.

Jacobs—Collins; Crowley, Cunningham; Temple, Kelly, Farrell; Heron, Corcoran, Forrest, Quirke, Hickey.

THE COLLEGE SURPRISE DOLPHIN.

MATCH DRAWN.

UNIVERSITY COLLEGE 1 DOLPHIN 1

At Terenure yesterday Donaghy scored for the University and Harris for Dolphin.

The match was hard fought and exciting, as University College rose to the occasion and gave Dolphin one of the hardest matches of their career. Dolphin were unlucky not to have won, but the honours must rest with the College for their defence, which was magnificent. In goal Crilly gave a masterly display and saved his side. Keen tackling and quick clearances gave Dolphin little time to settle down, and the shooting of the forwards evidenced over-anxiety. At left-full for the College, Doherty was the mainstay of the defence, whilst Murray and McGahon, while lacking the polish of the opposing middle-line, worked like Trojans. O'Connell and Honohan made a good right wing pair. In the Dolphin back division Lennox kicked with length and precision, and his covering of Kelly was a feature. McDonald, a dashing centre-forward, was unlucky with a couple of great shots, but the inside forwards failed to make the best of their chances.

The re-play will take place at Dolphin Park on Wednesday next.

University College—Crilly; O'Sullivan, Doherty; Kevans, Murray and McGahon; O'Connell, Honohan, O'Reilly, Dempsey, Donaghy.

Dolphin—Kelly; Lennox, Doyle; Blakeley, Dixon, McAllister; Goodwin, Harris, McDonald, Kinnear, Paterson.

BENDIGO OUTCLASSED.

DUNDALK'S EASY HOME VICTORY.

DUNDALK .... 5 BENDIGO 1

At Dundalk on Saturday, Stewart (2), M. Mathews, Kelly and McCourt scored for Dundalk, and O'Rourke for Bendigo.

The match was played in a drenching rain. Though Bendigo was beaten in every department, they fought valiantly, even in the closing quarter of an hour when they were without Gaffney, one of their full-backs, who had been ordered off.

Dundalk introduced a new inside right in Mathews, a junior Irish international, and he scored the first goal. Bendigo, though they had the wind behind them, were kept busily defending, and Mahon, their goalkeeper, did some splendid work.

In the second half Dundalk were the superior side, though they were without McMullan, their goalkeeper, for fifteen minutes. Kelly kept goal during this period, but never got an opportunity to show his form.

Dundalk—McMullan; McKeown, Kelly; Slowey, Reed, Johnston; Firth, M. Mathews, Stewart, McCourt and Donnelly.

Bendigo—Mahon; Gilhooley, Gaffney; Power, Daly, Campbellson; Brassie, White, Barry, Mooney and O'Rourke.

TEAM WORK WINS FOR BRAY UNKNOWNS.

ORMEAU BEATEN 3-0.

At Bray. The scorers were Moore, Bird and Rogers.

Ormeau played a plucky game throughout, but they never extended the home team, whose superior team work enabled them to achieve a well-earned victory.

At no time did the visitors reproduce their best form. Their weakness lay with their forwards, who, though good in attack, were wanting in finish. The inside men failed to take good centres, and probable scores were lost.

Both sides favoured open play, and while it was even for a time Bray Unknowns gradually asserted themselves, and gave Ormeau's defence a trying time. Sound play by Fagan, Kavanagh and Leahy and weak finishing by the home forwards kept the score sheet clear to the interval. There was a change in the Bray attack on resuming, Rogers and Moore changing positions. Bray continued to have the better of the play, their defence completely subduing Ormeau's forwards. The visiting defence, however, stood up to their work well, but all to no purpose.

Bray Unknowns—Dunne; FitzHenry, Beresford; Savage, Preston, Rigby; Moore, Rogers, Bird, Cullen, Kendrick.

Ormeau—Fagan; Kavanagh, Leahy; Kinsella, Treacy, Rowan; Davy, Morton, Doyle, E. Hughes, A. Hughes.

FREE STATE LEAGUE.

FOUR FOR BLAIR AT WATERFORD

CORK .... 4 WATERFORD 3

At Waterford yesterday. Blair scored all the goals for Cork, and Mitchell, Sampey (penalty), and Common were scorers for Waterford.

It was a fine game, played on a water-logged ground, and the defeat was the first sustained by Waterford at home. The best of the football was played in the first ten minutes by Cork. The home side, however, put up a resolute defence, and the forwards were more incisive than formerly, while the half-backs and backs were steadier than usual, and Wilson kept a good goal, though considerably worried by Blair, Dowdall and Lindsay. Roynane also did excellent work in the Cork goal; in fact, the Cork defence all round left little to be desired, while the forwards were speedy and cleverer than the Waterford five.

THE IRISH LEAGUE.

Heavy rain fell in the North on Saturday, but it did not interfere to a great extent with the play in the Irish League matches.

Chief interest centred in the meeting of the leaders, Glentoran and Celtic, at the Oval. The game was splendidly contested, and if the second half was not as brilliant as the first there were plenty of thrills, Glentoran winning by 4 goals to 3, the winning goal coming from a penalty kick.

Linfield beat Ards 7-2 at Windsor Park, Bambrick scoring 3; and Distillery defeated Larne 4-2 at Larne to move into second position, a point behind Glentoran.

Bangor won their first match in this season's competition, Cliftonville retiring with the odd goal in three against them. Derry City beat Portadown by the only goal, and Ballymena got the points from Newry Town by the same score. Glenavon accounted for Coleraine in the second half.

HOCKEY.

GOOD START BY NAAS.

CHAMPIONS RUN UP BIG SCORE.

TRINITY'S SUCCESS.

The official start of the season was made on Saturday, when, despite the break in the weather, some good displays were given, the heavy scoring showing good form on the part of the forwards in circumstances not to their advantage.

Naas resumed their Senior status with a well-deserved success against National Bank; Dublin University gave another clever display in defeating Dalkey, and Railway Union held too many guns for the Monkstown defence, whilst Wicklow and Kingstown Grammar School shared honours. In the club game at Serpentine avenue, Pembroke Wanderers defeated Clontarf.

LEE'S THREE GOALS.

TRINITY THE STRONGER SIDE IN ATTACK.

DUBLIN UNIV. ...... 6 DALKEY 2

The game at Londonbridge road on Saturday was fast and well contested, the superior combination and better finishing of the home side proving the deciding factor. It was no easy victory, however, for Dalkey, during three-quarters of the game, did as much attacking as their opponents, and were on a couple of occasions rather unlucky. They showed much improvement on last season, though playing on a good pitch had probably something to do with it. They have most of their old eleven again playing, and their defence is considerably strengthened by the inclusion of J. E. R. Keyms, the former Trinity captain.

Trinity were always the more dangerous in attack, the forwards showing a rare turn of speed. They only scored twice in the first half, however, and with each shot Anderson had absolutely no chance. These goals were scored by Lee and Irwin, while in the second half Lee put on two more, and Irwin and Darley also netted. It was in the second period that Dalkey's goals were obtained, both being the result of fine solo efforts by Sheehan and Sarratt.

Dublin University—G. T. Kenny; S. Varian, D. F. Williams; E. P. Griffith, C. G. Gregory, N. A. Kinnear; N. R. Fleming, H. F. G. Irwin, F. J. W. Darley, W. G. Lee, T. G. McVeagh (capt.).

Dalkey—R. J. Anderson; F. A. Boland, T. Pender capt.); J. E. R. Keyms, J. Regan, J. Boardman; A. D. Sarratt, T. Mahony, J. Sheehan, J. Kennedy, H. Cobbe.

Umpires—Messrs. G. V. S. Ireland and G. Richardson.

NAAS SUPERIOR.

BANK ADOPT WRONG TACTICS ON SOFT GROUND.

NAAS .... 3 NATIONAL BANK ... 1

Although not at full strength, Naas were always the superior side at Kimmage on Saturday. Quickness on the ball and clean hitting were the main factors in their success, their long swinging passes paying well on the soft, treacherous surface. During the first half the Bankers' side adopted the short pass, which was an error in tactics, and in no small way contributed to their defeat. In this period Naas had established their success, as, after Gibson had opened the scoring, Jim Purcell secured two clever goals. Subsequently the Bank defended to better purpose.

On resuming, the Bank side did much better, their hitting being harder, and the use of the "through" pass put them several times in attack, Deignan eventually reducing the lead; but by this time the pitch had become so much cut up that defences had the better of the argument until the finish.

The winners were best represented by the brothers Purcell, Darcy and Gibson, whilst A. P. Swaine did good service for the losers, who were not impressive on the soft ground. Teams:—

National Bank—D. Darcy; R. Hewitt (capt.), C. Maunsell; T. Foley, A. P. Swaine, E. Deignan; D. Dixon, E. Felton, J. Harley, J. W. Gill, S. Armstrong.

Naas—P. Leonard; John Purcell, C. Purcell; D. O'Rourke, J. Darcy, J. Tyndall; J. Wheeler (capt.), D. Purcell, James Purcell, D. Gibson, J. Tyndall.

Umpires—Messrs. A. Cork and C. Bruton.

DRAW AT WICKLOW.

FIVE GOALS SCORED IN THE SECOND HALF.

WICKLOW .... 4. KINGSTOWN G.S. .. 4

Last season Kingstown Grammar School journeyed to Wicklow and won 4-0, but yesterday, on the same pitch, they could do no better than force a 4-4 draw in their opening League match. It was a fitting result, for there was little between the teams. For most of the first half Wicklow were without Paskins, in goal, and it was during this period that Ritchie gave Grammar School the lead. Almost immediately, however, Gelletlie equalised, and Saul also sent past Fisher to give Wicklow an interval advantage. Heavy rain made conditions most unpleasant in the second half, but nevertheless there was some fast scoring. Ritchie and Lindsay got through for the visitors, but a great shot from McCarroll equalised. Winder then scored, but in the last five minutes O'Reilly put Wicklow level.

Wicklow—J. Paskins; C. Hopkins, R. Kent; E. J. Hopkins, N. J. McEachern, P. Flood, J. H. McCarroll, F. C. Gelletlie, D. M. O'Reilly, H. Saul, J. S. D. Kerr.

Kingstown Grammar School—J. Fisher; G. Brown, J. Varian, F. Shellard, E. Winder, L. S. Phillips; T. Staples, E. F. Duke, W. C. Ritchie, D. Lindsay, S. Cheetham.

RAILWAY'S SEVEN.

WEAKENED MONKSTOWN SIDE WELL BEATEN.

RAILWAY UNION . 7 MONKSTOWN......... 2

Having won the Senior League for eight successive years, Railway Union opened the present season with a decisive 7—2 victory over Monkstown, at Park avenue. Railway Union showed all their usual strength as a team, V. and C. Sully, T. Browner and W. Hennessy being very good forwards. Browner sent across many centres for the centre-forward to score.

Monkstown were at their best in the opening ten minutes, during which they attacked. They were without G. Darcus and E. Gray, and played with ten men for most of the second half. They were best served by J. Gray and J. Brewster, the forwards.

A penalty bully enabled C. Sully to open the scoring after a quarter of an hour, and Hennessy and C. Sully put Railway 3 up before half-time. V. Sully hit two more on change of ends before J. Gray scored a smart goal for Monkstown. Knight and V. Sully again scored for Railway, and Brewster dribbled through to net for the visitors.

Railway Union—W. C. Leopold; K. Browner, M. O'Donohue; J. J. Corscadden, W. W. Chiddick, H. Sully; T. C. Browner, C. Sully, V. Sully, H. Knight, W. E. Hennessy.

Monkstown—J. Gray; H. G. Legge, E. E. Dormer; P. D. McWeeney, A. R. Watson, W. P. Delamere; J. McElveen, N. Phillips, J. S. Brewster, J. Gray, L. Waddell.

Umpires—Messrs. D. J. Colter and J. S. McMahon.

FIRST HALF GOALS.

WANDERERS BEAT CLONTARF IN CLUB GAME.

PEMBROKE W......... 3 CLONTARF 1

At Serpentine avenue on Saturday Pembroke Wanderers defeated Clontarf by 3 goals to 1 in a club match. It rained steadily all the afternoon, and the ground was sticky. All the scoring took place in the first half, although Wanderers were worth a couple of goals in the second period. Wanderers set a hot pace and kept it up throughout. Early in the game Martin slipped between the Clontarf backs and scored a clever goal. Then Gregan, who showed plenty of speed, put on the second, and Martin scored the third. Before the interval Clontarf put in a strong attack, and A. J. Keegan reduced his side's arrears. McNeill in the home goal had an easy afternoon. Spence was a reliable back, and Martin and Gregan were clever forwards. For Clontarf, Prouse, Palk, Coughlan and A. J. Keegan played well.

Clontarf—J. S. Prouse; F. W. Hazell, A. N. Palk; C. S. Bristane, G. N. Coughlan, N. P. Healy; H. V. Keegan, J. Kelly, A. J. Keegan, J. Shannon, Raffin.

Pembroke Wanderers—N. M'Neill; E. E. Spence, R. Donohoe; S. J. Doyle, C. J. Little, E. D. Beadle; H. F. Flewitt, D. Allen, R. P. Martin, E. L. Riley, M. Gregan.

Umpires—Messrs. Keegan and Boland.

GAELIC GAMES.

FAUGHS' BID FOR LEAGUE HONOURS.

FAUGHS .... 3-2 FONTENOYS 1-1

Fontenoys, Faughs and Civil Service are in close company at the head of the Intermediate League. The meeting of the first pair at Croke Park yesterday attracted a good company of hurling enthusiasts. Faughs got home (3-2 to 1-1), but Fontenoys were in attack for two-thirds of the hour and deserved to do better.

Fontenoys pressed at the opening, with the breeze and sun to aid them. A good ball from Cleary (Fontenoys) appeared to have beaten Nolan, but he turned it round the upright—a great save, and the resultant 70 was fruitless. After Brennan had finished wide for Faughs, Nolan again saved well in pushing out a high lobbing ball from Cox when harrassed by Murray. Faughs returned on the left, Brennan passed to Dolan, who centred neatly to G. Carroll to beat Condon at close range for a goal.

Maguire came out best from a ruck at the goalmouth to lift and clear quickly. The Ringsend men now pressed with vigour, and Cleary, pulling on a high ball against Flanagan, succeeded in notching the equaliser. Nolan's puck reached Flanagan, who cut in low to Carroll. The latter held off Maguire, and a sharp shot restored Faughs' lead. Before the interval Carroll secured them a point, and at half-time Faughs led by 2-1 to 1 goal.

On resuming Conway scored the best goal of the day when he doubled a fast moving ball. Fontenoys were not yet beaten, and for fully ten minutes they kept up an incessant attack. Faughs' back stood up resolutely, and beyond one point by Cleary, late in the hour, Fontenoys' attack failed.

The losers are now one point down and the winners of next Sunday's match (Faughs v. Civil Service) may capture the League honours.

MEATH TO MEET DUBLIN.

MEATH .... 2-2 LEIX 1-2

At Navan yesterday Meath beat Leix by 2-2 to 1-2, thus qualifying to meet Dublin in the final of the Senior Hurling League. Meath scored early, and for a time it looked as if the home team were to have an easy victory. In the last moiety, Leix, having got into their stride, showed up better, but their forwards were well held by the Meath backs. There were intervals of good hurling, but on the whole the work of the forwards on both sides left room for improvement.

CLARE ROUT OFFALY.

CLARE .... 8-5 OFFALY 2-0

At Ennis yesterday Clare defeated Offaly in the deciding tie in the senior group of the National Hurling League. Settling down quickly, the home side scored rapidly, and at half-time had a lead of 4-4 to 1-0. Only twice did the Offaly forwards get down, and the second half was a repetition of the first, with Offaly unable to cope with the fast-moving Claremen, for whom Falvey's long shots were wonderfully accurate, and Rourke, Houlihan, Blake, Conroy and Costello also did well for them. M. Dooley got the two scores for Offaly—one in each half.

KILDARE'S VICTORY.

KILDARE .... 3-5 WEXFORD 1-4

Kildare had a decisive victory over Wexford at Wexford Park yesterday in the National Football League, and in view of their engagement with Kerry on Sunday next their performance was of more than ordinary interest. Kildare fielded a good selection, and from the start they made it evident that they were the better side. At half-time they led by 3-2 to 1 point. Wexford rallied in the second half, and succeeded in registering 1 goal and 3 points against 3 minors by the visitors.

GALWAY BEAT SLIGO.

Galway defeated Sligo in the Football League match, played at Parkmore, Tuam, yesterday, by 2 goals, 8 points, to 2 points. Sligo were without most of their best team. Brennan scored their 2 points, and Gill, Higgins and Birrell scored for Galway.

CORK HARD PRESSED.

CORK .... 1-7 LIMERICK 1-4

Cork won their third round match in the National Football League by defeating Limerick at the Mardyke yesterday, but the homesters had to go all out for a win against a pretty useful side, whose weakness lay at forward. Limerick's defence, in which Quinn was the bright particular star, was a feature of a keen game.

CLOSE GAME AT ARMAGH.

At Armagh yesterday Cavan beat Armagh by 3 goals 2 points (11) to 2 goals 3 points (9).

INTERMEDIATE FOOTBALL LEAGUE.

St. Lawrence (Howth) 1-2, Brian Boru 0.—This game was stopped after fifteen minutes in the second half owing to a dispute over a goal scored by Fitzsimons (Brian Boru). The umpires failed to agree and the referee abandoned the match.

St. Mary's (Saggart) 2-4, Westerns 0-4.

JUNIOR HURLING LEAGUE

Banba 7-3, Young Ireland 4-0.
Erin's Isle 3-4, Clan na Gael 1-0.

LOVING CUP FINAL.

Round Towers 1-3, Thomas Davis 0-1

HANDBALL.

REED DEFEATS JOYCE IN THE PURCELL CUP.

At the Depôt yesterday, P. Reid, Carlow, defeated M. Joyce, Dublin, in their match in the Purcell Cup competition. At Carlow Reid had gained a lead of five games to love, and yesterday, by winning two of the five games, he won the rubber by 7 games to 3. Yesterday, Joyce won the first three games, 21-11, 21-5, 21-12, but Read won the last two, 21-20, 21-10.

In the semi-final of the Dublin Intermediate Handball championship, P. Berry (Civil Service) beat P. O'Connor (St. Joseph's), 21-7, 21-5, 21-12, and in the junior hardball championship, J. Kiernan (St Joseph's) beat L. Jackson (St. Joseph's), 21-15, 21 17.

BOWLING.

THE BOYD AND MARPER CUPS FINALS.

With the playing of the Boyd and Marper Cups finals, the bowling season in the Free State is practically at an end. There only remain some club competitions to bring a very successful season to a close.

In both finals some splendid bowling was witnessed. H. Ellis and M. Doherty defeated another Kenilworth pair in D. H. Stephen and G. W. Cooper in the Boyd Cup final; and J. Humphries (Clontarf) lost to G. W. Cooper in the Marper Cup final. Details:—

Boyd Cup.—Final: H. Ellis and M. Doherty, 20; D. H. Stephen and G. W. Cooper, 14.
Marper Cup.—Final: G. W. Cooper (Kenilworth), 22; J. Humphries (Clontarf), 12.
Inglis Cup.—W. A. Scott, 20; H. J. Staff, 17.

KENILWORTH INTERNATIONALS.

Kenilworth made a start with their annual club "internationals" on Saturday, when Scotland and England were in opposition. Final scores:—A. E. Ingram (England), 29; D. K. Fraser (Scotland), 13; Angus Mackay (Scotland), 23; R. H. Felton (England), 17.

These games will be continued on Saturday next.

BOXING.

MICKEY WALKER KNOCKS OUT CANADIAN CHAMPION.

At St. Paul, Minn., Mickey Walker, the world's middle-weight champion, knocked-out the Canadian champion, Del Fontaine, in the fourth round of a ten-rounds non-title bout. Each scaled 11-10.

Jose Santa, the Portuguese heavy-weight, who is Carnera's rival in physique, gained the decision over Ricardo Bartazollo, the Italian, by a wide margin in a ten-rounds bout at Boston. Santa weighs 18st. 11lb. and stands 6ft. 9in. Bartazollo was recently knocked-out by Carnera in the third round.

Justo Suarez, the undefeated light-weight from the Argentine, who will probably meet Kid Berg in the near future, beat Roy Miller, of Chicago, on points in a ten-rounds bout at New York. Suarez won 19 fights as an amateur in his native country.

BROWN STILL CHAMPION.

At the Velodrome d'Hiver, Paris, on Saturday Al Brown, the Panama negro, successfully defended his world's bantam-weight title against the French challenger, Eugene Huat, gaining the verdict on points. The fight was rather one-sided, as Huat had allowed Brown to pile on the points in the first nine rounds, and it was rather too late when, in the tenth round, the Frenchman took up the offensive.

SWIMMING.

KING'S HOSPITAL GALA.

The school gala will take place to-night at 7.30 at Iveagh Baths. In addition to the school events there will be an Old Boys' race and a Past v. Present relay race. All past members are heartily invited to attend.

The British "Wireless for the Blind" Fund has received a cheque for £252 in respect of royalties on the sales of a gramaphone record of the speech delivered by the King at the opening of the Naval Conference. When the King heard the record he expressed a wish that all profits from the sale should be handed to the fund.

LONDON STOCK MARKET FEATURES.

IMPORTANT NEW LOANS.

AUSTRALIAN BANK SHARES.

FROM OUR FINANCIAL CORRESPONDENT.

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON, Saturday.

Although general business on the Stock Exchange is still very quiet there is increasing activity in other directions. As expected, the autumn is witnessing the issue of several important loans, and so far their reception has been quite favourable. the recent issues by the Ceylon Government and the General Electric Company having been largely over-subscribed, with the result that the scrips command a premium. As previously stated, the general public is not interested in the forthcoming issue of 4 per cent. Treasury Bonds, unless indirectly as holders of the 4 per cent. tax-free War Loan, which is to be repaid on January 15 next. The Ayr County 5 per cent. Stock, at 101, is likely to be well taken, for the yield is only a little under 5 per cent., and for some time past there has been a marked scarcity of Corporation Stocks. It is particularly difficult to buy the 3 and 3½ per cent. issues, quoted at a substantial discount because of the low interest rate, but which are redeemable at par, these being favoured because that part of the yield derived from redemption is not subject to tax. Because of the scarcity the market would welcome any new Corporation loans, but it is understood that borrowing of this kind will not be at all heavy during the next few months. Another important issue of the near future will be for the Underground Electric Railways group, and will consist of redeemable debenture stock similar to that issued by the London Electric Railway in July last at 97½ per cent. That stock is quoted about 101⅞, so that the new issue is likely to be made at a considerably higher price than the previous one—viz., at about 100½, and the amount is expected to be £4,000,000.

CHINESE BONDS.

The recent substantial rally in Chinese Government Bonds is welcome to holders, especially as it came at a time when political conditions in the country appeared to be more promising. It is apparent that China will fulfil her obligations to foreign creditors when she has the funds for the purpose, as shown by the announcement regarding the payment of coupon arrears on the Salt loans. Chinese Bonds, therefore, offer some appeal to the speculative investor, but until conditions in the country are more assured it would be as well to confine the purchase to those issues which enjoy a specific security, such as the 5 p.c. 1896, the 4½ p.c. 1898 and the 4½ per cent. 1908. The second of these is particularly attractive, for next year it will constitute a first charge upon the Maritime Customs. It is still obtainable at about 85, at which the flat yield is a little over 5¼ per cent.; but before long the loan will be extinguished, drawings for redemption at par taking place in January. Of the original issue of £16,000,000 only about £8,000,000 is now outstanding. This means that a present purchaser at 85 has the chance of being repaid at 100 early next year. The 5 per cent. 1912 Loan, which had so sharp a rise last week, looks attractive again at about 42½, ex the two coupons shortly to be paid for. At this price the yield is fully 11¾ per cent.

OTHER FOREIGN SECURITIES.

It is to be noted that almost ever since the figures of the German general election became known European Government Bonds, apart from those of France and some other strong countries, have been a poor market, substantial falls having been recorded in such issues as Estonia 7 per cent., Poland 7 per cent., Finland 4½ per cent., and Rumania 7 per cent. It has always been recognised that a holding of such securities involved some risk, as indicated by the high yields afforded; but they were regarded as useful for mixing purposes, and, perhaps, when prices have further fallen they will receive further support. Speaking of Foreign Bonds, it seems about time that the authorities announced the terms of exchange of the existing Mexican Government securities for the proposed consolidated "A" and "B" Bonds under the new plan. This debt agreement was announced a considerable time ago, but so far the bondholders have no idea of the value of their securities. Mexico has not shown up at all well in recent years as regards the treatment of the external creditors, who have had to exercise a great deal of patience. Many investors are also interested in the various railway securities, most of which are quoted at little better than rubbish prices.

INDUSTRIAL SHARES.

Making allowance for the prospect of a continuance of trade depression and, perhaps, low commodity prices, it would seem that the fall in English Industrial Shares fully discounts the position. But nobody is inclined to buy at present, and because of this the bears see no inducement to cover their commitments. There can be little doubt that the fall has been accentuated by speculative selling, and if the public recognised this they might be more inclined to take greater interest in this section of the Stock Exchange. Admittedly, the drop in some descriptions has been fully justified, but many others have declined in sympathy with the general weakness. When conditions are more favourable and the "bear" operators see no justification for remaining short of shares, quotations will stand at a higher level. Among the soundest things in this section are British American and Imperial Tobacco, Associated Portland Cement, P. and O. Defd., Furness Withy, Turner and Newall, Babcock and Wilcox, Swan Hunter and Guinness units. United Molasses are probably under-valued, though it is difficult to gauge the position there, while Dunlop Rubber are probably worth a higher price.

THREE AUSTRALIAN BANKS.

In sympathy with the better market for the Government Loans, the more active Australian Bank Shares have shown some recovery lately, but the movement has been very moderate in comparison with the previous fall, and current prices afford very high yields if previous dividends are maintained. Two institutions, the Bank of New South Wales and the Union of Australia, among the better-known ones, have reduced their payments, but that of the Bank of Australasia has been maintained. The £5 fully paid shares of the last-named company are quoted at 11, and on the basis of the 14 per cent. tax-free dividend paid on the last occasion the yield is 6 5/16 per cent. net, equal to about 8 7/16 per cent. gross. The English, Scottish and Australian also maintained its distribution on the last occasion. The £5, £3 paid, shares stand at 5⅛, and on the basis of the 12½ per cent. tax free dividend the yield is about 7 5/16 per cent. net, or 9 11/16 per cent. less tax. On the last occasion the Union Bank of Australia reduced its dividend from 15 per cent. to 12½ per cent., tax free. The £15, £5 paid, shares are quoted at 8⅜, thus yielding 7 7/16 per cent. net, equal to nearly 9⅞ per cent. gross. These returns are so extraordinarily high for such a class of investment that they discount a possible cut in the dividend. If, however, a reduction should not be necessary, the shares are exceptionally cheap. If, for sake of argument, the Union of Australia further reduced its payment to 10 per cent., tax free, the shares at the present price would still yield 6 per cent. net, or 7 11/16 per cent. gross.

FINANCIAL PARAGRAPHS.

THE OUTLOOK.

The prolonged and serious fall in commodity prices, in many cases to record low levels, and the slump in values on all the world's Stock Exchanges, have left a legacy of financial weakness which will only gradually disappear (writes The Sunday Times). Derelict holdings that are being "nursed" will have to be liquidated, and this will act as a brake on any recovery. Nevertheless, it is probable that the worst of the depression has now been seen, and in the absence of fresh political or financial shocks markets will slowly mend, if only for the reason that they are oversold, and offer more scope for rises than for falls. Economists are still seeking for the root cause, or causes, of the present world-wide depression, and many interesting theories have been put forward. Of these the most convincing is that, while production has been expanding apace in the progressive countries, consumption in the backward countries, and especially Russia, has fallen below the pre-war standard. To this must be added the unequal distribution of the world's stock of gold and international war debts that tend to disturb the normal course of trade. Basic evils such as these are not susceptible to any quick or easy remedy, and the most that can be expected is adaptation to circumstances. In this country, for instance, it is evident that the cost of social services must be reduced, and that every effort, such as the conversion of debt on a lower interest basis, must be made to pave the way for a reduction in the excessive taxation which constitutes such a crippling charge upon industry. Unless a policy of economy is adopted the next Budget will add to the burden of taxation and render trade recovery still more remote.

RESTRICTION IN TIN.

In the course of a statement dealing with the position of the tine mining industry, Mr. Byrne, Chairman of the Kamunting Tin Dredging and of the Pangnga River Tin Concessions, points out that tin companies do not produce metallic tin; they produce tin concentrates, which are smelted into metallic tin by the smelters. The metallic tin is sold by the smelter daily at market prices. Under the existing arrangements he is obliged to do this to obtain the necessary funds for paying the producer, the ore being sold to him on a cash basis, and to protect himself against a possible fall in the market. The price obtaining on the London market for metallic tin is the basis, calculated for the price he pays the producer for the tin ore. As the smelter charges the producer a fixed price per ton for the smelting, it matters nothing to him at what price the metal is sold. His only concern is to get as much tin ore to smelt as he can, and, consequently, the idea of curtailing the production of tin ore to meet the present rate of consumption, and thus bring about a higher price for metallic tin, has no direct interest for him as a smelter. The only remedy at the moment, continues Mr. Byrne, is to relieve the smelter from being obliged to take from the producer this surplus of tin ore, and the most effective way of doing this is for the tin ore producer to keep the concentrates in the ground.

RUBBER SHIPMENTS.

An official cable from Singapore to the Malayan Information Agency gives the following figures regarding rubber for the month of September, 1930:—Destination of ocean shipments from Singapore, Penang, Malacca and Port Swettenham, of rubber, including concentrated latex (with latex and revertex in parentheses):—United Kingdom, 10,366 tons (26 tons); U.S.A., 27,344 tons (84 tons); Continent of Europe, 7,219 tons (24 tons); British Possessions, 585 tons (nil); Japan, 3,470 tons (2 tons); other countries, 109 tons (nil), a grand total of 49,229 tons. Actual imports in tons by land and sea during September, 1930, of dry rubber (wet rubber in parentheses): Sumatra, 511 (3,277); Dutch Borneo, 299 (2,119); Java and other Dutch Islands, 183 (29); Sarawak, 669 (11); British Borneo, 228 (24); Burma, 19 (4); Siam, 79 (155); French Indo-China, 377 (15); other countries, 81 (7); giving totals of 2,446 tons dry and 5,641 wet rubber.

COMPANY NOTICES.

NORTHERN BANK, LIMITED.

THE ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING of the PROPRIETORS of the STOCK of the NORTHERN BANK, LIMITED, will be held in the CHAMBER OF COMMERCE, SCOTTISH PROVIDENT BUILDINGS, DONEGALL SQUARE, W., BELFAST, on THURSDAY, the 30th day of OCTOBER instant, at TWELVE o'clock noon, to receive the Report of the Directors and Committee of Shareholders, to Elect Auditors, and to transact such other business as may be brought before them.

Signed, by order,
HUGH MURPHY, Secretary
Northern Bank, Limited, Belfast,
1st October, 1930.

BOLIVIA CONCESSIONS.

The former emigration agent of Bolivia Concessions, Mr. Robert Sohr, of 17 Marlborough road, Chiswick, a judgment creditor, has presented a petition for the winding up of the company. The hearing is fixed at the Royal Courts of Justice, Strand, on 14th October. It will be recalled that Mr. Sohr instituted legal proceedings against the company for alleged fraud and conspiracy and wrongful dismissal. Mr. Sohr lost his action for fraud and conspiracy, but gained a verdict amounting in all to £2,850 and costs on the latter issue. Later he presented a winding-up petition against the company, which was ultimately dismissed by consent.

MUNGANA MINES SCANDAL.

The Queensland Government has issued a writ against Messrs. E. G. Theodore, McCormack, Goddard and Reid claiming damages in connection with the purchase of the Mungana silver and lead mines. A Royal Commission's report brought charges of fraud and dishonesty against Mr. Theodore, who at the time of the report was Treasurer in the Federal Government; Mr. W. McCormack, ex-Labour Premier of Queensland; Mr. Peter Goddard, late manager of the Chillagoe State Smelting Company; and Mr. Fred Reid, who was alleged to have received money from the Queensland Government on a deal in shares in which Mr. McCormack was reported to have been involved.

YORKSHIRE PAPER MILLS.

A meeting of Yorkshire Paper Mills will be held in London on 8th of October to consider and, if thought fit, to pass a resolution that the company be wound up voluntarily. The company was formed in 1925 and has an issued capital of £110,000. Of this £80,000 is in Preference shares, on which the dividend is in arrear as from 1st July, 1926. At December, 1929, there was a deficit on profit and loss account of £32,206. Mr. C. Diamond is chairman, the other directors being Sir Charles H. Wilson, R. Goodworth and Mr. D. M. Quin.

CHINESE BONDS.

A good demand has been experienced for Chinese Bonds on the news that two coupons are to be paid on the 5 per cent. 1912 loan. This stock rose from 41 to 48, and is now quoted at 43 ex the two coupons. The 5 per cent. of 1913 can be recommended for speculative purposes. Interest is regularly paid on this loan on January 1 and July 1 of each year. The price is 65.

SIR OTTO NIEMEYER.

The New Zealand Government has received from Sir Otto Niemeyer a report wherein he states that there is no comparison between the financial position of New Zealand and Australia. Thanks largely to its past sound financial methods, New Zealand now enjoys a high reputation in overseas lending markets, but, with the uncertainty of agricultural prices, it would be wise to continue a conservative policy in overseas loan proposals. Sir Otto Niemeyer approves the Government's methods for balancing the Budget.

RAND GOLD MINING.

The Financial News Johannesburg Correspondent says:—The Rand gold-mining industry has the "record" number of 207,000 natives in its employment, and the total of Europeans exceeds 20,000. Natives have been driven to the mines because of the depression in agriculture and in the diamond industry.

PERU CORPORATION.

Gross receipts for September at £131,679 show a decrease of £34,216 in comparison with the same month in 1929, and the aggregate decline to date is raised to £87,721. This statement will accentuate anxiety regarding the Preference dividend for the year to June 30, due to be announced next month.

NEW INTERNATIONAL TELEPHONE COMBINE.

Sir Alexander Roger, Chairman of the International Automatic Telephone Co., Ltd., and the Automatic Telephone Manufacturing Co., Ltd., authorises the announcement of the formation, in New York, of a new International Telephone Manufacturing and Concessionary Co.—the General Telephone and Electric Corporation, which, with the interests sponsoring it, will control and operate more telephones than any other privately-owned company in existence, with the exception of the Bell system. It has been formed primarily with the object of extending and developing the business, outside the United States, of the Associated Telephone and Telegraph Co., itself an alliance of British, Canadian and American telephone concerns, which is controlled and managed by Theodore Gary and Co. and their British associates.

The General Telephone and Electric Corporation will have an authorised capital of 5,000,000 shares of common stock. For their permanent investment, the Trans-America Corporation and the Gary group are taking 20,000,000 dollars (say, £4,000,000), and the British and other interests approximately 6,000,000 dollars (say, £1,200,000), all in common shares, at 50 dollars per share. No public issue of shares is at present contemplated. The Chairman of the new company will be Mr. H. L. Gary, President of Theodore Gary and Co. Sir Alexander Roger will be one of the directors.

LONDON MONEY MARKET.

CREDITS UNLENDABLE.

DEMAND FOR SHORT-DATED TREASURIES.

The usual week-end conditions prevailed in Lombard street on Saturday, credit being in superabundant supply with lenders unable to place balances at the close. Most of the old day-to-day money was renewed at 1½ per cent., while fresh advances until Monday were offered at 1¼ per cent. to under 1 per cent. Weekly loans were arranged at 1¾ to 2 per cent.

In the Discount Market there was a good inquiry for short bills, some of the banks buying Octobers, Novembers and Decembers at 2 per cent. The fine three months rate, however, was firm at 2⅛ to 2 3/16 per cent., and the "hot" Treasuries were offering at 2 3/16 per cent. Tighter monetary conditions are anticipated during this week.

At the Bank £8,747 in bar gold was sold, and £10,000 in sovereigns was exported.

On a little general selling silver eased ⅛d. to 16½d. per oz. for both spot and forward delivery. Gold was unchanged at 84s. 11½d. per oz. fine.

In the foreign exchange market the £ improved on New York to 4.85 15/16-4.86 1/32 dollars. French francs, at 123.83½, moved in our favour and Dutch and Swiss currencies also were cheaper.

A Reuter message from Berne states that the Swiss National Council and the States' Council have granted 1,900,000 francs towards the expenses of an international exhibition of popular art to be held at Berne in 1934. They have also adopted the Federal resolution on the subject of decorations, by which the regulations concerning the acceptance by Swiss officials of foreign decorations and orders have been made more stringent. The National Council also adopted a bill regulating the conditions of residence of foreigners in Switzerland.

MISCELLANEOUS.

LEICESTER WOOL.—English wools still continue to show a falling market, and there is little trade done. Yarns are slightly better, though the rates do not improve, and there is a great deal of stuff on sale which can hardly be remunerative. Still, the turnover should improve, following a better inquiry for hosiery, especially outer wear. One or two factories are very busy, and the output generally is better.

HIDES AND LEATHER.

(SPECIAL REPORT.)

Operations at the Bermondsey hide auction this week were on a restricted scale, as, owing to inadequate bids, the whole of the offering of hides was withdrawn, and no sales reported. Calf sold at previous figures, with firsts in 9-16lb. and 8lb. under sold at 10½d. Kips were unchanged, with firsts sold at 6½d., seconds 5½d., and thirds at 2½d. The demand for foreign hides has been quieter, though this is not unusual in the week immediately preceding the fair, which commences here to-day (Monday). A fair business was done in the best class of sole leather at full prices. Offal was in rather slow request, with prices barely steady. There was a fairly ready market for stout shoulders suitable for cheap soles. Rough leather was quiet, with prices inclined in buyers' favour. In the upper leather section willow calf attracted chief attention, with a moderate turnover in box calf. Patent remained slow of sale, but small lots of kid were sold at firm prices. No auction will be held at Bermondsey on Thursday, October 9th, owing to the fair.

DIVIDENDS AND REPORTS.

BRITISH CELANESE.—The profit and loss account for the 16 months shows a trading profit of £2,557,834. This equals £1,918,376 for 12 months, and is an increase of nearly 55 per cent., as compared with the trading profit of £1,238,905 for the 12 months to February 28, 1929. The net profit for the 16 months is £781,201, as compared with £326,909 for the preceding twelve months. On an annual basis the net profit this time is about £585,900, an increase of £259,000, or practically 80 per cent. over the corresponding figure in the previous accounts. The sum brought forward is £259,721, as compared with £439,363. Three half-year's Preference dividends to April 30 last have been paid, absorbing £544,766, leaving at June 30 last an undistributed balance of £229,490. The report states that, in spite of the adverse trade conditions, the volume of trade shows a substantial proportionate increase when compared with that of the previous year. The net liquid assets at June 30 last amounted to £2,691,010. The profits have been earned on a yarn production capacity which represents substantially less than 40 per cent. of the actual available capacity and under 25 per cent. of the total yarn capacity which would be available if a relatively small additional capital expenditure was incurred.

CROSSE AND BLACKWELL.—Factory returns for three months to September 30th are stated to show an increase of more than 1,000 tons of preserved foods sold and despatched over the same period last year.

DEVITURAI RUBBER AND TEA ESTATES.—The directors have issued instructions to confine tapping to 500 acres of the best yielding areas and to suspend tapping on 1,185 acres.

FINANCIAL NEWSPAPER PROPRIETORS.—Profit for year £28,462, which, with the amount brought in makes a total balance of £43,123 to go forward after taxation provision. A year ago the profit was £122,979, of which income tax requirements were £25,462, writing off preliminary expenses £41,277, leaving £21,256 to go forward after paying a dividend of 8 per cent. on the Ordinary.

HAMBRO'S BANK.—Interim dividend of 7½ per cent., or 3/9 per share, less tax, on the capital paid up on the 400,000 shares of £10 each, £2 10/- paid. (Same.) Also declared an interim dividend of 3 per cent., less tax, on the 400,000 fully-paid "A" Shares of £1 each, being at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum, less tax.

LICENSES AND GENERAL INSURANCE.—Interim dividend at rate of 12 per cent. per annum, less tax, on Ordinary. (Same.)

ROVER COMPANY.—Following the substantial improvement recorded for 1928-29, when a net profit of £120,245 followed a series of losses, the Rover Company, motor car manufacturers, is able to report a net balance of only £34,031 for the eleven months to July 31, 1930. With £102,394 brought in, the balance available is £136,425, which the directors propose to carry forward, no dividend being recommended on the £420,000 capital, which for 1928-29 received 5 per cent., less tax. The directors feel that the result is satisfactory, considering the prevailing economic conditions. They state that their general reorganisation and development policy has been continued, and that the company's programme for next year has been favourably received by the dealers. The balance sheet total at July 31 was £733,142, as against £702,030 on August 31, 1929. The issued capital, written down to 8/- per share in December, 1928, stands at £420,000; creditors at £90,011, compared with £111,487, and £42,553 owing to bankers, after deducting cash in hand, appears as a new item. The leasehold and freehold reserve is increased from £3,284 to £7,353, while a plant depreciation reserve of £10,283 has been created. Sundry reserves are now £25,538, against £47,147. Stocks are down from £196,043 to £169,952, and investments are little changed at £51,458. A special development account of £9,115 is a new feature among the assets.

RONEO.—Net profits of Roneo, manufacturers of duplicators and other office equipment, again expanded in the year to June 30, the net balance being £104,129, as against £94,912 for the year preceding, and £56,185 for 1927-28. The Preference dividend requires £21,421 and the Ordinary dividend, maintained at 10 per cent., again takes £35,965, directors additional remuneration absorbs £2,337, and the staff receives £2,730, as against £1,993. After doubling the allocation to general reserve at £40,000, making that fund £110,000, and crediting £10,995 brought in, the balance forward is £12,670. The directors have had a valuation made on a conservative basis of the land and buildings, together with an inventory of the plant, tools, and fixtures at Romford. The result is a surplus of £55,627, consisting largely of depreciation charged in the accounts in excess of the sum allowed by the income tax authorities, and has therefore, borne income tax. There has appeared for some years on the balance sheet an amount of £30,000 (originally £95,000, from which £65,000 has been previously written off) as the value of leasehold premises, patterns and goodwill. The balance of £29,999 has been written off the surplus resulting from the valuation, and a further sum of £2,891 has been written off for balance of purchase of Art Metal Equipment Co., leaving £22,787 to be added to general reserve.

SERCK RADIATORS.—Profit for year £26,495, compared with £29,387 previously. Dividend and cash bonus amounting to 17½ per cent., as for last year, while £10,000 is again placed to general reserve, which now totals £60,000.

THOMAS SMITH'S STAMPING WORKS.—Profit for the year to August 3rd last £26,688, against £24,960. Final dividend 7½ per cent., again making 10 per cent. for the year, leaving £17,186 to go forward, as against £10,029 brought into the accounts.

VERA CRUZ (MEXICO) RAILWAYS.—Dividend at rate of 6 per cent. per annum, less tax, on Preference Shares, for half-year.

MANCHESTER MARKETS REVIEW.

CHEAPER BUTTER AND BACON.

FROM OUR COMMERCIAL CORRESPONDENT.

There appears to be little hope of any notable improvement in the commodity markets for some time to come, or so long as industrial conditions, particularly in the United States and European countries, do not take a turn for the better. So far as this country is concerned, the recent improvement in the returns for unemployment have not been maintained, while reports about the heavy industries in the North make even worse reading. Obviously, manufacturers' operations are being kept down to a point just sufficient to meet early requirements, and the call for raw materials thus continues below normal. Business in the provision trade remains quiet, and although no official change is recorded in the Danish quotation for butter, which again stands at 242 kroner per 100 kilos, against 344 kroner at the corresponding period of last year, and 330 in 1928, some descriptions, including Irish creameries and New Zealands, are easier on the week. According to reports from Denmark, the butter position does not look unfavourable, but the trade lacks activity. Germany's imports of foreign butter have been smaller than last year, and the British imports have been almost exactly the same as last year up to the corresponding date, though, naturally, there should be an increase, but a million boxes of overseas butter are held in cold store and await clearing. Butter is now cheap, and prices ruling should ensure a large consumptive demand, and warrant a more optimistic feeling for the autumn trade. Bacon continues to decline, but it would not appear that prices can go much lower. While no change is recorded in Irish, the Bacon Committee this week-end have made a further reduction of 6s. in Danish and 5s. per cwt. in Swedish and Dutch. There is no doubt the position in Denmark is responsible for the present trend of prices, as very heavy killings have been taking place in that country for some time past. Although it was no secret that the number of hogs in Denmark had increased considerably of late, surprise was occasioned when the last census showed an increase of about 37 per cent. The number of hogs is now 4,936,000, against 3,616,000 on July 15th, 1929. The census has been very accurate in classifying the hogs according to age, etc., and, as the largest increase was in pigs less than two months old, there is no likelihood of any abatement in killings for some time to come, although warning voices have been raised against excessive hog breeding. The egg market remains quietly firm, but at the higher prices ruling it has been difficult to place the large selection at remunerative prices.

At Salford Cattle market on Tuesday supplies of both Irish and home-fed cattle were smaller, and lambs were also shown in smaller numbers. A quiet trade was experienced for fat cattle at about unchanged prices, but lambs were dearer. At the Manchester Pig market supplies were very heavy, and trade suffered in consequence. Choice lean pigs were in quiet consumptive demand, but fat or heavy baconers were practically unsaleable, some difficulty even being experienced in effecting a clearance of ten score pigs. At the Manchester Dead Meat market business throughout the week has been on the quiet side. Home-killed beef closed in buyers' favour, but lamb about unchanged. Imported also remained quietly steady.

Supplies of all descriptions of dead poultry have been plentiful, but trade quiet. Rabbits also in good supply, but weather conditions rather against business. Little change to record in game as compared with last week.

TROPICAL PRODUCE MARKET EASIER.

FROM OUR COMMERCIAL CORRESPONDENT.

LIVERPOOL, Saturday.

The tone in the Tropical Produce Market for the major part of the week was distinctly easier, and values moved in sympathy in most sections. Towards the end, however, the downward move ceased, partly because material was difficult to obtain at the rates then ruling, dealers showing no desire to offer, and also to an increased demand by the Continent for material. Values have tended upwards again, though, so far as palm oil is concerned, they show a loss of roughly 15s. per ton for spot, and 5s. to 7s. 6d. for forward positions. Spot softs to-day command £20 18s. 3d. to £21, against £21 5s. a week ago, while the ruling for forward material is £20 17s. 6d., after £20 8s. 9d. had been accepted earlier. Most of the business has been done to the Northern Continent, though home consumers became interested as the week advanced. Hard oils have been sought in small parcels, £21 5s. 6d. being paid for October-November shipment. Medium oil finished steadier, though the amount of business noted has been only small.

Palm kernels are some 8s. 9d. per ton cheaper on the week, though, as in the case of palm oil, the closing tendency is the best of the week, and values of September-October shipment have hardened to £10 6s. 3d., October-November to £10 7s. 6d., and November-December to £10 10s., after 2s. 6d. and 3s. 9d. less respectively had been taken. Hamburg has been largely interested in distant months. Hull consumers livened up towards the end, and spot material was actively sought at the increased rates. Copra, after a quiet start, took an upward turn, and shippers declined to trade at the level then ruling. Demand broadened, and sundried Straits November-December, sold to Rotterdam at £15 13s. 9d., after 2s. 6d. less money had been accepted. Marseilles was interested in mixed Dutch East Indies October-November position at £15 3s. 9d. and £15 6s. 3d.

Groundnuts have been a quiet market, with the tone at the close steady. Coromandel machined near-at-hand material eased 3s. 9d. to 5s. per ton, but to-day rates are steadier. For October material £11 18s. 9d. has been paid, November fetching £11 16s. 3d., December £11 13s. 9d., and January £11 13s. 9d.

Cottonseeds have continued more or less nominal. Brazilian in forward positions. Seed Oils—Cottonseed crushers offer at 27s. common edible, and 29s. deodorised net naked ex mills, compared with 29s. 6d. and 31s. 6d. a week ago. Linseed eased 2s., raw at 32s. 6d., and boiled on spot in barrels at 34s. 6d.

BEET GROWERS AND 1931 PRICES.

FACTORY DIRECTORS AND NEGOTIATIONS.

Mr. A. M. Fahy, Secretary of the Irish Sugar Beet Growers' Association, in the course of an interview with a representative of the Irish Times, stated that at a conference on the 2nd inst. between representatives of the Irish Sugar Manufacturing Company and the Beet Growers' Association, Ltd., the latter drew attention to their previous application, made at a conference on 21st July last, for the opening up of negotiations in regard to future contract price. They again urged that these negotiations should start without any further delay, as the Association's representatives considered such delay extremely detrimental to the growers' interests. The factory directors, however, declined to enter into any negotiations at present, and gave no intimation as to when they would discuss the matter.

At a subsequent meeting of the Committee of Management of the Association it was decided to advise farmers to refrain from making any application for acreage until such time as negotiations for future contract price have been concluded, as applications made for contracts before negotiations were concluded would handicap their representatives in their efforts to obtain a fair price.

At the conference it was agreed that, owing to the late harvest, the campaign this year would begin on the 3rd November, which date is a week later than last year.

PERMITS FOR REVOLVERS.

DISTRICT JUSTICE'S VIEW.

"Every time he meets me he pulls out a revolver," said Joseph Martin, Gurteengar, Lanesborough, at a Special Court in Longford, when making a complaint against Patrick Farrell, farmer, of the same district. Farrell and Martin had cases and cross-cases for assault on September 30.

Martin said that Farrell came up on a bicycle and beat him.

In cross-examination, Martin admitted that six years ago he fired at Farrell, and said that he threw the gun which he used on that occasion in a river. He had been given a suspensory sentence of eighteen months five years ago for wounding Farrell.

In cross-examination by Mr. Delany, solicitor, he said that Farrell lived on a farm which belonged to his (Martin's) uncle, and it was sold by the courts.

District Justice Kenny—When you threw away the gun did you think you had done Farrell?

Martin—I knew I had not.

Patrick Farrell's version of the occurrence on September 30 was that he was attacked by Martin, a brother of Martin's and a sister. Joseph Martin, he said, pulled him off his bicycle by the collar of his coat, beat him, and the whole party put him against a wall and searched him. He complained that he had been subject to much annoyance by the Martins, due to the fact that he now owned a farm which formerly belonged to their uncle, and he had been shot six years ago by Joseph Martin.

Justice Kenny, adjourning the cases until November 12th, said that if the revolver was given up it would solve the whole difficulty.

Mr. Delany—And if Martin would give up the gun he has.

Justice Kenny—If I had my way I would cancel all permits for revolvers.

Mr. Delany—It was at the suggestion of the President of the High Court that Farrell got the revolver after he was shot.

Justice Kenny—A lot of water has passed under the bridges since then. We ought to recognise that we have got stable government now, and that it is not necessary for civilians to be armed.

Mr. Farrell (Solicitor)—I certainly think that the carrying of a revolver is a danger to the whole community, and I hope that your remarks on the question will get wide publicity.

Justice Kenny—It is against the principle of government. The Guards are there to carry out the duty of preserving the peace, and the very fact of people having permits is an admission—it may be wrong, as I know it is—but it is an admission that they are not able to do so.

IRISH RED SETTER CLUB.

PRESENTATION TO MARQUIS OF WATERFORD.

At a meeting of the Irish Red Setter Club, held in Dublin on Friday last, Mr. Richardson presiding, it was decided to make a presentation to the Marquis of Waterford on the occasion of his marriage in London on the 14th inst.

The presentation takes the form of a Dublin-made silver salver, weighing 202 ounces, beautifully engraved.

Mr. John Homan presided.

Mr. James N. Dolan, T.D., Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister for Industry and Commerce, said that that meeting had been called to take stock of the result of the recent elections for the city and county of Dublin. They had been called there two weeks ago, and the organisation had asked them to cooperate with them to prevent the introduction of politics to the City and County Councils.

A CLEAR ANSWER.

"On that occasion," continued Mr. Dolan, "we put before you the necessity for our organisation to take serious note of the position and to enter whole-heartedly into the elections, not to secure the return of representatives pledged to stand by party in these Councils, but to meet and defeat the attempt of Fianna Fáil to secure control of the Dublin Corporation and of the Dublin County Council. You responded whole-heartedly to our appeal on that occasion, and I desire on behalf of the Standing Committee of Cumann na nGaedheal to congratulate you on the result. You met the organised attempt of Fianna Fáil, and have signally defeated them. We went in behind candidates who were pledged to keep politics out of these Councils, and we put before you the names of men and women who had been selected as standard-bearers for better business and clean administration in our local affairs, pledged to look after the interest of the people and pledged to keep all introduction of party politics out of the Council. The Fianna Fáil leaders have for some time been saying that the tide of public opinion was flowing with them in their big push to place Mr. de Valera in control of the destinies of our country. They have now got a clear, decisive answer from the electorate of the city and county of Dublin." (Applause.)

"FOOD FOR THOUGHT."

Dr. O'Higgins, T.D., said that in America their opponents had been talking about the Battle of Clontarf, but he would say that the victory last week in the Dublin elections was the biggest victory won in Ireland since the Battle of Clontarf. The result of that election gave food for thought, and showed the change that had taken place in the minds of the electors. It was the most thorough repudiation of a big political party that had ever occurred in the history of the world. He did not think that a party had fallen from such a powerful position to such a contemptuous position in so short a space of time as Fianna Fail had fallen in this election. Their position had been one of fifty-fifty a short time ago, and now it was in the neighbourhood of ten or fifteen per cent. The electors had struck one of the strongest blows for that city that had been struck for many a year.

THE LORD MAYORALTY.

The first task of the new Corporation, said Dr. O'Higgins, would be the election of a Lord Mayor, and Senator Alfred Byrne had been selected as the representative of that group for the position. If Senator Byrne had made any enemies he had made them by the work he had done for the poor of Dublin. Senator Byrne was one of the whitest men that ever walked around that city, and stood for justice for all men.

Mr. P. S. Doyle, T.D., said that one of Fianna Fail's chief spokesmen said before the election that the new City Council would be a reflex of what the Dail would be after the next general election. "I am sure," said Mr Doyle, "he would like to be able to withdraw this prophecy, but unfortunately it is a permanent record against him, and fully illustrates how little touch he and his colleagues have with the general body of the responsible electors in this country."

The municipal register had presented Fianna Fail with a negligible quota on the new City Council, and if the Parliamentary register were on the same basis Fianna Fail would be presented with a similarly negligible representation in the Dail. It was clear, therefore, that the thinking people as a body were behind the Constitutional movement, both in political and municipal affairs. The Constitutional Group represented the Constitutional movement on the City Council.

Dr. Hennessy, T.D., said that, as a result of the activities of Cumann na nGaedheal, they had succeeded in keeping politics out of public boards in the city and county.

Mrs. Collins O'Driscoll, T.D., suggested that the Government should launch some national scheme of development to relieve unemployment before the next general election.

Mr. Costello, Mr. Cahill, Mr. Henneberry and others also addressed the meeting.

LIKELY CANDIDATES.

At their inaugural meeting on the 14th inst. the newly-elected Dublin Corporation will elect a Lord Mayor. At least two candidates will be nominated for the position—Alderman Alfred Byrne and Alderman L. O'Neill, ex-Lord Mayor. Both are members of the Senate, and there is certain to be a full poll. The candidature of Alderman Byrne will be supported by the business men elected on the commercial register, by the Constitutional Group and by some of the Independents, and the indications are that he will be elected by a majority.

LORD JELLICOE'S VISIT TO BELFAST.

THE PROGRAMME.

The following is the programme in connection with Lord Jellicoe's visit to Belfast:

Sunday—Lord Jellicoe will join the 10.15 a.m. Belfast-Dublin train at Lisburn. It is expected that the Newry and Bessbrook branches will form a guard of honour at Bessbrook Station, where the train will stop for a few minutes.

CHESS.

MR. JUSTICE MEREDITH'S GIFT.

One of the most pleasing incidents of recent years in the Dublin chess world took place two days ago at the Dublin Chess Club, when Mr. Justice J. C. Meredith made a handsome presentation to the club in token of his interest in this unrivalled game of intellectual skill, and of his attachment to this body, of which he was formerly a member.

The valuable gift took the form of a standard set of Staunton chessmen, beautifully carved in solid ivory, accompanied by a match size inlaid chessboard. Ivory pieces turned in fanciful designs are no rarity, but a set including kings and queens, knights and bishops, carved in the same size and pattern as standard sets, must be unique in this country.

In the regretted, but unavoidable, absence of the President of the club, Mr. W. Moffat Wilson, Mr. Justice Meredith was received by Mr. Hobson, Vice-President, Mr. Cranston, Honorary Secretary, and Mr. McIlwaine, Honorary Treasurer, who made suitable acknowledgments of the generous donation on behalf of the members present and of the general body.

After the ceremony was over, the donor had the temerity to offer an Evans Gambit to Mr. J. J. O'Hanlon, who has so often vanquished not merely the best players in Ireland, but also leading Continental masters. This gift also was accepted, and in the field of chess Mr. O'Hanlon succeeded in reversing his opponent's judgment, a performance which in other venues is not always successful. Here, however, the difference was only apparent, for it is believed that his lordship's considered judgment sustained the line taken by Mr. O'Hanlon.

THE DUBLIN CITY COMMISSIONERS.

RIALTO BRIDGE SCHEME APPROVED.

At the meeting of the Dublin City Commissioners on Saturday last Mr. Seamus Murphy presided, and there were present Commissioners Dr. Dwyer and P. J. Hernon, with Mr. G. J. Sherlock, Town Clerk; Mr. Ignatius J. Rice, Law Agent; Mr. T. J. O'Neill, assistant to the Town Clerk, and Mr. Thomas Cahill, mace-bearer.

It was mentioned that the final public meeting of the Commissioners would be held next Saturday, and that their duties would be taken over by the new City Council, which will meet on the 14th inst.

A recommendation by Mr. Murphy in favour of widening and lowering Rialto Bridge was adopted. Three tenders for the execution of the work were received, and it was decided to accept that of the South of Ireland Asphalt Company at £5,621 16s. 9d.

It is intended to provide a thirty-foot carriage way at the approaches to the bridge, the total cost of which on completion is estimated at £8,153. The expenditure is to be defrayed out of the Road Improvement Fund.

STAFF CHANGES APPROVED.

In the Finance and General Purposes Section some staff changes were approved. Mr. James Scully has been promoted to the position of principal clerk in the City Treasurer's Department, with an inclusive salary of £600 per annum. Mr. Fred. T. Byrne was advanced to the position of rate collector, which was rendered vacant by the promotion of Mr. John J. Clinton. The initial salary is £500, rising by annual increments of £25 to £650 per annum. Mr. William Phillips is promoted to the position of first pay clerk, in succession to Mr. Scully, at the salary of £265, rising by annual increments of £15 to £400 per annum, plus cost of living bonus. Mr. P. A. Delaney, cashier in the Rates Section, is promoted to the rate collecting staff at an initial salary of £310, rising by annual increments of £15 to £400 per annum, plus cost of living bonus.

HOUSING SCHEMES.

In the Housing Section it was reported that the number of houses erected up to 31st March, 1929, by persons and public utility societies under the Housing Acts was 998, and the total amount disbursed by the Commissioners in grants since the passing of the Act of 1924 to the 31st March, 1929, was £70,262. The acquisition of the Cabra area, containing approximately 42 acres, was completed, and a contract for the construction of sewers and roads thereon was placed with Messrs. John Kenny and Son for the sum of £25,331. The site affords space for 641 four-roomed houses, and plans for the same were duly sanctioned by the Minister for Local Government. The Electricity Supply Board notified that they would lay electric cables and services in the Cabra and Donnycarney housing areas free of charge to the Corporation, and that the question of bearing the cost of similar services in future schemes would be considered by the Board when particulars of such future schemes were available.

The recommendation of Mr. Hernon that the salary of Dr. Brigid Lyons-Thornton, of the Public Health Department, be at the rate of £540 per annum, and that her scale salary otherwise remain unaltered, was adopted.

WAGES OF BUILDERS' LABOURERS.

TWO FIRMS INVOLVED IN STRIKE THREAT.

A general meeting of builders' labourers who are members of the Irish Transport and General Workers' Union was held in Liberty Hall, Dublin, yesterday. Mr. Harry Farren, chairman of the branch, presided.

The meeting was addressed by Mr. Thomas Kennedy and Senator Foran.

Reports were received from various building jobs in the city, and in no case was there any reduction of the standard rate of 1s. 4d. per hour.

Arrangements were made for calling a strike in the case of two employers where less than the standard rate of 1s. 4d. an hour is being paid. The number of men employed by these two firms is about one hundred, including tradesmen. The labourers employed by these firms will be called out on strike this morning unless a guarantee is given that the standard rate will be paid.

SECONDARY TEACHERS IN FREE STATE.

INCREMENTAL SALARIES REGULATIONS.

The rules for the payment of incremental salaries to secondary teachers made by the Free State Minister for Education, with the consent of the Minister for Finance, have just been issued, and will operate as from August, 1930.

Having given the usual official definitions, together with the rules for the determination of the teacher's position on the scale and the method of payment, the "rules" go on to say:—

"Incremental salary calculated on the length of approved teaching service may be paid to recognised teachers in secondary schools in accordance with these rules, but nothing therein shall be construed as conferring any right upon a secondary school teacher to receive such incremental salary, and every payment shall be at the absolute discretion of the Minister.

"A recognised teacher who is a member of the recognised staff of a primary school in receipt of financial aid from the Department shall not be eligible to receive incremental salary.

INCREMENTAL SCALES.

"The incremental salary to be paid to a recognised teacher in respect of any school year shall, subject to the conditions of these rules, be based on the total number of completed years of approved teaching service given by the teacher up to the last day of the previous school year, and shall be reckoned according to the following scales:—(a) Men: Ten annual increments of £12 each, and subsequently six annual increments of £15 each; (b) women: twelve annual increments of £10 each; and in addition two increments of £20 each in the case of men and women holding an honours degree (first or second class) of an Irish or a British University, or a University degree or diploma accepted by the Minister as equivalent thereto; one of these increments to accrue as from the first day of the quarter after registration has been definitely granted to the teacher or the degree has been conferred, whichever is the later, and the other at the end of the scale."

The conditions and regulations regarding the payment of grants to secondary schools in respect of the school year 1930-31 have been issued also.

IRISH PHILATELIC SOCIETY.

The Irish Philatelic Society held its annual general meeting at 5 Molesworth street, Mr. Kerr presiding. There was a large attendance of members. Mr. T. A. Fleming, Hon. Secretary, reported that the affairs of the Society were in a very satisfactory condition.

Mr. A. H. Davis was elected President for the ensuing year. Having thanked the members for his election, Mr. Davis drew attention to the brilliant successes of two of the Society's members, Dr. O'Connor and Dr. J. Stafford Johnson, in several Continental exhibitions, where they obtained one hundred per cent. of awards on their exhibits, being successful in Antwerp, Turin and Berlin.

Several important innovations were discussed and referred to committee, and a hearty vote of thanks was passed to the outgoing officers.

THE LATE MR. S. NICHOLSON.

The Rev. R. Lee Cole, B.D., conducted the Service, assisted by the Rev. W. B. Lumley, the Rev. J. A. Duke, B.A., and the Rev. J. M. Alley.

The chief mourners were:—Dr. Frank Nicholson (son), Sir Robert Woods (brother-in-law); Mr. Arthur H. Treanor and Mr. John Brown, jun. (sons-in-law); Dr. R. R. Woods and Mr. W. L. P. Woods (nephews).

Among the general public were:—The Rev. J. W. R. Campbell, Messrs. C. Towers, Harold P. Crawford, J. Armstrong-Brown, H. W. Stevens, G. H. Childe, W. P. Hinton, Alfred E. Walker, George A. H. Ferrall, W. I. Brown, J. V. Pasley, H. B. Hill, etc.

PUBLIC HEALTH REFORM.

RAPID ADVANCE IN FREE STATE.

Dr. Edward F. Stephenson, Chief Medical Adviser, Department of Local Government and Public Health, Dublin, contributes an article to this month's Journal of State Medicine, the official journal of the Royal Institute of Public Health (England), in which he describes the public health organisation in the Irish Free State, and from which we extract the following particulars:—

"All the essential health services, preventive and curative," he says, "are now assembled under the Department of Local Government and Public Health, and complete co-ordination is being effected in the central and local administration. Unlike England, Wales and Scotland, the medical inspection and treatment of school children is an integral part of public health administration, exercised by the County Board of Health and Borough Councils, under the control of the Department of Local Government and Public Health.

"The medical inspection of school children, and the action following upon it, form an important branch of public health work, and the placing of this service under the central health authority has facilitated the initiation and development of county health schemes.

"At the passing of the Act of 1925, with the exception of the Dublin County Borough, there was no whole-time Medical Officer of Health in the Irish Free State. It would be readily understood," says the doctor, "that the proposal to establish a new service with whole-time officials was not received with enthusiasm. The magnitude of the problem and the vagueness of its developments, as well as the adverse financial circumstances that prevailed in many counties, acted as deterrents at the outset. The progress of preventive medicine depends in a great measure on the enlightenment and education of the people, and it was realised by the central authority that before any material advance could be made in health reform, the public should be educated in the needs of the country. Moreover, it was foreseen that the success of the new system of public health administration would depend, to a great extent, on the proficiency and energy of the persons appointed to fill the position of County Medical Officer of Health. A campaign was inaugurated and steadily pursued through the medium of the Press and by direct communication with local authorities, dealing with the question from every point of view, showing the sanitary defects and unhealthy conditions that existed, the importance of protecting the meat and milk supplies, and the pressing call for the correction and treatment of the defects of the school child.

"The success of the educational campaign is shown to-day by the presence of fifteen whole-time County Medical Officers of Health in the Free State, by the steady development of the county health schemes, the progress of school medical service in the four county boroughs and in many counties, the special efforts that are being made in the eradication of endemic disease, and by the better supervision of the food supplies.

"Public health reform has advanced rapidly in the Free State, perhaps more so than in any other country; yet the health schemes are laid on solid foundations, capable of expansion on definite and systematic lines. Recent developments in Dublin include the appointment of a whole-time medical officer in charge of the maternity and child-welfare arrangements, and closer co-ordination with the great maternity hospitals of the city. A few years has seen a wonderful change in the public health organisation of Cork County Borough. One part-time official has been replaced by three whole-time permanent officials, i.e., a medical superintendent officer of health, an assistant and a school medical officer, with appropriate staffs. The school medical service is efficient and complete.

"Diphtheria immunisation schemes are in operation in Dublin and Cork, and the clinics are well attended. The veterinary staffs in Dublin, Cork and Limerick have been increased, and the supervision of the meat supplies is very thorough. In Waterford, also, arrangements are made for the examination and branding of meat before it can be sold in the city."

NORTHERN MINISTER AND EDUCATION.

NEW COUNTY ANTRIM SCHOOL OPENED.

The Northern Ireland Minister of Commerce (the Right Hon. J. Milne Barbour, D.L.), opening a new school at Dunmurry, County Antrim, said that when children got at the end of the compulsory school age, they should be educated in the idea that manual labour, or physical labour, was just as honourable, and afforded just as much scope as clerical labour. Then, at the end of the compulsory period, scholars should begin to branch out, and those who were going to follow manual labour should go to the technical school. He was thoroughly in favour of the secondary education, and also the admirable instruction given in their technical schools. While that school marked an immense advance on buildings provided in olden days, he did not think they should fail in remembering with gratitude what had been done for education by voluntary effort in days gone by.

Education was one of those instances in which the State and the individual came close together. The State was anxious on its part to have an intelligent, well-educated progressive people, who would be able, not only to support themselves, but also be able to contribute to the progress, well-being, and advancement of the Province as a whole. That was the interest of the State.

THE SCHOOL AGE.

Out of their population of 1,250,000, there were no fewer than 200,000 attending schools, which showed what large proportion of the population they were providing for when they were discussing the school age.

Some time ago, there were 932 pupils between the ages of three and four years of age on the rolls of the schools; 17,095 between the ages of four and six, and at the other extreme, 9,405 of fourteen years and over. Altogether, that meant there were over 27,000 pupils either under or over the school age of compulsory attendance.

Mr. J. H. Robb, K.C., M.P., Parliamentary Secretary to the Northern Ireland Ministry of Education, said that the presence of children, either under or over school age, did not involve the exclusion of children in the compulsory school age. His view was that where there was space in a school it was right that children should start early.

A WRONG TURNING.

As to clerical and manual labour, his opinion was that the ideas of the youth of the present, or the immediate past generation, had taken a wrong turning when they sought so much on concentrating in town, and working not at manual labour, but at clerical labour.

In his opinion a far greater majority would have been better employed in the country, in the fields, or in the workshops, doing manual labour rather than endeavouring to do the work of a clerk, or messenger, or other employment of that sort.

A NEW BROADCASTING STATION

FOR FREE STATE LISTENERS.

Steps are being taken for the erection of a central high-power broadcasting station for the Irish Free State. The venue has not yet been definitely selected, but it will be situated towards the centre of the Free State, probably at Athlone.

A contract for the work has been given to the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Co., Ltd., through Marconi (Ireland), Ltd., and the necessary equipment is at present being manufactured.

The station will be modelled on the lines of the British Broadcasting Corporation's regional stations, but it will be more powerful than Daventry station, and will be one of the most powerful stations in Europe.

The power of the station will be 60 kilowatts, and if it does not place the whole of the Free State within the range of crystal sets the Government will be able, with a minimum of expense, to remedy the defect by increasing the power by nearly a hundred per cent. if necessary.

A large part of the potato crop in the NENAGH district is reported as unfit for human food, while reports from Toomevara district go to show that half the crop in that area has gone bad, due to the wet weather.

A MAN CAN MOVE IN JAEGER!

- All the old pores breathe freely in light, soft Jaeger wool. One can sprint for the old nine-twenty—or work oneself into a magnificent fog—and still never feel wrapped-up. Jaeger wool, properly treated and woven, absorbs any amount of moisture—without getting close or clammy. Jaeger wool moulds itself to every line and gives to every movement. And all Jaeger underwear is replaced if it shrinks.

PREVENTION OF CRUELTY.

CERTIFICATES AND MEDALS FOR CIVIC GUARDS.

Certificates and medals, awarded by the Dublin Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals to eighteen members of the Dublin Metropolitan Guards, were distributed by Mr. Cussen, Senior District Justice, in the Dublin District Court on Saturday.

Mr. Cussen said that he could not recollect any single case where the Guards were not justified in their complaints of cruelty to animals. In every case where it was proved that an animal was suffering, and a dismissal was registered, such dismissal was either on technical grounds or by reason of extenuating circumstances. That fact, to his mind, furnished remarkable evidence of the efficient manner in which the Guards had discharged their duties, and was a circumstance in which the entire force might well feel proud. He thanked the Society for their kindness in presenting these medals and certificates, and said he knew that the Guards appreciated them.

Certificates and silver medals were awarded to Guards J. Heffron, Kevin street, and M. Towey, Bridewell; certificates and bronze medals to Guards J. Burgess, Newmarket; J. Keating, Fitzgibbon street, and M. Deane, Bridewell; and certificates to Inspector J. Curran, Newmarket; Inspector T. Maher, Store street, and Guards J. Broaders, Kevin street; M. Murray, Kilmainham; H. McDonald, College; M. Byrne, Fitzgibbon street; W. J. Kirwan, Fitzgibbon street; W. J. Walsh (168D), J. Louth, Irishtown; S. Johnston, Irishtown; J. Lee, Irishtown; P. Clarke, Mountjoy, and R. Whelan, College.

Miss Hillas, honorary secretary of the Society, thanked Mr. Cussen for distributing the awards.

Inspector Maher, on behalf of the Guards, also thanked Mr. Cussen. He said that the Guards always had endeavoured to perform their duty in preventing cruelty to animals. Thanking the Society, he said that their action was very much appreciated by the whole force, and he could assure the Society that the Guards would earnestly and unceasingly endeavour to prevent any unkind or inconsiderate treatment of animals.

COCKER SPANIEL SHOW.

SUCCESSFUL FIXTURE IN DUBLIN.

RETRIEVING TESTS.

For the inaugural Show of the Cocker Spaniel Club of Ireland, held on Saturday in Messrs. Goff's premises, Lower Mount street, Dublin, two Green Stars were offered by the Irish Kennel Club, and there was an excellent classification. Mrs. Scott Moore undertook the Secretaryship of the Show, and worked so hard in connection with the meeting that 30 entries were received, dogs coming from all parts of Ireland.

A very interesting event was the retrieving test, which was judged by Dr. Dawson, Newtown Hamilton, the well-known field trial enthusiast. The benched cockers were judged by Lieutenant-Colonel Kiffin, and the veterinary surgeons were Messrs. W. Brown and H. O'Leary, who declared a clean bill of health. The blue roans made an imposing display, while there were also some good blacks. Miss Fagan, Castlepollard, showed a liver bitch, which not only won in her class, but was placed in the other colours.

The President of the Club is the Rev. Brother Ryan, while the Show Committee comprised Miss Fagan, Mrs. Rathborne, Mr. J. A. Carbery, and Mrs. Scott Moore.

Mr. E. Lindsay's (Roscrea) Rosemount Snooker won the green star for dogs, while Mr. W. McCausland, Belfast, won the green star for bitches with Melfort Magpie, which also won the miniature cup for best Cocker Spaniel in show, a special for best Cocker bred in Ireland, and the Lloyd special.

Patrick O'Grady, farmer, who, while cycling to his farm at PALLASKENRY, Co. Limerick, last Tuesday, received serious injuries when he came into collision with a motor car, died in the County Hospital, Croom, last Saturday.

BEET GROWERS AND 1931 PRICES.

FACTORY DIRECTORS AND NEGOTIATIONS.

Mr. A. M. Fahy, Secretary of the Irish Sugar Beet Growers' Association, in the course of an interview with a representative of the Irish Times, stated that at a conference on the 2nd inst. between representatives of the Irish Sugar Manufacturing Company and the Beet Growers' Association, Ltd., the latter drew attention to their previous application, made at a conference on 21st July last, for the opening up of negotiations in regard to future contract price. They again urged that these negotiations should start without any further delay, as the Association's representatives considered such delay extremely detrimental to the growers' interests. The factory directors, however, declined to enter into any negotiations at present, and gave no intimation as to when they would discuss the matter.

At a subsequent meeting of the Committee of Management of the Association it was decided to advise farmers to refrain from making any application for acreage until such time as negotiations for future contract price have been concluded, as applications made for contracts before negotiations were concluded would handicap their representatives in their efforts to obtain a fair price.

At the conference it was agreed that, owing to the late harvest, the campaign this year would begin on the 3rd November, which date is a week later than last year.

PERMITS FOR REVOLVERS.

DISTRICT JUSTICE'S VIEW.

"Every time he meets me he pulls out a revolver," said Joseph Martin, Gurteengar, Lanesborough, at a Special Court in Longford, when making a complaint against Patrick Farrell, farmer, of the same district. Farrell and Martin had cases and cross-cases for assault on September 30.

Martin said that Farrell came up on a bicycle and beat him.

In cross-examination, Martin admitted that six years ago he fired at Farrell, and said that he threw the gun which he used on that occasion in a river. He had been given a suspensory sentence of eighteen months five years ago for wounding Farrell.

In cross-examination by Mr. Delany, solicitor, he said that Farrell lived on a farm which belonged to his (Martin's) uncle, and it was sold by the courts.

District Justice Kenny—When you threw away the gun did you think you had done Farrell?

Martin—I knew I had not.

Patrick Farrell's version of the occurrence on September 30 was that he was attacked by Martin, a brother of Martin's and a sister. Joseph Martin, he said, pulled him off his bicycle by the collar of his coat, beat him, and the whole party put him against a wall and searched him. He complained that he had been subject to much annoyance by the Martins, due to the fact that he now owned a farm which formerly belonged to their uncle, and he had been shot six years ago by Joseph Martin.

Justice Kenny, adjourning the cases until November 12th, said that if the revolver was given up it would solve the whole difficulty.

Mr. Delany—And if Martin would give up the gun he has.

Justice Kenny—If I had my way I would cancel all permits for revolvers.

Mr. Delany—It was at the suggestion of the President of the High Court that Farrell got the revolver after he was shot.

Justice Kenny—A lot of water has passed under the bridges since then. We ought to recognise that we have got stable government now, and that it is not necessary for civilians to be armed.

Mr. Farrell (Solicitor)—I certainly think that the carrying of a revolver is a danger to the whole community, and I hope that your remarks on the question will get wide publicity.

Justice Kenny—It is against the principle of government. The Guards are there to carry out the duty of preserving the peace, and the very fact of people having permits is an admission—it may be wrong, as I know it is—but it is an admission that they are not able to do so.

IRISH RED SETTER CLUB.

PRESENTATION TO MARQUIS OF WATERFORD.

At a meeting of the Irish Red Setter Club, held in Dublin on Friday last, Mr. Richardson presiding, it was decided to make a presentation to the Marquis of Waterford on the occasion of his marriage in London on the 14th inst.

The presentation takes the form of a Dublin-made silver salver, weighing 202 ounces, beautifully engraved.

DUBLIN LORD MAYORALTY.

SENATOR A. BYRNE A CANDIDATE.

CONSTITUTIONAL GROUP'S CHOICE.

A meeting of the North City Executive of Cumann na nGaedheal was held at 5 Parnell square, Dublin, on Saturday night.

Mr. John Homan presided.

Mr. James N. Dolan, T.D., Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister for Industry and Commerce, said that that meeting had been called to take stock of the result of the recent elections for the city and county of Dublin. They had been called there two weeks ago, and the organisation had asked them to co-operate with them to prevent the introduction of politics to the City and County Councils.

A CLEAR ANSWER.

"On that occasion," continued Mr. Dolan, "we put before you the necessity for our organisation to take serious note of the position and to enter whole-heartedly into the elections, not to secure the return of representatives pledged to stand by party in these Councils, but to meet and defeat the attempt of Fianna Fáil to secure control of the Dublin Corporation and of the Dublin County Council. You responded whole-heartedly to our appeal on that occasion, and I desire on behalf of the Standing Committee of Cumann na nGaedheal to congratulate you on the result. You met the organised attempt of Fianna Fáil, and have signally defeated them. We went in behind candidates who were pledged to keep politics out of these Councils, and we put before you the names of men and women who had been selected as standard-bearers for better business and clean administration in our local affairs, pledged to look after the interest of the people and pledged to keep all introduction of party politics out of the Council. The Fianna Fáil leaders have for some time been saying that the tide of public opinion was flowing with them in their big push to place Mr. de Valera in control of the destinies of our country. They have now got a clear, decisive answer from the electorate of the city and county of Dublin." (Applause.)

"FOOD FOR THOUGHT."

Dr. O'Higgins, T.D., said that in America their opponents had been talking about the Battle of Clontarf, but he would say that the victory last week in the Dublin elections was the biggest victory won in Ireland since the Battle of Clontarf. The result of that election gave food for thought, and showed the change that had taken place in the minds of the electors. It was the most thorough repudiation of a big political party that had ever occurred in the history of the world. He did not think that a party had fallen from such a powerful position to such a contemptuous position in so short a space of time as Fianna Fail had fallen in this election. Their position had been one of fifty-fifty a short time ago, and now it was in the neighbourhood of ten or fifteen per cent. The electors had struck one of the strongest blows for that city that had been struck for many a year.

THE LORD MAYORALTY.

The first task of the new Corporation, said Dr. O'Higgins, would be the election of a Lord Mayor, and Senator Alfred Byrne had been selected as the representative of that group for the position. If Senator Byrne had made any enemies he had made them by the work he had done for the poor of Dublin. Senator Byrne was one of the whitest men that ever walked around that city, and stood for justice for all men.

Mr. P. S. Doyle, T.D., said that one of Fianna Fail's chief spokesmen said before the election that the new City Council would be a reflex of what the Dail would be after the next general election. "I am sure," said Mr Doyle, "he would like to be able to withdraw this prophecy, but unfortunately it is a permanent record against him, and fully illustrates how little touch he and his colleagues have with the general body of the responsible electors in this country."

The municipal register had presented Fianna Fail with a negligible quota on the new City Council, and if the Parliamentary register were on the same basis Fianna Fail would be presented with a similarly negligible representation in the Dail. It was clear, therefore, that the thinking people as a body were behind the Constitutional movement, both in political and municipal affairs. The Constitutional Group represented the Constitutional movement on the City Council.

Dr. Hennessy, T.D., said that, as a result of the activities of Cumann na nGaedheal, they had succeeded in keeping politics out of public boards in the city and county.

Mrs. Collins O'Driscoll, T.D., suggested that the Government should launch some national scheme of development to relieve unemployment before the next general election.

Mr. Costello, Mr. Cahill, Mr. Henneberry and others also addressed the meeting.

LIKELY CANDIDATES.

At their inaugural meeting on the 14th inst. the newly-elected Dublin Corporation will elect a Lord Mayor. At least two candidates will be nominated for the position—Alderman Alfred Byrne and Alderman L. O'Neill, ex-Lord Mayor. Both are members of the Senate, and there is certain to be a full poll. The candidature of Alderman Byrne will be supported by the business men elected on the commercial register, by the Constitutional Group and by some of the Independents, and the indications are that he will be elected by a majority.

LORD JELLICOE'S VISIT TO BELFAST.

THE PROGRAMME.

The following is the programme in connection with Lord Jellicoe's visit to Belfast:

Friday, October 10—Arrive Larne Harbour, 8.35 a.m.; arrive York road, 9.30 a.m. Visit ex-Service men's houses, Whiteabbey, 11 a.m. Lord Mayor's luncheon, City Hall, 1 p.m. British Legion Conference, 3 p.m. British Legion dinner, Grand Central, 6.30 p.m. Meeting Legion, Y.M.C.A., 8 p.m.

Saturday—Lord Jellicoe will visit Hillsborough Branch of the British Legion, arriving about 10.30 a.m., and remaining for half-an-hour, after which he will go to Lisburn to inspect the branch there. The afternoon will be spent with the Governor of Northern Ireland at Hillsborough Castle.

Sunday—Lord Jellicoe will join the 10.15 a.m. Belfast-Dublin train at Lisburn. It is expected that the Newry and Bessbrook branches will form a guard of honour at Bessbrook Station, where the train will stop for a few minutes.

CHESS.

MR. JUSTICE MEREDITH'S GIFT.

One of the most pleasing incidents of recent years in the Dublin chess world took place two days ago at the Dublin Chess Club, when Mr. Justice J. C. Meredith made a handsome presentation to the club in token of his interest in this unrivalled game of intellectual skill, and of his attachment to this body, of which he was formerly a member.

The valuable gift took the form of a standard set of Staunton chessmen, beautifully carved in solid ivory, accompanied by a match size inlaid chessboard. Ivory pieces turned in fanciful designs are no rarity, but a set including kings and queens, knights and bishops, carved in the same size and pattern as standard sets, must be unique in this country.

In the regretted, but unavoidable, absence of the President of the club, Mr. W. Moffat Wilson, Mr. Justice Meredith was received by Mr. Hobson, Vice-President, Mr. Cranston, Honorary Secretary, and Mr. McIlwaine, Honorary Treasurer, who made suitable acknowledgments of the generous donation on behalf of the members present and of the general body.

After the ceremony was over, the donor had the temerity to offer an Evans Gambit to Mr. J. J. O'Hanlon, who has so often vanquished not merely the best players in Ireland, but also leading Continental masters. This gift also was accepted, and in the field of chess Mr. O'Hanlon succeeded in reversing his opponent's judgment, a performance which in other venues is not always successful. Here, however, the difference was only apparent, for it is believed that his lordship's considered judgment sustained the line taken by Mr. O'Hanlon.

BERMALINE BREAD, DIGESTIVE.—(Advt.)

THE DUBLIN CITY COMMISSIONERS.

RIALTO BRIDGE SCHEME APPROVED.

At the meeting of the Dublin City Commissioners on Saturday last Mr. Seamus Murphy presided, and there were present Commissioners Dr. Dwyer and P. J. Hernon, with Mr. G. J. Sherlock, Town Clerk; Mr. Ignatius J. Rice, Law Agent; Mr. T. J. O'Neill, assistant to the Town Clerk, and Mr. Thomas Cahill, mace-bearer.

It was mentioned that the final public meeting of the Commissioners would be held next Saturday, and that their duties would be taken over by the new City Council, which will meet on the 14th inst.

A recommendation by Mr. Murphy in favour of widening and lowering Rialto Bridge was adopted. Three tenders for the execution of the work were received, and it was decided to accept that of the South of Ireland Asphalt Company at £5,621 16s. 9d.

It is intended to provide a thirty-foot carriage way at the approaches to the bridge, the total cost of which on completion is estimated at £8,153. The expenditure is to be defrayed out of the Road Improvement Fund.

STAFF CHANGES APPROVED.

In the Finance and General Purposes Section some staff changes were approved. Mr. James Scully has been promoted to the position of principal clerk in the City Treasurer's Department, with an inclusive salary of £600 per annum. Mr. Fred. T. Byrne was advanced to the position of rate collector, which was rendered vacant by the promotion of Mr. John J. Clinton. The initial salary is £500, rising by annual increments of £25 to £650 per annum. Mr. William Phillips is promoted to the position of first pay clerk, in succession to Mr. Scully, at the salary of £265, rising by annual increments of £15 to £400 per annum, plus cost of living bonus. Mr. P. A. Delaney, cashier in the Rates Section, is promoted to the rate collecting staff at an initial salary of £310, rising by annual increments of £15 to £400 per annum, plus cost of living bonus.

HOUSING SCHEMES.

In the Housing Section it was reported that the number of houses erected up to 31st March, 1929, by persons and public utility societies under the Housing Acts was 998, and the total amount disbursed by the Commissioners in grants since the passing of the Act of 1924 to the 31st March, 1929, was £70,262. The acquisition of the Cabra area, containing approximately 42 acres, was completed, and a contract for the construction of sewers and roads thereon was placed with Messrs. John Kenny and Son for the sum of £25,331. The site affords space for 641 four-roomed houses, and plans for the same were duly sanctioned by the Minister for Local Government. The Electricity Supply Board notified that they would lay electric cables and services in the Cabra and Donnycarney housing areas free of charge to the Corporation, and that the question of bearing the cost of similar services in future schemes would be considered by the Board when particulars of such future schemes were available.

The recommendation of Mr. Hernon that the salary of Dr. Brigid Lyons-Thornton, of the Public Health Department, be at the rate of £540 per annum, and that her scale salary otherwise remain unaltered, was adopted.

WAGES OF BUILDERS' LABOURERS.

TWO FIRMS INVOLVED IN STRIKE THREAT.

A general meeting of builders' labourers who are members of the Irish Transport and General Workers' Union was held in Liberty Hall, Dublin, yesterday. Mr. Harry Farren, chairman of the branch, presided.

The meeting was addressed by Mr. Thomas Kennedy and Senator Foran.

Reports were received from various building jobs in the city, and in no case was there any reduction of the standard rate of 1s. 4d. per hour.

Arrangements were made for calling a strike in the case of two employers where less than the standard rate of 1s. 4d. an hour is being paid. The number of men employed by these two firms is about one hundred, including tradesmen. The labourers employed by these firms will be called out on strike this morning unless a guarantee is given that the standard rate will be paid.

SECONDARY TEACHERS IN FREE STATE.

INCREMENTAL SALARIES REGULATIONS.

The rules for the payment of incremental salaries to secondary teachers made by the Free State Minister for Education, with the consent of the Minister for Finance, have just been issued, and will operate as from August, 1930.

Having given the usual official definitions, together with the rules for the determination of the teacher's position on the scale and the method of payment, the "rules" go on to say:—

"Incremental salary calculated on the length of approved teaching service may be paid to recognised teachers in secondary schools in accordance with these rules, but nothing therein shall be construed as conferring any right upon a secondary school teacher to receive such incremental salary, and every payment shall be at the absolute discretion of the Minister.

"A recognised teacher who is a member of the recognised staff of a primary school in receipt of financial aid from the Department shall not be eligible to receive incremental salary.

INCREMENTAL SCALES.

"The incremental salary to be paid to a recognised teacher in respect of any school year shall, subject to the conditions of these rules, be based on the total number of completed years of approved teaching service given by the teacher up to the last day of the previous school year, and shall be reckoned according to the following scales:—(a) Men: Ten annual increments of £12 each, and subsequently six annual increments of £15 each; (b) women: twelve annual increments of £10 each; and in addition two increments of £20 each in the case of men and women holding an honours degree (first or second class) of an Irish or a British University, or a University degree or diploma accepted by the Minister as equivalent thereto; one of these increments to accrue as from the first day of the quarter after registration has been definitely granted to the teacher or the degree has been conferred, whichever is the later, and the other at the end of the scale."

The conditions and regulations regarding the payment of grants to secondary schools in respect of the school year 1930-31 have been issued also.

IRISH PHILATELIC SOCIETY.

The Irish Philatelic Society held its annual general meeting at 5 Molesworth street, Mr. Kerr presiding. There was a large attendance of members. Mr. T. A. Fleming, Hon. Secretary, reported that the affairs of the Society were in a very satisfactory condition.

Mr. A. H. Davis was elected President for the ensuing year. Having thanked the members for his election, Mr. Davis drew attention to the brilliant successes of two of the Society's members, Dr. O'Connor and Dr. J. Stafford Johnson, in several Continental exhibitions, where they obtained one hundred per cent. of awards on their exhibits, being successful in Antwerp, Turin and Berlin.

Several important innovations were discussed and referred to committee, and a hearty vote of thanks was passed to the outgoing officers.

THE LATE MR. S. NICHOLSON.

The Rev. R. Lee Cole, B.D., conducted the Service, assisted by the Rev. W. B. Lumley, the Rev. J. A. Duke, B.A., and the Rev. J. M. Alley.

Among the general public were:—The Rev. J. W. R. Campbell, Messrs. C. Towers, Harold P. Crawford, J. Armstrong-Brown, H. W. Stevens, G. H. Childe, W. P. Hinton, Alfred E. Walker, George A. PUBLIC HEALTH REFORM.

RAPID ADVANCE IN FREE STATE.

Dr. Edward F. Stephenson, Chief Medical Adviser, Department of Local Government and Public Health, Dublin, contributes an article to this month's Journal of State Medicine, the official journal of the Royal Institute of Public Health (England), in which he describes the public health organisation in the Irish Free State, and from which we extract the following particulars:—

"All the essential health services, preventive and curative," he says, "are now assembled under the Department of Local Government and Public Health, and complete co-ordination is being effected in the central and local administration. Unlike England, Wales and Scotland, the medical inspection and treatment of school children is an integral part of public health administration, exercised by the County Board of Health and Borough Councils, under the control of the Department of Local Government and Public Health.

"The medical inspection of school children, and the action following upon it, form an important branch of public health work, and the placing of this service under the central health authority has facilitated the initiation and development of county health schemes.

"At the passing of the Act of 1925, with the exception of the Dublin County Borough, there was no whole-time Medical Officer of Health in the Irish Free State. It would be readily understood," says the doctor, "that the proposal to establish a new service with whole-time officials was not received with enthusiasm. The magnitude of the problem and the vagueness of its developments, as well as the adverse financial circumstances that prevailed in many counties, acted as deterrents at the outset. The progress of preventive medicine depends in a great measure on the enlightenment and education of the people, and it was realised by the central authority that before any material advance could be made in health reform, the public should be educated in the needs of the country. Moreover, it was foreseen that the success of the new system of public health administration would depend, to a great extent, on the proficiency and energy of the persons appointed to fill the position of County Medical Officer of Health. A campaign was inaugurated and steadily pursued through the medium of the Press and by direct communication with local authorities, dealing with the question from every point of view, showing the sanitary defects and unhealthy conditions that existed, the importance of protecting the meat and milk supplies, and the pressing call for the correction and treatment of the defects of the school child.

"The success of the educational campaign is shown to-day by the presence of fifteen whole-time County Medical Officers of Health in the Free State, by the steady development of the county health schemes, the progress of school medical service in the four county boroughs and in many counties, the special efforts that are being made in the eradication of endemic disease, and by the better supervision of the food supplies.

"Public health reform has advanced rapidly in the Free State, perhaps more so than in any other country; yet the health schemes are laid on solid foundations, capable of expansion on definite and systematic lines. Recent developments in Dublin include the appointment of a whole-time medical officer in charge of the maternity and child-welfare arrangements, and closer co-ordination with the great maternity hospitals of the city. A few years has seen a wonderful change in the public health organisation of Cork County Borough. One part-time official has been replaced by three whole-time permanent officials, i.e., a medical superintendent officer of health, an assistant and a school medical officer, with appropriate staffs. The school medical service is efficient and complete.

"Diphtheria immunisation schemes are in operation in Dublin and Cork, and the clinics are well attended. The veterinary staffs in Dublin, Cork and Limerick have been increased, and the supervision of the meat supplies is very thorough. In Waterford, also, arrangements are made for the examination and branding of meat before it can be sold in the city."

NORTHERN MINISTER AND EDUCATION.

NEW COUNTY ANTRIM SCHOOL OPENED.

The Northern Ireland Minister of Commerce (the Right Hon. J. Milne Barbour, D.L.), opening a new school at Dunmurry, County Antrim, said that when children got at the end of the compulsory school age, they should be educated in the idea that manual labour, or physical labour, was just as honourable, and afforded just as much scope as clerical labour. Then, at the end of the compulsory period, scholars should begin to branch out, and those who were going to follow manual labour should go to the technical school. He was thoroughly in favour of the secondary education, and also the admirable instruction given in their technical schools. While that school marked an immense advance on buildings provided in olden days, he did not think they should fail in remembering with gratitude what had been done for education by voluntary effort in days gone by.

Education was one of those instances in which the State and the individual came close together. The State was anxious on its part to have an intelligent, well-educated progressive people, who would be able, not only to support themselves, but also be able to contribute to the progress, well-being, and advancement of the Province as a whole. That was the interest of the State.

THE SCHOOL AGE.

Out of their population of 1,250,000, there were no fewer than 200,000 attending schools, which showed what large proportion of the population they were providing for when they were discussing the school age.

Some time ago, there were 932 pupils between the ages of three and four years of age on the rolls of the schools; 17,095 between the ages of four and six, and at the other extreme, 9,405 of fourteen years and over. Altogether, that meant there were over 27,000 pupils either under or over the school age of compulsory attendance.

Mr. J. H. Robb, K.C., M.P., Parliamentary Secretary to the Northern Ireland Ministry of Education, said that the presence of children, either under or over school age, did not involve the exclusion of children in the compulsory school age. His view was that where there was space in a school it was right that children should start early.

A WRONG TURNING.

As to clerical and manual labour, his opinion was that the ideas of the youth of the present, or the immediate past generation, had taken a wrong turning when they sought so much on concentrating in town, and working not at manual labour, but at clerical labour.

In his opinion a far greater majority would have been better employed in the country, in the fields, or in the workshops, doing manual labour rather than endeavouring to do the work of a clerk, or messenger, or other employment of that sort.

A NEW BROADCASTING STATION

FOR FREE STATE LISTENERS.

Steps are being taken for the erection of a central high-power broadcasting station for the Irish Free State. The venue has not yet been definitely selected, but it will be situated towards the centre of the Free State, probably at Athlone.

A contract for the work has been given to the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Co., Ltd., through Marconi (Ireland), Ltd., and the necessary equipment is at present being manufactured.

The station will be modelled on the lines of the British Broadcasting Corporation's regional stations, but it will be more powerful than Daventry station, and will be one of the most powerful stations in Europe.

The power of the station will be 60 kilowatts, and if it does not place the whole of the Free State within the range of crystal sets the Government will be able, with a minimum of expense, to remedy the defect by increasing the power by nearly a hundred per cent. if necessary.

A large part of the potato crop in the NENAGH district is reported as unfit for human food, while reports from Toomevara district go to show that half the crop in that area has gone bad, due to the wet weather.

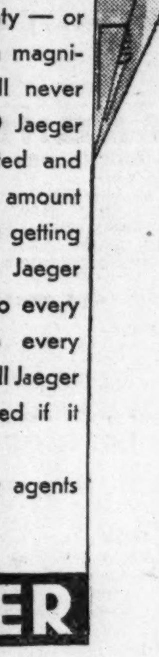
A MAN CAN MOVE IN JAEGER!



● All the old pores breathe freely in light, soft Jaeger wool. One can sprint for the old nine-twenty—or work oneself into a magnificent fag—and still never feel wrapped-up. ● Jaeger wool, properly treated and woven, absorbs any amount of moisture—without getting close or clammy. Jaeger wool moulds itself to every line and gives to every movement. ● And all Jaeger underwear is replaced if it shrinks. ● There are Jaeger agents in every town.

PREVENTION OF CRUELTY.

CERTIFICATES AND MEDALS FOR CIVIC GUARDS.

Certificates and medals, awarded by the Dublin Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals to eighteen members of the Dublin Metropolitan Guards, were distributed by Mr. Cussen, Senior District Justice, in the Dublin District Court on Saturday.

Mr. Cussen said that he could not recollect any single case where the Guards were not justified in their complaints of cruelty to animals. In every case where it was proved that an animal was suffering, and a dismissal was registered, such dismissal was either on technical grounds or by reason of extenuating circumstances. That fact, to his mind, furnished remarkable evidence of the efficient manner in which the Guards had discharged their duties, and was a circumstance in which the entire force might well feel proud. He thanked the Society for their kindness in presenting these medals and certificates, and said he knew that the Guards appreciated them.

Certificates and silver medals were awarded to Guards J. Heffron, Kevin street, and M. Towey, Bridewell; certificates and bronze medals to Guards J. Burgess, Newmarket; J. Keating, Fitzgibbon street, and M. Deane, Bridewell; and certificates to Inspector J. Curran, Newmarket; Inspector T. Maher, Store street, and Guards J. Broaders, Kevin street; M. Murray, Kilmainham; H. McDonald, College; M. Byrne, Fitzgibbon street; W. J. Kirwan, Fitzgibbon street; W. J. Walsh (168D), J. Louth, Irishtown; S. Johnston, Irishtown; J. Lee, Irishtown; P. Clarke, Mountjoy, and R. Whelan, College.

Miss Hillas, honorary secretary of the Society, thanked Mr. Cussen for distributing the awards.

Inspector Maher, on behalf of the Guards, also thanked Mr. Cussen. He said that the Guards always had endeavoured to perform their duty in preventing cruelty to animals. Thanking the Society, he said that the action was one which would assist the whole force, and he could assure the Society that the Guards would earnestly and unceasingly endeavour to prevent any act of inconsiderate treatment of animals.
